Desired had been evacuated from San Sebastian.

From Barcelona, three new columns of anti-fascist militia marched eastward toward the rebel stronghold at Zaragoza. A squadron of fighting planes accompanied the newly-recruited troops.

Reports from Lisbon, Portugal, picked up in wireless dispatches, said some of the liberal forces were ambushed and dispersed by rebels.

Other advice, not officially confirmed, reported the surrender of rebels in Seville, important southern city.

Report Surrender of Rebels, Seville

Terrific fighting in the passes of the Guadarrama mountains featured the fascist defeat in the region of Somo Sierra, Segovia and Avila, the official radio in Madrid declared.

Another column of insurgents, starting a march on the capital from Jadraque, was reported in the mountainous country.

The clashes at Endariza, near San Sebastian, were bitter as two opposing forces fought across a narrow section of the Bidassoa river.

The rebel defeat was admitted by Colonel Villanueva, fascist commander in the "red coastal sector." He declared 4,000 rebels and loyalists died during various engagements.

Refugees arriving at Hendaye, France, told how shell fire of San Sebastian wrecked the Maria Rita hotel, burying bodies of war dead beside those of rebels who committed suicide rather than be taken prisoners of war.

Parley on Water Control Planned

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—At the suggestion of President Roosevelt, a conference was called today on up-stream engineering to discuss long-range drought relief planning through "little water" control.

Morris L. Cooke, chairman of the president's great plains drought area committee, said the conference, to be held here September 23 and 24, was intended in part to bring together information on rainfall and run-off collected by the committee as well as its recommendations.

Truck Drivers Out on Strike

Commercial Pact Asked, Paulus Official Says It's Not Possible

Policemen Called As Group Gathers

When a group of more than a dozen union drivers assembled in front of the plant around 8 o'clock last night, six city policemen were dispatched there to preserve order. Striking union drivers declared their business agent, Lou Harkins, had instructed them to avoid disorder of any sort.

The only activity of the pickets was to advise drivers of outside trucks hired by the cannery yesterday that a strike was in progress, they averred. It was their intention eventually to notify all union drivers of the situation in the expectation they would refuse to make future trips to the cannery.

Incoming trucks bringing fresh fruit to the plant were permitted to unload after the drivers had been told of the walkout.

Public Invited to See Bright Comet

vantage after that hour, Bradley said.

A hazy patch of light to the naked eye the comet as seen in Bradley's telescope becomes a fiery ball with the characteristic glowing hood and a dimly-lighted trailing tail. As the comet approaches the earth its movements are becoming steadily more noticeable, Bradley pointed out. Its movement, past the stars, may now be noted in less than 15 minutes' observation.

The Bradley home, a mecca for scores of stargazers each Wednesday night, may be reached by turning left on to Waldo avenue, five blocks' distance south of the city limits on South Commercial street. It is the last house on the avenue.

The comet may be located, Bradley said, by facing the North star, looking to the right past Cassiopeia, the "W"-shaped constellation, and slightly upward toward the edge of the Milky way. Tonight the comet will be on an imaginary line between and a little to the right of a vertical row of three dim stars below and a faint triangle of stars above.

Dallas Mill Fire Causes Shutdown

DALLAS, July 24.—A fire at 7 o'clock tonight in the fuel bin and conveyor system of the Willemette Valley Lumber company plant caused a breakdown in the company's power system, resulting in a shutdown of the sawmill for the coming four days.

No damage to the main part of the plant was reported, but the breakdown of the power system, by which the company generates its own electricity, will necessitate closure of the sawmill.

Tourists Increase

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24.—(AP)—Out-state automobile registrations in Oregon the first six months of this year totalled more than 42,000—an increase of 25 per cent over the corresponding period in 1935.

Expect Bishop to Defend Coughlin

VATICAN CITY, July 24.—(AP)—Bishop Michael Gallagher of Detroit was expected tonight in high Vatican circles to make an earnest defense of Father Charles E. Coughlin, who faces possible charges for political activities.

Bishop Gallagher, whom Catholics call the "fighting bishop," is to arrive in Naples tomorrow en route to an audience with Pope Pius.

One of the subjects of their conference, high church circles believed, may be the radio priest's characterization of President Roosevelt as a "liar," a denunciation for which he publicly apologized yesterday.

Vatican officials talked with the American priest by trans-Atlantic telephone last week, a reliable source declared. Whether the conversation had any connection with the apology was not disclosed.

Myers to Speak Here on Monday

Dr. Walter L. Myers, field secretary of the state union, will speak at a mass meeting of all Christian Endeavorers of Salem in the main auditorium of the First Christian church Monday at 8 p. m., following the monthly business meeting of the Marion County Christian Endeavor Union.

A dinner will be served at 6:15 p. m. and the speaker will address the various Endeavor committees who also take place that night.

Rain For Drought Regions Forecast

CHICAGO, July 24.—(AP)—Beneficial showers for the drought-plagued fields of the western corn belt area were forecast today after a "million dollar" rain fell last night on Ohio and adjacent states.

The good news was announced by Weatherman W. Lloyd here. He said there would be widespread but local showers from the Dakotas eastward through Indiana and south through Missouri tonight or tomorrow.

"They will be sufficient in volume to be of value to crops except in the Dakotas," he added. "There they will be mostly sprinkles."

The prediction dampened the enthusiasm of corn buyers on the Chicago board of trade. Prices dropped back about 3 cents. Wheat declined 2 cents. September corn finished at 87 1/2.

No alleviation from the hot weather in Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota was in prospect, however.

Liquor Profit Is Above Estimates

Well Over Million, First Half of Year; Relief Funds Enhanced

Net income to the state of Oregon from profits, taxes and licenses on soft and hard liquors totalled $1,156,741 for the first six months of 1936, well beyond the rate of $1,000,000 which has been estimated for the 1936 net income in relief fund projections made by Governor Charles H. Martin.

The next six months will see a decline in license income but it will probably be offset by gains in liquor store and agency operations which always produce a larger net the last six months of the year. Conservative estimates place the net income to the state for the entire 12 months of 1936 at $2,100,000.

According to a six-months' report issued yesterday by the state liquor commission, stores and agencies continued to produce the most net revenue for the state which is diverting the bulk of the income to relief outlays. This source produced $659,737 in the six months. Net income from liquor stores selling soft liquors brought in $216,467 while taxes on light wines and beers produced $280,537. Beer alone in June, 1936, brought the state almost $50,000 in taxes.

Increase Over 1935

Liquor sales showed a sizeable increase over the first six months of 1935, totalling $2,298,509 in the first half of 1936. The state handled this volume of sales at an average cost of seven per cent of the selling price of liquor, 20 per cent of the selling price going into profit.

Since the Knox liquor act was enacted and a statewide system of stores was set up early in 1934, the commonwealth has received in net income from its stores and agencies and from its license and privilege taxes, an aggregate sum of $4,031,484. Of this sum, it has paid to the state relief committee and the cities and counties, $3,169,673. The remaining sum of $861,811, carried as surplus on the commission's books, represents cash on hand and working inventories.

Of the initial capital of $400,000 appropriated by the legislature, only $107,000 has been drawn and on this the commission is accruing interest to be paid when the capital advanced from the general fund is retired.

Weatherford cast the sole vote against the administrative staff's request for another social worker. He said he believed more time should be given for consideration.

In discussing the proposal for a full-time auditor, Mrs. Honeyman said, "I'd rather spend the $2,400 in something constructive. Spend it on another social worker."

The group authorized the hiring of an auditor for a month during the installation of a new system of accounting.

Inmates' Escape Reported, Denied

Three Men Seen in Brush Creek Vicinity; None Gone, Word Here

BRUSH CREEK, July 24.—A constant watch was kept here all day Friday for three men who were reported escaped from the state hospital Thursday. They were reported seen in the narrow road district Thursday night although none of the residents realized that such persons were in the neighborhood until Friday morning.

The men had stopped at one home and obtained sandwiches. Conditions were found Friday morning which indicated the men had spent the night in a little grove of trees near the L. H. Meyer and Mrs. M. J. Madsen homes.

Officers reported Friday afternoon that they were of the opinion that the men were still in hiding somewhere about the Brush Creek community.

State hospital attendants last night claimed to be unable to explain the Brush Creek reports regarding escaped inmates from their institution. The only fugitive, they said, was 16-year old Vernon Nichols, who ran away from a work gang on the grounds at 2:50 p. m. yesterday. From Fairview home it was reported no inmates from that place were at large.

Nichols, not a dangerous type of inmate, was wearing a dark zipper jacket, blue overalls and blue shirt when he escaped from the gang. He was described as weighing 130 pounds, having dark hair and brown eyes. He was committed from Lane county.

Earlier in the week, he was a member of a party of highway officials and interested persons in a tour across the pass. He was aided in his talk by a large, pictorial map which he had prepared to show the various sections of the road. Completion of the section of road between Gates and Detroit, which he said would be especially dangerous to motorists when three miles of unfinished road above Detroit is completed, resulting in a heavy stream of traffic across the pass, was urged.

Ralph Glover, committee chairman, announced plans for the group's picnic to be held at Riverdale at 6 p. m. Wednesday.
