

U.S. Already Has Olympic Track and Field Title in Grasp

Owens Breaks More Records

200-Meter, Broad Jump Olympic Marks Fall; Two Others Win

By ALAN GOULD
BERLIN, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Scaling the heights of Olympic track and field conquest unknown since pre-war days, the United States today ended all doubt about team supremacy, captured first places in all three men's events, divided honors in the two women's contests with Germany, and produced the first double winner of the 11th Olympiad in an amazingly unbeatable Jesse Owens.

Ohio State's redoubtable negro shattered Olympic records most every time he made a move in the day-long competition in two events. He twice bettered the 200-meter mark, coasting to 21.1 second victories in the qualifying trials, and then climaxed the day by bettering the broad jump mark five times, ending up with a final leap of 8.06 meters, 26 feet 5 1/4 inches.

This jumping feat, which bettered the previous mark of 7.73 meters, 25 feet 4 1/4 inches, made by Edward Hamm in the 1928 games, gave a second gold medal and oak tree to the tan thunderbolt who is poised to complete a triple triumph in the decisive 200-meter tests tomorrow.

Other U. S. Men Win
The decisive but non-record breaking victories of Glenn Hardin, Greenwood, Miss., in the 400-meter hurdles, and John Hughey Woodruff, Connellsville, Pa., negro, in the 800-meter run, combined with Owens' latest contribution, ended any idea that the point battle for the team title will be close.

Completion of three of eight days of Olympic blue ribbon competition found the United States totaling 83 points in eight events—more than double Germany's 33 1/2 points. The Teutons had the satisfaction of pushing Owens to record-jumping heights, but picked up only 7 1/2 points while Finland went scoreless and remained in third place with 30 1/2 points.

Helen Stephens of Fulton, Mo., sharing the feminine spotlight with Germany's record-breaking discus thrower, Gisela Mauermayer, continued the United States' sprint sweep. The Missourian beat five rivals decisively, including Poland's defending champion, Stella Walsh, in the 100-meter women's final, bettering the listed world record for the third time. She won the title in 11.5 seconds, one-tenth of a second short of her own best mark in yesterday's trials.

West Stayton Is Double Champion

West Stayton, recent winner of the mid-Willamette valley league championship, hung up some kind of a record when it went through the season undefeated. The West Stayton team won all of its 10 regular games and in addition won two straight in a playoff with the second place Shaw club.

Rex Shelton, West Stayton outfielder, led the team in hitting and was also the heaviest extra base swatter. Shelton was struck out only three times during the season and hit 18 times in 44 times at bat for an average of .409.

Junior Loop's Clouting Circus

By BURNLEY

IN as close a battle for home run honors as we have seen in years, the principal figures are three pulverizing guardians of the premier bag—in other words, a trio of first basemen—Larrying Louie Gehrig, Iron Horse of the New York Yankees, Hammering Hal Trosky, crack Cleveland clouter, and Jolting James Foxx, burly Beantown blaster.

You not-so-gentle readers may have noticed that these contenders for Babe Ruth's old title of round trip ruler are all American Leaguers, and this is no accident. The swatters of the junior loop are running wild this season, what with a bounding jackrabbit for a ball and the poorest set of mound staffs in recent A. L. history.

The National League's hitmits, who have the misfortune to hit against the slants of such super moundmen as Dean, Hubbell, Warneke, Schumacher, et cetera, et cetera, are not pounding out a plethora of four-ply pokes. Incidentally, the Yanks' hope, Herr Gehrig, is also pointing for the batting championship. Louie and Boston's Jimmy Foxx have both copped the home run laurels in past years, while the truculent Trosky established himself as a threat when he blasted 34 homers in 1934, his first big league campaign.

Radio Team Faces Big Test Tonight

Atwater-Kent Victory to Mean Clean-Cut Title; Often Disappointed

Never ready to take a sure thing Atwater-Kent will attempt to add another spike in its building of a double barreled city championship when it meets the Man's Shop in the first game of tonight's softball double-header on Sweetland field at 8 o'clock.

Twice before, under the Parker banner, edged out of a city championship in the home stretch, the Atwater-Kent club is having a bad case of jitters according to softball gossip.

A loss by Atwater-Kent tonight would throw them into a tie with Hogg Bros., apparently the only team that has any chance to break through on top.

The Man's Shop has been formidable but the odds will be with the undefeated A-K team as Vern Gilmore, Man's Shop pitcher, will be pitching his first league game in two weeks after recovering from an injured knee.

Master Broad and the Paper Mill, tied up for the cellar, will vie in the second contest.

Shutout Ball Is Hurlled by Burch

Don Burch, the former Willamette pitcher, hurled shutout ball Sunday as the Silver Falls Timber company baseball team won from the Portland Ramblers 4 to 0 at Columbia park in Portland.

Burch was touched for only six scattered hits and struck out nine batters. Hal Moo, a Willamette catcher, did his bit by hitting three for four and Brady got three hits in five attempts. Broasins, Portland pitcher, had a perfect day with three for three. Silver Falls..... 4 10 1
Ramblers..... 0 6 2
Burch and Moo; Broasins and Spears.

Kearsey Smashes Archery Records

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Shattering or records continued today in the fifty-sixth annual national archery tournament.

Gillman C. Kearsey, of Corvallis, Ore., defending champion, made 134 hits and a point score of 752, to shatter the record of 134-769 for a single year round, set by Russell Hoerhger, of Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1934, at Storrs, Conn.

Lefty Grove Jinx Slain by Yankees

Bridges Gains Shutout and Season's 14th Victory; Chisox Still Coming

Back in the dim, dead days beyond recall when Atwater-Kent was not Atwater-Kent and, though not a rose either, was just as sweet by any other name, that team had a hard time winning championships.

It was Parker's then and under that banner championships slipped through the grasping fingers of that doughty team like ice passing down the gutters of a fire-eater in the circus. Every time they would get so near that they could hear the cheers and feel the rosy glow of basking in the acclaim that is the due of champions. Every time something happened. The something was usually Pade's.

Now Atwater-Kent, nee Parker's, is pretty close to a championship of the city softball league. There are ways to figure that, some other team would win and, with certain combinations of circumstances, another team still could win. The odds are pretty high. Atwater-Kent hasn't much to worry about. Haven't they already the first half championship in the well known sack? Haven't they practically a first mortgage on the second half championship? If they haven't somebody has been tampering with our horoscope.

Yet, not forgetting past things, Atwater-Kent is hitting. Too many times things have slipped for the Sugar boys and their cohorts in the final week or so. They don't feel safe, even now with Wait's out of the way. Jitters don't help any. That may be their downfall. So far they haven't been beaten but we don't believe that they're invincible. Parker's had a better team last year and they were beaten. The next week should see things happening in the softball league.

Suggested knock-knock form for meetings of the Salem softball association:

"Knock, knock." "Who's there?" "Barrick." "Barrick who?" "Barrick me not on the lone prairie." "Knock, knock." "Who's there?" "Olinger." "Olinger who?" "Olinger a little longer in the twilight with me." "Rap, rap." "Who's there?" "Fletcher." "Fletcher who?" "Fletcher self go." "Knock, knock." "Who's there?" "Dunn." "Dunn who?" "Dunn mean a thing if it ain't got that swing." "Knock, knock, knock, knock." "Who's there?" "Marr." "Marr who?" "Marr county 'tis of thee." "Knock, knock, knock, knock." "Who's there and be careful of that door?" "Hendrie." "Who?" "Hendrie, Don Hendrie, the roast of the town. Remember me?" "Yeah, we don't want any."

Cry Baby Wins Via Comeback

Loses First Fall Quickly But Rallies; Champion And Achiu in Draw

The regular wrestling fans almost got the thrill of their lives last night at the weekly American Legion wrestling show, but "Cry Baby" London finally outlasted Jack Clayborne to win the last two falls and the match. It looked like Clayborne would win with ease after taking the first fall in five minutes with a pile driver hold. However, "Cry Baby" turned certain defeat into victory by crushing the negro with a backward body slam for the second fall. The third fall went to London with a series of shin kicks and a Boston crab. As usual the crowd was all against London and pulling for Clayborne, the popular negro. Harry Elliott, the referee, also had his hands full with London, as Elliott had beaten the "Cry Baby" the night before in Portland.

The semi-windup was a surprise to the fans. For 45 minutes Walter Achiu and "Whitey" Wahlberg wrestled. Wahlberg got the first fall in 30 minutes with a hammerlock throw and an Indian deathlock. Achiu got his fall in 20 minutes later with an Indian deathlock which made Wahlberg give up. This remains five minutes was fast, clean wrestling with neither man able to cash in. Wahlberg who is the Pacific coast middleweight champion, lived up to his reputation and showed the crowd some real wrestling. This match was such a contrast to the regular rough and tumble affairs that the crowd greatly appreciated it.

In the opener Al Williams took two straight falls from Frank Kimball, a newcomer from Montana. Williams was the best of it but not in the payoff. Williams won the first fall with an Indian deathlock and the second with a Boston crab.

In between falls Frank Kimball put on a muscular control exhibition which had the crowd playing around in the ring. Kimball had the best of it but not in the payoff. Williams won the first fall with an Indian deathlock and the second with a Boston crab.

Beavers Rally to Defeat Missions

Portland, Ore., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Mission Reds started off strong with four runs in the first frame tonight but couldn't match the Portland bats when the Beavers finally got going. The final score was Portland 9, Missions 4.

Caster, starting for the Beavers, yielded three hits and as many runs before Radonits was rushed to the mound. West scored on an error to complete the Mission rally but thereafter the Beavers kept things well under control. Radonits yielded but two hits for the more than eight innings he was in the game.

Portland's runs also came in bunches, two in the second, three in the third and four in the seventh. The Beavers tallied 18 safe ones from Osborne and Lamanski.
