One-Third of Canadian Wheat Ruined; Price Goes Up Again

Harvest There Not Over Half

Advance of Over 2 Cents Recorded in Spite of Corn Price Slump

CHICAGO, July 20 .- (AP)-Sensational reports of Canadian crop damage with nearly one-third of Canada's acreage asserted now to be practically a failure, lifted wheat values strongly today.

notwithstanding a transient tumble of 3 % cents in corn and despite the largest increase the United States wheat visible supply total has shown during the last five years.

Authoritative unofficial estimates were current that because of terrific toll taken by heat and drought the Canadian prairie provinces, Canada's bread basket, will harvest hardly half a erop this season, averaging not more than 10 bushels an acre. The virtual failure of a third of Canada's wheat acreage was stated to be regardless of future wea- String beans, local

Wheat in Chicago closed firm, cent to 1% cents above Saturday's finish, July $1.03%, Sept., $1.03 % %, Dec., $1.04-1.04 %; corn %-1 % c down, July 87 % c, Sept. 84 % -85c. Dec. 78 % - % c; oats unchanged to %c off, Sept. 37-37%c and rye %-%c up. In provisions the result was unchanged to 12c higher. Shrinks Steadily was especially noted that the condition of the Canadian wheat crop as a whole has shrunk two points a day for the past two Green onions, dozen weeks. Suggestions were added Radithes, dozen that if this week should continu as dry with hot winds as were p valent last week further curta ment of prospects appeared pro

Significance was attached the fact that the Winnipeg who market finished at the top poi of the day, and that Liverpo quotations theoretically due to 2 cents to 3 1/4 cents lower, clos unchanged to but % of a cent o refusing to follow Saturday sharp breaks in prices this sid of the Atlantic. Trade leaders here construed Liverpool market behavior as emphasizing that the general picture of the world's wheat position was pointed toward higher prices.

With speculative buyers veering away from corn and returning to the wheat pit, the corn market lost prestige.
