Red Clover Is Light of Yield

J. A. Hains Leases Farm Of H. L. Bahnsen for Two Years

BETHEL, Sept. 21.—Clover hulling was finished in the district a few days ago. Red clover seed was a light crop, averaging about 66 pounds per acre. Alsike clover seed, which was hulled earlier, made a heavy yield. Victor and John Kirscher had 2000 pounds of clean Alsike seed from four and one half acres.

W. R. Baker, chairman of the board of directors of Bethel school district, presided at the recent budget meeting, assisted by Mrs. Lucy I. Hain, clerk. The budget was adopted as presented. The school district is in sound financial condition.
