Not Fully Controlled Is Late Report; Breaks Out Again Monday

By near Sitcum on the southern Oregon coast line yesterday, the forester's office reported, but the general situation in Coos county was favorable. The humidity was up to 60, a 16-mile northwest wind was blowing and no fires were spreading. No change in the fire situation at Yachats was reported here.

PORTLAND, Oct. 12.—(P)—With wind, temperature and humidity conditions generally favorable, the fire situation in Oregon was considerably easier tonight.

M. L. Merrill, assistant regional forester, said the Sandy creek blaze in Coos county still was dangerous, and the Big creek fire near Yachats was spreading.

A crew of CCC workers was taken to Silver creek, 16 miles up the Rogue river from Gold Beach, to combat a threatening fire. Haze settled over Klamath Falls. A fire on the outskirts of a Klamath residential district, set by the backfire of an automobile, was extinguished after it moved close to several homes.

The Larch mountain burn near Portland was regarded as a menace in case of unfavorable weather.

In Washington near Darrington, a fire on Mount Baker was under control.

Two new fires were closely watched in Tillamook county. Forestry officials reported today that four fires in Curry county probably were caused by firebugs. A man and woman were questioned Sunday at Port Orford after an apparently incendiary blaze broke out at Carpenterville. Max Gustik, 33, was held in the county jail at Hillsboro in connection with a blaze 30 miles north-east of there.

Lighthouse Will Honor Columbus

Following Trujillo's speech, United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull spoke by radio from Washington.

The United States, a half dozen South American nations, the League of Nations and the Pan-American Union have endorsed plans for the $4,000,000 Columbus memorial, in which it is hoped eventually to house the American discoverer's remains.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 12.—(P)—The Fayette county court sustained tonight the right of Attorney General Charles J. Margott to appoint himself special prosecutor in what he termed the "dark ages" death of 74-year-old Frank C. Monaghan, hotel man.

Chief defense counsel John Duggan announced immediately he would appeal to the state supreme court.

Twelve men prominent in the official or civic life of the community went free today on bonds totaling $100,000 pending their trial January 4 on indictments arising from Monaghan's death.

Wild Horses in Virginia!

Wild ponies in Virginia? Yes, it's true—and they were here before the west ever heard of wild horses or roundups! This band of equines is on Chincoteague Island, just off the Virginia coast. Various theories have been suggested to their origin, but it is generally believed that the ponies are the progeny of the survivors of a wrecked ship which was carrying livestock to the colonies during colonial days.

give him its 26 electoral votes November 3." As Landon stepped to the brilliantly-lighted speaker's stand to a place just below a huge sunflower bearing his picture, the crowd arose and for five minutes cheered, applauded and waved thousands of American flags. "Tonight I want to talk about the most urgent human problems that face the American people at this hour," Landon began. He was interrupted immediately by more applause. He attributed "flagrant mismanagement" and "tragic neglect" to the conduct of relief by the Roosevelt administration. He said the new deal's record in "daring the big department dollars"—protection of "human values"—and assistance of "real recovery"—was a "miserable failure."

Mill Destroyed In Night Blaze

AIRLIE, Oct. 12.—The mill of W. Cootes at Berry creek about three miles from here was completely destroyed by fire Thursday night. The blaze which started in the sawdust bin was found by the night watchman, Clarence Whitaker, but had too much of a start to be controlled by one man. The Corvallis fire department was called and arrived in time to save the planer. The mill carried no insurance. Cootes carried about 30 men on his payroll.

W. R. Lowrie held a public auction sale at his home at which he sold everything. The crowd was fairly large in attendance. The Ladies Aid furnished the lunch at noon. Mrs. Ann Wheeler, Mrs. Laura Keyes and Mrs. Elmo Wheeler spent the weekend at Waldport with the former's daughter, Mrs. George Barclay.

Negro Drawn For N. Carolina Jury

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 12.—(P)—A negro was drawn for jury duty in Mecklenburg county today for the first time since reconstruction days.

Judge J. Will Pless ruled last week that a negro could not be tried because members of his race were barred from the grand jury. There were 625 names of negroes and 10,000 names of white persons in the jury box at the county clerk's office.

Today the county commissioners ordered officials not to throw back any names printed in red ink.

Judge Pless had been told all names written in red ink were returned to the jury box unlisted when they were drawn.

Ex-Running Mate Twits Al Smith

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—(P)—U. S. Sen. Joseph A. Robinson said tonight Alfred E. Smith "has the right to take a walk," but that "all I complain of it once he grows resentful when his old associates refuse to follow or accompany him in his wanderings."

The Arkansas senator, in an address prepared for a democratic rally, said the former New York governor had the right "to take a walk" even though he was "a devious and lead among darkened paths overhung with cypress boughs."

Robinson was Smith's running mate on the national democratic ticket in 1928.

Red Tendency of F. R. Cited Again

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—(P)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin today reiterated his assertion that President Roosevelt has "communistic tendencies" and quoted from the chief executive's message to congress of last January as "proof" of his contention.

The chief executive, he said, told the national legislature the new deal has created governmental powers, which if benevolently administered would be for the public welfare, but which would result in "shackles" for the poor if they should fall into the hands of "political puppets."

At the same time, the Michigan priest again struck out at the Rt. Rev. John A. Ryan of Catholic university who last week criticized his campaign. He said Mr. Ryan has "satisfied himself by not knowing the primary principles of the issuance of money in the United States of America."

Brady Gangsters Still at Liberty

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—(P)—An intensive search on land and from the air near Lafayette today failed tonight to produce any trace of three Brady gangsters who escaped from the Hancock county jail at Greenfield yesterday.

New Diagnosis of Diabetes Claimed

Surer Method Outlined by Dr. Lawrence, Himself Victim of Malady

ST. PAUL, Oct. 12.—(P)—An eminent English surgeon—himself afflicted with the disease—today advanced a new method for diagnosing diabetes, before 1200 delegates to the international medical assembly.

Dr. Robert D. Lawrence of Kings College hospital in London suggested the blood used in examinations be taken from the ear lobe instead of from a vein in the arm.

"This is like catching a sugar train before it reaches a town, instead of catching the train after it returns from the town where the sugar has been unloaded," he said.

He said he believed such a practice would greatly reduce the percentage of doubtful cases.

In making the tests, the patients are given a large dose of sugar. The blood is examined every half hour for two hours.

He said protamine insulin, now in use in many medical centers of the United States, had proved a great relief to patients since its action is more prolonged than ordinary insulin.

Protamine, which is added to insulin, is obtained from the sperm of salmon.

"Swing Time" Due To Open Saturday

Few pictures this season have presented a supporting cast laden with such glittering lights as stud the roster of "Swing Time," the delightful musical, co-starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers at the Elsinore theatre, starting Saturday.

As Astaire's buddy in legerdemain, Victor Moore heads the featured cast. Recruited from the Broadway musical comedy stage on which he appeared in such memorable hits as "My Thing Goes" and "Of Thee I Sing," Moore is mated with Helen Broderick, another footlight comedy ace, in "Swing Time."

Betty Furness, feminine charmer, completes a romantic triangle involving Fred and Ginger, Georges Metaxa, singing star of "Cat and the Fiddle" and "Music in the Air," is Fred's rival for Miss Rogers' favor. Eric Blore, who gained a legion of fans as a result of his splendid laugh-making in previous Astaire-Rogers shows, offers a comic characterization in "Swing Time."

Jerome Kern scored "Swing Time."
