

Detroit Blaze Under Control

Situation Well in Hand Unless Temperature Changes, Report

Forestry officials said most of the men were drafted from CCC camps at Crabtree in Lane county, Triangle Lake in Linn county and the state park at Silver Creek Falls.

The Detroit fire, coming late in the season, was the first in the North Santiam river district this year to reach serious proportions. The most serious fires reported previously were in Coos and Klamath counties.

State Forester Ferguson said the Detroit fire had not yet invaded any valuable timber.

Threatened Coast Tie-up Is Viewed

The Sailors' union of the Pacific has notified the employers it wants a new agreement. The longshoremen announced they would fight for retention of the hiring hall. They expressed a willingness to continue working under present terms pending further negotiations.

The shipowners planned to hire longshoremen directly at the piers after Wednesday, but announced they would shut down waterfront operations if sufficient men failed to appear.

Waterfront employers and representatives of the Marine Firemen, Oilers, Waterenders and Wipers' union conferred over the possibility of modifying their old agreement. The union asked wage increases in some classifications. It requested $30 monthly for oilers and waterenders who now receive $72.50, and $50 for wipers who now receive $50.

Farm Bureau not Liked by Grange

SILVERTON, Sept. 25.—A definite stand against the American Farm Bureau was taken at a meeting of the Silverton Grange tonight when the following resolution was passed:

Whereas Marion county and Oregon are now being served by two excellent farm organizations, the Grange and the Farmers Union, which are actually devoted to the welfare of rural life, and

Whereas efforts are now being made to organize in Marion and other counties of Oregon a third farm society, the American Farm Bureau and

Whereas the history of this society shows that the first unit was organized and sponsored by the Binghamton, N. Y. chamber of commerce, and many of the activities of the organization are dominated by the commercial rather than rural interests and likewise that many beneficial farm measures, such as the Frazier Lemke re-financing act were refused aid by the American Farm Bureau; now therefore

Be it resolved by Silverton Grange 748 that we recommend that no granger or anyone interested in the real welfare of rural life, give any aid, moral or financial, to the American Farm Bureau.

One-Third Cut Is Acceptable

Britain Also Takes Part In Stabilization of World Currencies

6—The Bourse—stock market will be closed for several days; the franc market will be strictly controlled.

7—The government will move to spend millions of francs to aid towns, departments, mortgage holders cooperatives, business interests and individuals that may be hurt by the franc's realignment or the resultant increase in prices.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP)—An agreement between the United States, France and Great Britain to cooperate in devaluation of the French franc, which treasury officials hailed as a "major move" toward stabilization of currencies, was announced tonight by the treasury.

Secretary Morgenthau, describing the agreement as the accomplishment of a three-year objective, referred to stabilization as an accomplished fact, but did not answer a question from a newspaperman as to whether it actually constituted "effective stabilization."

Other treasury officials, calling the move a major one toward stabilization, said the agreement entails readjustment of the French currency by that nation's parliament and until that has been done the agreement is not operative.

They also pointed to a line in the official treasury announcement, saying that all three nations reserved their rights to "take into full account" the requirements of "internal prosperity."

Morgenthau said the United States and Great Britain knew the extent of the proposed French devaluation and it was acceptable to both.

Hop Sales Heavy; Near 1000 Bales

For the second day in a week sales of hops neared the 1000 bale mark yesterday with prices for the new crop holding steady at 45 cents and a new high price set for the 1935 crop.

Sales reported yesterday showed 315 bales of 1935 clusters sold at a new high of 31 cents. Previous high for the year old crop has been 30 cents, which has been the prevailing standard for the last several months.

One hundred and twenty-five bales of fuggles sold at 45 cents 330 bales of clusters went to buyers at the same figure and 34 bales of the 1936 clusters brought 42 1/2 cents to the grower.

Mickey Mouse Club Notes

Well, well, here it is Sept. 28 already and school is well under way, and next week the colleges will get under way. I guess I'll have to get ready and go to college myself, but all this is sort of getting off the subject of this afternoon's show.

Very much. We have a real treat for you this afternoon. M.M.C.

Bud Smith, our piano player, left us last week and in his place this Saturday we are going to have one of the real old gang, Marion Draper, who is now going to Willamette and playing the piano in "Skip Spooner's band."

We're glad to have you with us, Marion. M.M.C.

I told you that Bud had left us but I didn't tell you what he is going to do. Bud has joined a band in Seattle and they are playing at a very fashionable place. After they leave Seattle they are going on a seven months tour through the west and southern parts of the country. While I'm on the subject I might tell you that next week Ted Stiff, our bass fiddle player, is going to join the same band. . . . Good luck, boys.

M.M.C. Our show last week was quite a success, judging from the amount of applause we got. "Cuddles" the trained horse did all right and Jeanne Lunsford's song was a knockout, and I don't believe that I ever saw Kenny Cater sing better. That was just a sample of what is going to be done.

M.M.C. Now to tell you about the treat that I promised you. On the stage today we are going to have the "Colorado Hill Billies," a group of eight NBC radio artists. They have been performing every day since Thursday at the Capitol theatre, and today we will have them for the Mickey Mouse club. We also have on our program, Agnes Bowne from Ed Cheney's school of dancing and Helen Smith, one of the favorite singers of the Mickey Mouse club.

M.M.C. Those of you who like good dancing will want to be sure and see Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in their latest picture "Swing Time" which is coming to the Elsinore in a very short time.

M.M.C. I got to thinking so much about the dancing that I almost forgot to tell you about today's pictures. The special feature will be John Wayne in "The Lawless Nineties" and chapter eleven of "The Phantom Rider." The regular feature is William Powell and Carole Lombard in "My Man Godfrey."

M.M.C. I feel a joke coming on so I think I'll stop right now. I'll see you later. Your Pal, HAL.

Fascists Nearing Toledo, Reported

The broadcast added that the besieged fascists in Toledo's Alcazar fortress had released their women and children but that the men-folk still held to their defenses.
