Cannery Expects Heavy Prune Pack
SILVERTON, Sept. 12.—The Silvertown Cannery company will begin its heavy prune pack next week. This will be the heaviest pack of the season for the local cannery. The force expects to put up between four or five hundred tons of prunes.

Corn will be furnished during the coming week. The company had planned to pack approximately 30,000 cases but the hot dry weather in July cut down the yield to such an extent that this figure will not be reached. Figures of the total pack are not available yet as there will be about 150 tons to be put up yet.

Last year's corn pack was the first put up. A 1000 cases were put up as an experiment and proved so successful that a large pack has been put up this year. Frequently as much as 1700 cases has been put up in one day this season.

A small beet pack was put up early in the season. Another pack will be put up this autumn from those planted during the summer. The beet crop, practically completed, was weaker in quantity but excellent in quality this season.

Following the prune pack, carrots will be put up. Some apples may also be packed. Last season all of the apples packed were exported to England.

While much of the goods put up locally is custom packed, considerably is also being canned under the "Silvertown Brand" and "Silo." Only a few evergreens were put up this year and those for a special order.

TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING MUZZLED

All Dentists advertise in some manner and they all believe in it whether or not they will admit it. One class contacts their patrons by attending religious churches, Social Functions, Political Meetings, free newspaper announcements, etc.

A great many of this class would like to use paid advertising space in the papers, etc., but are too tight to do so and some fear chastisement by their dental friends. The class of advertisers doesn't consider their methods of contact advertising, and therefore strive to control the advertising methods of all other classes of Dental advertising. There will be a proposed amendment to the before mentioned law on the ballot next November. Then the public may vote out this unfair law; unfair to the people as well as the enterprising Dentists. Until then I must be content to quote prices at my office or over the telephone.
