DETROIT, July 29.—(AP)—The New York Yankees blasted the Tigers out of the first division today with Lou Gehrig hitting his 32nd homer to lead a 15-hit attack for a 13 to 3 victory.

Despite the win, however, the Yanks' league lead was cut to 8½ games by the second place Indians' double header victory over Washington.

While Charley Ruffing and Pat Malone held the Tigers to nine hits, the former taking credit for the victory, "murderers" row" landed on Joe Sullivan and Elden Anker to score all their runs in the first five innings before being stopped by the final two Detroit hurlers—Chad Kinsley and Roxie Lawson.

Gehrig, with two singles as well as his homer, and Joe Di Maggio, with a triple and two singles driving in four runs, paced the Yankee attack.

Ruffing, Malone, and Dickey; Sullivan, Anker, Kinsley and Nyatt.

Indians Win Twice
CLEVELAND, July 29.—(AP)—Indians took two games from Washington today, the first 11 to 6, and the second 6 to 5. Hal Trosky, Bruce Campbell and Joe Kuhel hit homers in the opener and Earl Averill got one in the second game.

Hort Smith Wins In Victoria Open

VICTORIA, B. C., July 29.—(AP)—Horton Smith, Chicago professional golfer, won the $3,000 Victoria open golf championship today with a 72-hole total of 269, three strokes under par for the four rounds on the 68-par Oak Bay golf course.

The veteran Chicago player stroked a 68 in the last 18 holes to tie his morning 72 and rounds of 64 on Monday and 65 on Tuesday.

Byron Nelson, Ridgewood, N. J., professional took second place with an even par 272, and Ted Longworth, Portland, came third on a 276.

Charles S. Sheppard, Los Angeles, and Neil Christian, Yakima, tied for fourth with 277.

The two Zimmerman brothers, Al and Emery, Portland, Ore., tied for seventh, 279 each.

Sodality Trims Knights, 2 to 0

MT. ANGEL, July 29.—The Sodality trimmed the Knights 2 to 0 in an exciting preliminary softball game last night. Both teams played a shutout game until the sixth inning when the Sodality brought in its two runs.

May, Sodality pitcher, had a three base hit and eight strikeouts to his credit.

Pilots' Date Changed

EUGENE, Ore., July 29.—(AP)—The University of Oregon's grid team will open the 1936 season here against the University of Portland Friday night, Sept. 25, Athletic Manager Anson B. Cornell said today. The game previously was set for the following night. Oregon has won both games thus far played with Portland.

Track's Biggest Figure

"AMERICA'S BIGGEST OLYMPIC PROBLEM!"

JACK HOLDS THE SHOT PUT MARK OF 57 FT. 1 IN.— BUT... —A LAME SHOULDER KEPT HIM FROM BETTERING 52 FEET IN THE TRY-OUTS... —AND HE IS A MERE 60 LBS. OVERWEIGHT! —CAN HE REGAIN HIS BEST FORM AT BERLIN?"

Lawson Robertson claimed before sailing that Baby Jack was a mere 65 pounds overweight.

This is really a big problem, my friends, and it won't do to take it in a spirit of levity. If the gigantic Mr. Torrance allows himself to be beaten by the comparatively emaciated foreigners, it will be a terrific blow to the beef trust—Heaven forbid.

Tiny Jack Torrance

350 lb. light, is not exactly fit as fiddle and ready for shot-putting. This wisp of a lad, who must eat a couple of steers for breakfast, holds the world's shot-put record of 57 feet one inch, but you wouldn't think it from seeing him toss the iron pellet these days.

It seems that this over-stuffed youth has a lame shoulder, which, it is alleged, handicapped him mightily in the Olympic try-outs, when he was unable to do better than a puny heave of almost 52 feet.

A toss of that distance is not going to win at Berlin, my hearties—not with the Germans flinging the heavy pill 64 feet and over. No shot-putter Torrance will have to pull himself together or he will lose a lot of prestige. As a matter of fact, what this human freight car needs to lose is a lot of poundage as

Native New Yorkers Ignorant About Own City Says Empire State Guide; Aviators Timid, Parents Too Rash

By SHERMAN MILLER
NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—Aviators are the biggest "strangers" about stationary heights; parents permit their children to do the most dangerous antics; native New Yorkers are more ignorant about their own city than any other geographical group of people.

These are just a few of the opinions held by Peter Edward Sebastian Alonzo, (Call Me Pete) McGuire, oldest guide in point of service on the Empire State building's observatories.

Pete obtained his position from former Gov. Alfred E. Smith; the building's boss, when the observatories were opened in 1931 and has been pointing out this and that to groups of the 3,000,000 visitors ever since.

In that time Pete, a ruddy, red-topped husky, feels he has unearthed many surprising facts of human nature.

Aviators Fearful
"You take these aviators," he said, "they are the most scared of anybody up here. One of them was up here with his wife the other day. She told me she was scared to death in an airplane and that her husband laughed at her for it."

"But up here she walked right over to the outside wall and stood looking down 102 stories. Her husband, the aviator, ran back into the enclosed section, stuck his head out the window and hollered for her to get away from the edge, that's what he did."

Pete takes his job pretty seriously; says he has to, what with parents having no sense about letting their children climb all over the balustrades some 1,200 feet above the street.

"Would you believe it," says Pete, "lots of parents think it's cute, and even want the children to stand up there alone while the father takes pictures. We have quite a bit of trouble with them, and most parents get awful mad at us when we drag the children down and tell them if they don't stay off the walls, we'll have to refund their money and exclude them from the observatories."

Strangely enough, Pete says, the things most people want to see from the highest man-made pinnacle in the world are not the newer and taller buildings at all. They first want pointed out the ancient flat-roofed building and the Woolworth building, each once the tallest structure in the world.

Pete guesses that's because outlanders, as he calls them, on previous visits to New York many years ago, remember these buildings as the epitomes of height, and want to marvel at the degree to which they are dwarfed today.

Although there's quite a bit of rivalry between the guides atop the Empire state and those who officiate on the roof of radio city, Pete says he always gives radio city a break in his lectures and comes right out and acknowledges that it's only 209 feet shorter than the Empire state.

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—The fast-rising Giants, paced by Burgess Whitehead with a homer, double and two singles, had little regard for the highly-rated Chicago Cub pitching today and pounded out 12 hits for a 7 to 2 victory in the opener of the current series.

The setback not only put the Cubs' National League lead on the fire, but was doubly bitter in that the Giants clubbed Bill Lee, who had shut them out twice previously this season. Gabby Gabler, the New York pitching youngster, let the Chicago champions down with eight hits.

Dodgers, Cards Split
BROOKLYN, July 29.—(AP)—The revived Dodgers handed the St. Louis Cardinals their worst beating of the year in the opener of a doubleheader today and then just lost out in the nightcap to gain an even break in the twin bill. The scores were 22 to 7 and 5 to 4.

Only Ducky Medwick's two homers in the second game, saved the gas house gang from complete humiliation, as the Brooklyn went on their biggest scoring and hitting spree of the season with a 21-hit barrage in the opener.

So Do Pirates, Bees
BOSTON, July 29.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates battered three Boston Bees pitchers for seven runs in the seventh inning to win the second game of a doubleheader 10 to today, after losing the first 4 to 1.

Starting pitcher Bobby Smith retired in the eighth inning after Jesse singled with one out and scored on Paul Warner's triple. Jim Chaplin took up hurling duty for the Bees but with little success.

Shur and Vaughn greeted him with singles, Brubaker doubled, and Younk was purposely doubled. Finney grounded to shortstop Warstler who made a bad throw to the plate and all hands were safe.

Pitcher Mac Brown and Schulte singled, and after Reis replaced Chaplin in the pitcher's box, Jensen (correct) grounded to Thompson, but he too made a bad throw to the plate, and seven runs were scored.

Danny MacFayden shut out the Pirates until the ninth inning of the first game when the visitors scored their only run on singles by Vaughn and pinch-hitter Schulte, and Warstler's triple.

Stroke of Husky Crew Big Worry

GRUNAU, Germany, July 29.—(AP)—Delighted with everything about lovely Grunau except its weather and their own doubtful condition America's Olympic oarsmen, from single sculler, Dan Barrow of Philadelphia, to Washington's towering eight, settled down today to a program of two hard workouts daily.

The most serious casualty of the cold rain which has fallen with maddening regularity the last five days is Donald Bruce Hume, of Olympia, Wash., stroke of the Washington crew. A heavy chest cold had him confined to his bed in the crew's quarters.

Coach Al Ulbricksen frankly was worried.

"Everything depends upon his recovery," the coach said. "We haven't a chance if he doesn't row. He's a big strong boy, though and I hope he'll throw it off."

Hume's pace-setting role was taken over by Donald Coy of Seattle, the only available substitute.

Practically every member of the squad had what Ulbricksen described as the "sniffles." There was some consolation, however, in the fact that the oarsmen of other nations were in the same fix.

Eleanor Barred From Olympics

News of the dismissal of Eleanor Holm Jarrett, world's premier backstroke swimmer, from the U. S. Olympic team, reverberated through the sporting world following the arrival of American athletes at Hamburg, Germany. In the announcement, made shortly after the athletes landed, Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, said Mrs. Jarrett was dropped "for violation of training rules." The champion swimmer, shown above, is the wife of Arthur Jarrett, radio singer.

Angels Lose One Manager Per Day

Truck Hannah Banished to Follow Lelivelt; Duck Victories Continue

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 29.—(AP)—San Diego made it two straight over Los Angeles here today in a game marked by the sensational pitching of Dick Ward and the banishment of Harry "Truck" Hannah, acting Angels manager, after a run-in with Umpire Hollis Leake. The score was 5 to 1.

In yesterday's game Leake ousted Manager Jack Lelivelt, Jimmy Reese and Arnold Stutz of the Angels and today they drew suspensions.

Carl Dittmar piloted the Seraphs through the rest of today's game.

In a sensational play Cedric Durst caught Cleo Carlyle's center field smash, falling to the grass, and doubled Joe Mene at first base from start to finish. Olympic officials shipped Howard King of Detroit, first-string water-gate pitcher, and Joe Church of Batavia, N. Y., featherweight alternate, home without leaving much loop-hole for any comeback.

Roy Davis of Chicago, manager of the boxing team, flatly denied there ever was the slightest basis for the report that the boxers had violated training rules. He refused to comment on talk that the boys had misused their privileges while on leave from the Olympic village. The German press was told officially the boxers couldn't "stand the climate."

Missions Nose Out
SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—(AP)—Wayne Osborn, bespectacled young right hander of the Missions, had to call upon all his pitching resources to turn in a 4 to 2 victory over the San Francisco Seals here today.

Osborn had a three run lead going into the eighth inning when Frank O'Doul's men scored two runs on a double by Gfra and singles by O'Doul and Monzo. A walk to Marty filled the bases with one out, and Osborn forced Ted Norbert to pop to Wright and fanned Ross to end the inning.

The Missions made three runs in the fifth off Ed Stutz.

Farmer Plays In Semi-Final

Meets Vaughn Today; Mel Groves and Burrell Continue to Win

PORTLAND, Ore., July 29.—(AP)—Out-of-city youths threatened to steal the limelight for the first time in the Oregon state junior golf championships today.

Only one Portland boy, Jack Latourette, remained in the semi-final quartet in the title fight for boys under 16. Latourette won from Ralph Montag, Portland, 3 and 1.

Ray Farmer, Salem, advanced to the semi-finals with a 1-up victory over David Frey, Portland. Dick Hansen, Marshfield, eliminated Benny Bates, Corvallis, 2 and 1. Danny Vaughn, Longview, downed Bob Duden, Portland, 3 and 2.

Farmer will play Vaughn and Hansen will meet Latourette tomorrow.

Groves Wins Easily
Melvin Groves, Salem, remained in the second flight with a 7 and 6 victory over Gordon Ley, Portland. Al Curry, Salem, won his fourth flight round from Wesley Stoker, Portland, 2-up.

All-Portland semi-finals will be played in the championship flight of the junior boys' division, for those between 15 and 18. Bob Burrell, Salem, won from Dick Cooney, Portland, 6 and 4 in the first flight. Harry Carson, Salem, lost a second-flight match to Lindsay Richardson, Portland, 2 and 1, and in the fourth flight Frank Albrich, Salem, lost to Jack Ellis, Portland, 4 and 2.

Home Sick Boxers Drop From Team

BERLIN, July 29.—(AP)—The Olympic setting, still pursued by the weather jinx, was far from peaceful tonight despite a proposal before the opening session of the international Olympic committee that the Nobel peace prize be awarded to Bayon Pierre De Coubertin, whose suggestion of 40 years ago led to the modern revivals of the games.

During another stormy day with the athletes of 50 nations struggling to practice beneath thunder-showers, and while elaborate machinery moved at full speed for the grand opening Saturday, the American contingent contributed another full share to the disturbing developments.

Two boxers, labeled "homesick cases," were shipped back to the United States on the Manhattan; the Washington crew's brilliant stroke oar, Don Hume, joined the rapidly growing sick list and enough her casualty reports were received to make prospects before the actual firing begins somewhat discouraging.

Statement in Brief
In sharp contrast to the handling of the Eleanor Holm Jarrett case which was given a complete reprieve from start to finish, Olympic officials shipped Howard King of Detroit, first-string water-gate pitcher, and Joe Church of Batavia, N. Y., featherweight alternate, home without leaving much loop-hole for any comeback.

Roy Davis of Chicago, manager of the boxing team, flatly denied there ever was the slightest basis for the report that the boxers had violated training rules.
