Consumers Balk at High Corn Prices, Second Decline Occurs

Moisture Adds To Bear Trend

Rains Most Extensive of Season; Wheat, Other Grains Also Fall

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Corn suffered a sharp price collapse today amounting in some cases to 4 cents a bushel in addition to about an equal fall yesterday.

Indications that consumers were balking at recent steep upturns of corn market values did much to bring about increased pressure to sell, and so also did apparent likelihood of heavy imports of corn because of big domestic premiums over foreign corn. Besides, moisture relief today in drought districts, although not promising great benefit except to forage and pastures, was reported as more extensive than at any time this summer.

Corn futures closed shaky at around the day's bottom level, 1-1⅛-2⅛ cents under yesterday's finish, Sept. 1.14¼-½, Dec. 99-⅝-¾, May 94⅛-¼, wheat ½-1¼ down, Sept. 1.13⅛-⅜, Dec. 1.12⅛-¼, May 1.10⅛-⅜; oats ½-⅞ off, Dec. 44⅜-45, and rye showing ¼-⅝ loss. In provisions, the outcome was unchanged to 27 cents lower.

September Fluctuates

September delivery of corn fluctuated wildly, and again and again touched the day's bottom level, $1.14¼, more than 5 cents under yesterday's peak.

Lower prices prevalent for wheat, oats and rye were attributed largely to selling pressure stimulated by weakness of corn. Moreover, wheat values were undermined by reports confirmed after the close that the Canadian government would make no change in its guarantee price to wheat growers, 87½ cents.

Brisk downturns of hog values were reflected by provisions.

Farm Prices Are Reported Higher

CORVALLIS, Ore., Aug. 20.—(AP)—L. R. Breithaupt, agricultural extension economist at Oregon State college, said today that the general level of Oregon farm prices had increased 20 per cent in the past three months.

Prices of Oregon eggs, butterfat wheat, oats, barley, potatoes, and several other commodities have all risen as a result of the midwest drought, Breithaupt declared.

Selling Brings Stock Decline

Aviation, Some Specialty Issues Run Counter to Wall Street Trend

NEW YORK, Aug. 20—(AP)—Selling dribbled into the stock market today and while it was not particularly forceful many of yesterday's rallying leaders backed up fractions to a point or more.

The session was hardly a one-way affair, however, with aviation and a number of other specialties running counter to the general trend, a few holding sizeable advances.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .3 of a point at 67.4. The volume was a bit under that of the previous day, transfers totaling 961,800 shares compared with 1,006,130.

Gainers including Boeing at 30-⅛, General Motors at 66⅛, Goodyear at 23¼, and Du Pont at 160.

Among the losers were U. S. Steel at 67, Southern Pacific at 41, J. I. Case at 157¾, Kennecott at 46, Anaconda at 38¼, Western Union at 87¼, American Telephone at 173¾, N. Y. Central at 41 and American Can at 120¼.

Cucumbers Active And Prices Higher

PORTLAND, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Cucumbers showed a spirited movement during the late trading today on the east side farmers' wholesale market, pickling stock in general gaining a nickel a box with a range of 25-40c. Slicing stuff was unchanged as a rule.

Tomato movement was very heavy and practically without price change with chief sales 35c box for packed stock although one grower received up to 40c again.

Cantaloupes sold much the same as during the previous day at 60-65c generally with a few Yakimas at 70c crate, some Grand Islands 65-75c with a few higher while The Dalles was chiefly 75c crate.

Peaches sold around 60-65c generally for Willamette valley Crawfords with a few 70c while Yakima Elbertas sold 55-70c. The first Hales out of Yakima were brought in, priced at the opening around 85c box.

In the late trading there was only a nominal supply of tomatoes available and the market was firmer but cantaloupes were just about holding their own with general activity around 60-65c crate, which included most of the spears. Peaches were active for local Crawfords and The Dalles Elbertas but Yakimas were a trifle slow for supplies even at low prices named. Most fruit was small.

Local lettuce of quality was firm at $1.25-1.75 crate with some northern at $1.60-1.75.

Lower Insurance Rate Not Likely

It is not likely that there will be any material reduction in Oregon insurance rates during the next year, Hugh Earle, state insurance commissioner, reported to Governor Martin Thursday.

Earle said he was in hope of bringing about a few minor decreases.

An increase of rates in some of the more hazardous classifications of property may be expected, he said.

Better Roads No Ban on Accidents

Super-highways alone will not eliminate motor vehicle accidents, Secretary of State Snell said Thursday.

Snell said most of the accidents indicated laxity on the part of the automobile driver. Mechanical condition of the car also is an important factor, he said.
