Some Well Sources Are Contaminated, Word at Board's Meet

(Continued from Page 1) people are putting in wells to save buying our water. It's more important to be sure our water's safe than to save someone a few dollars in water bills."

Van Patten said certain business concerns such as dairies claimed to need well water for their cooling systems because city water was too high in temperature.

"Then let them connect their wells to a separate system," Commissioner Rickman declared.

Special Meeting of Commission Likely

Rostein said a special meeting would be called if necessary to study the problem further.

Little other business of importance was considered by the commission. Payment of $300 to William McGeheest, Jr. for his services in negotiating options and land purchase in connection with test well drillings and securing the Stapon island supply site was authorized along with payment of other bills aggregating $2960.06.

The commission delayed ordering an audit of the water department operations from August 1, 1935, to June 30, 1936, until the full membership was present. The state department auditing division submitted a top estimate of $200 as cost of the account checking.

Zioncheck Home, Seeks Seclusion

His mother, Mrs. Frances Zioncheck, who collapsed two days ago on the porch of their home and was taken to the sanitarium, greeted him there. Afflicted with high blood pressure, she has been in an enfeebled condition several months.

"My wife's arrival on the train was the biggest surprise I expect to have," the strongly built, bare-headed Zioncheck said. "That was a reunion."

"They lied to my wife and poisoned her mind against me."

Investigation Into Drowning of Otto Person and Alleged Laxity of Pool Lifesaver Starts, Silverton

SILVERTON, July 3.—Because Dr. J. G. Crafts publicly criticized the manner in which local officials acted at the drowning of Otto Person last Sunday afternoon in the city park and suggested "that the present lifeguard be discharged," a thorough investigation is being made of the affair.

Dr. Crafts enumerates his criticism in four points, prefacing them by saying he was "reliably informed":

"The paid lifeguard on duty at the call for help of the drowner, went into the bathhouse to change from his civilian clothes to a bathing suit before attempting to save the drowning man."

"That a bystander went all the way into town to phone for the pulmotor, instead of telephoning from the nearest available house."

"That when the pulmotor arrived, it was kept on the scene for 20 minutes without being opened or used, and then returned to its repository."

"That the first aid given the body was rubbing of the legs."

Members of the fire department report that the call for help was received at 5:15 p. m. and that they were in the park a very few minutes later and that the pulmotor was working at once.

Suspect Arrested In Triple Slaying

Mortenson confessed, said Erickson, that jealousy over his wife drove him to distraction. He is her sixth husband, he said.

Excerpts from the prisoner's alleged confession:

"We were married three months ago at Salt Lake City. Since then I have been supporting her parents and her grandmother—to say nothing of my own three children and my wife's daughter. I gave them $400 since January 1. Then Grace left me two weeks ago."

At Ogden, Mrs. Mortenson, naming her husband as the slayer of three persons, told police her husband drank to excess and that she fled to her parents from Salt Lake City.

Mickey Mouse Club Notes

HELLO! Mousers, how is the Fourth by this time??? Having a load of fun??? Well, "you haven't seen anything yet" until you've seen our Mickey Mouse Matinee program for this great day of celebration.

M.M.C. OH Yes, this is "Scotty" the stooge sending out this general alarm for all mouse members to gather at the Elsinore today at 1 p. m. for the time of their lives as well as the biggest and best Fourth of July program ever. The stage and screen bill is a knockout—in fact it is a super-colossal, tremendous, gigantic, titanic, and darn fine. . . .

M.M.C. HAL and Dean and Myself have been working hard all week on this stage program and we have a great bill lined up. . . . For instance, Hollis Jobe singing a clever popular song. . . . Raymond Ramseyer, of Ed Cheney's tap school. . . . Jimmy Phelps, Ted Stitt, Chuck Bier, Herman Domagolla in a music bit. . . . Rayans dance school. . . . "Fos" Foster and the rats in a special band number. . . . Surprises. . . .

M.M.C. ON the screen is a great bill . . . the special feature being Gene Autry in "SINGING VAGABOND." Chapter 11 of "FLASH GORDON," and the regular feature is "Thin-Man" Powell and Jean Arthur in "THE EX MRS. BRADFORD" . . .

M.M.C. LAST Saturday's program was a wow in every sense of the word. . . . Wayne Muse, the Mier Sisters, Frank's Little Wranglers, "Fos" and his rats. . . . They all went over like a million and every one was well pleased. . . .

M.M.C. WOW!! Another rehearsal about now so I'd better scram and call it a day. . . . See you at 1:00. "SCOTTY" (The Stooge).

Fairground to See Big Crowd

Children's Sports, Auto Races, Fireworks Are Some Highlights

(Continued from Page 1) grounds starting at 7:15 o'clock this morning when the American Legion show gets under way. Although clouds threatened occasional showers during the day, a large turnout was being predicted by committees in charge of the celebration.

A sports program for boys, under the direction of Oliver Huston, will lead off the day's events. A special feature of the early morning program will be the Bartenders' race, which is limited to Legion men.

State Commander of Legion Speaker At 1 o'clock the Boy Scouts will raise the flag as the patriotic program starts in the grandstand. George Koehn, department Legion commander, will give the principal address. Mayor V. E. Kuhn will represent the city administration on the program. Mrs. Leon Brown will read the Declaration of Independence.

Trial heats for the auto races, both midget and large cars, will start at 1:15 o'clock. The races will begin at 2:30 o'clock. In the evening a 10 act vaudeville show will be presented in front of the grandstand under the direction of Monte Brooks. A fireworks spectacle will light the sky at 9 o'clock. The day's celebration will close with a carnival dance under the grandstand with hats, and noise makers to make the affair gay.

Admission to the grounds is free and arrangements have been made for the parking of automobiles. Townsend picnic to be held in Grove

The second annual Townsend picnic will be held in the grove during the day. Outstanding speakers are to appear on the program and a special old time fiddlers' contest has been arranged. Dr. H. C. Epley's Townsend chorus will sing.

During the day band concerts are to be presented on the grounds for the entertainment of visitors. Everything at the celebration is free except the races, evening show and dance.

The race track is said to be in good condition and some excellent records are anticipated by the drivers. This will be the first appearance of the midget cars on the Salem track. Large cars are also billed for the day's events.

Salem merchants, faced with a two-day holiday, reported late yesterday that their business was unusually brisk. Throughout the afternoon stores were crowded with customers. Some merchants reported gains of 25 to 50 per cent above the corresponding day before the 4th in 1935.

All state offices, all city and county offices, as well as downtown places of business, will be closed for the two-day holiday. Governor Martin will give the Fourth of July address at Baker while Secretary of State Snell will pass the day at The Dalles. State Treasurer Holman expected to remain in Portland.

Inebriation Charged City police reported last night they had arrested Frank Willis of Canyonville on a charge of being drunk.

Suspects Questioned in Slugging Robbery Case, Definite Clues Lacking

City police questioned two suspects yesterday but later announced they had found no definite clue to identify the man who slugged and robbed W. J. Smuck in the latter's home at 1483 North Summer street Thursday night. Smuck was fully recovered yesterday from the blow he received in the face from his assailant. He believed he may have been attacked around 10 p. m. after he had fallen asleep listening to the radio. The robber took between $40 and $45 from Smuck's pockets.

Governor Speaks At Baker Jubilee

BAKER, Ore., July 3.—(P)—The eastern Oregon mining and mineral association called today for the creation of a state department of geology and mineral industry.

The simply-clad hard-rock miners and neatly-dressed business men interested in developing Oregon's underground resources shouted unanimous approval of legislation to create a governing board of three members and an office of director of mines.

"Seventy per cent of the income is derived from specialized agriculture," he said. "We propose to develop industry and general farming on a more diversified scale, an integral part of which is mining."

Thompson Convicted On First Bailot; Heavy Penalty Possible

(Continued from page 1) navy magazines, and mailed them to Miyasaki. In reply to a question regarding his pay, during that time, he said he thought he received "$700 or $800."

The government's case against Thompson, which Judge Yankwich later said he considered "air tight," was based on two letters, a check, and the testimony of Thompson's ex-room mate, 19-year-old Willard Turatine, of St. Louis.

Room Mate's Story Is Most Damaging "One letter, from 'Tan'—Miyasaki's nickname—to Thompson, declared in part:

"I will send your January salary before I start here. Will you send me the schedule of force tactics which will commence the 5th of December, if you can have that before the time and send me before the 3rd of December. Don't be hurry. Go slow and steady."

The check was drawn by Miyasaki, through the Yokohama specie bank of San Francisco, against an account which bank tellers said was maintained by the Imperial Japanese navy with the Irving Trust Co. of New York. It was, in turn, endorsed by Thompson.

Turatine's testimony was the most damaging of all. In the fall of 1934, Turatine continued, he went with Thompson to battleships, a destroyer and a radio-controlled target. Each time, he testified, Thompson came away with papers, pamphlets or information of some sort.
