BASS HUETER PAINT
FOR YEARS OF WEAR

Rain won't help a "thirsty" house!

Rain will help a parched garden and wet a dusty road. But when a house gets "thirsty" it wants paint—good paint that keeps out damp and preserves timber; that resists weather and wears down stubbornly. In other words—

Rufus the Roofer Says . . .
Winter time is about here
With it's cold rains I fear,
It's time to do your roofing.
So don't waste time spoofing.
The sunshine will soon be gone,
And your new roof will not be on.
The best time will soon fly by,
It will then be too late to cry.
For the home will take a soaking
And the results will be provoking.
So don't put off what you need,
But re-roof now with Certain-teed.

Don't Delay—Let Us Check Your Roof Today!

Addition to Ward Building to Open

Opening of a nine-story $900,000 addition to the Montgomery Ward plant in Portland next Saturday, was announced yesterday by B. A. Newman, local store manager. He said the public was invited to inspect the new addition between 2 and 8 p. m.

The expansion on this mail order branch, which serves Washington, Oregon, Idaho, western Montana and Alaska, is the first since the original building was constructed in 1919. The addition is a nine-story and basement reinforced concrete wing which makes the building U-shaped and the cost will approximate $900,000.

William Hellman is building an onion house on the place he purchased last year.

990. The plant will be one of the most modern and efficient on the entire coast.

Since this branch house was first opened, Wards have opened 33 retail stores in this area, much of whose needs come from Portland. A warehouse and large store have also been constructed in Spokane. Four order offices have been established in towns where no retail stores are located.
