Yankees Lose In 10 Innings

Sinker Ball Expert Does Great Work in Pinch; Terry Breaks Tie

BY ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Swooping perilously close to the brink of world series disaster, the Yankees' performers doing the tightwire act in mid-air, the New York Giants prolonged their baseball civil war with the Yankees today with a breath-taking 5 to 4 victory in the tenth inning of the fifth game.

The outcome reduced the margin of the Yankees 2 games to 2, after three successive triumphs for the American league champions. It sent the warring clans back across the Harlem river for the sixth game at the Polo Grounds tomorrow.

Daily Scrimmage Ordered by Hawk

Big Improvement Is Hoped For by Saturday Date Of Chemawa Clash

Scrimmages every day plus a good dose of the tackling dummy will be the diet for Harold Hawk's Salem high griders who last Friday dropped their opening game to the light but speedy Camas high team 27 to 0.

Work on defense with emphasis on backfield assignments will be Hawk's major program for the week as he prepares the Vikings for their tilt with the Chemawa Indians on Sweetland field Saturday.

The Indians are expected to be much tougher than in recent years. They upset the Tillamook high eleven 6 to 0 at Chemawa Saturday and the week before held Eugene to a 13 to 0 score. Last year Salem defeated the Redskins 27 to 0.

Local Option Bill Backed by Clergy

Ministerial Association's First Meeting of Fall Held; Moody Lauded

The Salem Ministerial association, holding its first regular meeting of the fiscal year at the First Baptist church, today endorsed full support of the effort under way in Marion county to secure abolition of the sale of liquor in the county. This action came following a committee report presented by Rev. Lynn A. Wood on the liquor problem.

The gambling situation in the state and county was also discussed and the group adopted a resolution commending the work of Special Prosecutor Ralph Moody and his co-workers in their effort to rid the county of gambling.

Dr. Grover C. Birtchet of the Presbyterian church is president of the association which yesterday elected Rev. L. Wesley Johnson, pastor of the First Church of God, secretary-treasurer.

The association yesterday made plans to hold its fall meeting, the appearance of Dr. E. Stanley Jones in Salem early in November. A resolution was passed requesting churches of the city to urge their pastors to attend the preaching mission in Portland November 5 to 8.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, November 2, at the Y. M. C. A., with ministers' wives to be invited guests at a combined meeting at 6 o'clock dinner. A large representation attended the opening meeting.

WPA Payroll at Year's Low Mark

WPA payrolls last month reached their lowest point since the temporary program was instituted for the Marion county district for which Salem is headquarters, according to a financial statement released yesterday by the finance office.

September work relieved pay checks in the district aggregated $57,759.41; last December the payroll was $52,390.34.

The small September payroll, which was $24,532.70 below that for August, was due to the project shutdown during the fruit and hop harvest seasons.

The Marion county WPA payroll for the month was $17,599.87 for 341 workers; for Linn county, $3,990.22 for 170 workers, and for Polk county, $2,867.16 for 30 workers.

Expenditures for the first year's operation of the WPA, which ends in mid-October, will be slightly in excess of $1,342,022 for the district and $618,471.97 for Marion county.

SPORTS BY PAUL HAUSER

It begins to look like Howard Jones has revived the old "Thundering Herd" and sent it out to gallop unstopped across the pampas again. With two fullbacks that break like interchangeable parts, a power attack that is dazzling, those Trojans will be hard to stop.

Evening against those odds, though, Oregon put up the best game it has played against S. C. since it shut out the Trojans in 1915. The Webfoot for three quarters made those Coliseum Colossals fearful.

One who is glad to see Southern California back where it used to be is Dr. Bruce Richard Baxter. Dr. Baxter saw all but one of the Trojan's games in ten years but has a new love in the Bearcats. He and Headman Jones are great friends and we wonder what the doctor would think if he knew S. C. since it shut out the Trojans in 1915.

Between halves at Corvallis Saturday Darrell Newhouse, who broke his very essential spectacles in the second quarter, was asked by "Spec" Keene if he could see "I can't see but I can play," the big tackle responded. Newhouse had left his heavy duty glasses at home by accident and it was his regular pair that he was wearing. His glasses were sent for but didn't arrive until after the game was over.

Keene and his coaching staff will be watching with interest the results of a game to be played at Fresno, Cal., between San Francisco State meets Whittier in that game and Willamette plays both schools on its southern jaunt this year. They will both be tough.

Fresno dropped a 14 to 0 decision to the high school boys. Fresno lost out only by the margin of a conversion to Loyola, 7 to 6.

Accuses Morris of Coaching Cougars

Thornhill not Kicking, He Declares; Goddard and Referee Both Deny

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Charges that Stanford's losing football team was the victim of irregularities by Referee Bobby Morris in Saturday's conference game with Washington State college, seemed headed tonight only for the realm of unofficial discussion.

Officials of the Pacific coast conference said they would take no action unless Stanford officially complained that it was deprived of an earned touchdown and that Morris "coached" the W. S. C. quarterback, Ed Goddard. Morris and Goddard both denied the assertions.

"There's nothing we can do about it," commented Coach Claude E. Thornhill, whose team was beaten 14-13. "The game's been played and the score is on the books."

Say Morris Talked
The Stanford players told me Referee Morris "talked more than he should have," Thornhill said, "but we won't pay any attention to the charge he 'coached' Goddard."

Thornhill said he would like to see pictures of the disputed score.

Herb Dana, conference football commissioner, decided the manner in which the charges were made in stories by San Francisco sports writers enrouted back from the game at Pullman.

"I don't intend to do anything," said Dana, in explaining any official action would have to be based on a Stanford protest.

Dana said it was possible for a referee to be wrong, but that "questioning of a man's honesty is a far different matter than criticizing an official's ability."
