Ministers and Liquor Dealers Join Hands in Useless Attempt to Keep Another Beer Parlor From Opening

SILVERTON, Oct. 20.—Silvertown's ministerial society and the Silvertown retail liquor dealers virtually joined hands in a losing battle at a special meeting of the city council Monday night. The council meeting was called to discuss the recommendation for an additional beer license in the city. The purpose, each for its own reason, of the two organizations was to keep the council from granting the additional recommendation for a license.

Mayor E. W. Garver, who opened the meeting expressed disapproval of the habit of applicants for liquor licenses to approach the councilmen individually before council meetings and obtain their signatures to the application. This practice put the councilmen "on the spot," said the mayor.

This method has been followed at Silvertown for sometime. Mayor Garver also expressed the opinion that Silvertown already had sufficient liquor dispensaries within its boundaries.

Appears for Pastor
Rev. D. Lester Fields, present at the council, reported he was there as a representative of Silvertown's ministerial association of Silvertown, which had met Monday afternoon and passed a resolution "in the interest of maintaining a morally clean and respectable city," and "offered a solemn protest against granting a license for a liquor dispensary on East Main street." The ministerial document was signed by the following pastors: D. Lester Fields, M. J. K. Fuhr, J. M. Jensen, J. A. Pointer, F. W. Zook and C. G. Peterson. The beer retailers' petition was presented by B. Feneide and signed by Frank Joerg, Berger Feneide, A. Heater, C. W. Kelly, George Manolis, G. W. Smalley, Percy E. Byers, W. E. Toney and A. H. Nohlgren. In their petition, these men expressed the opinion that there were already sufficient liquor dispensaries at Silvertown.

Council Nominee Will Be Out Soon

John Porter Expecting to Cast Vote on 3rd at Silvertown

SILVERTON, Oct. 20.—Friends of John H. Porter are promising that he will be sufficiently well to be down town Silvertown on election day and able to cast a vote for himself.

Porter, who is being backed by both the democratic and republican parties for councilman, has been quite ill since October 6 when he submitted to an operation for an infected cartilage. The operation was performed at Portland and Porter drove his car away from the hospital that evening. Mrs. Porter accompanied him. After driving several miles Porter found he was unable to drive farther and hired someone to bring them on to Silvertown.

The attempt to drive the car home brought about a relapse in Porter's condition. However, he is now rapidly improving and is able to sit up a portion of each day.

At the primary election Porter received more votes than any other candidate.

The total estimated receipts were placed at $7,786.57, exclusive of the proposed tax. This leaves the sum of $4,677.43 to be raised by district tax. Members of the school board attending the meeting were O. A. Hall, president, and Frank Cary. J. F. Wesky officiated as clerk. Mrs. Lillian Sims of Scio was the only other taxpayer present at the meeting.

The Scio mill company has moved into its new quarters on Mill and Main streets. The $8000 new home has been under construction for several months.

Clearing Beaver creek of its brush and rubbish in the Elliott lane south of Scio, has made a marked improvement in the premises in which high water during the rain season frequently makes detours necessary.

PORTLAND GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

ELECTRIC BUILDING

PORTLAND, OREGON
October 21, 1936.

To the Voters of Marion County:

Neither the State nor Marion County can go into the business of distributing electric energy without raising large sums for capital investment. To supply transmission lines, distribution lines, transforming equipment and standby service will require the investment of millions of dollars. This will be true whether the existing lines and equipment of private companies are acquired or new lines and equipment are constructed and purchased.

The proposed state measure and the district act provide for the issuance of State and District bonds to enable the State or the District to make such capital investment. There is no other certain means by which the initial capital could be raised to enable the State or District to make these initial investments.

It is urged that revenue certificates secured by the revenues of operation may be sold to raise money for initial plant investment; but, in an experiment of this kind, it is extremely doubtful if any market can be found for the sale of revenue certificates which are only secured by the revenue from a prospective plant which has no record of operation and which will be subject to the waste of political control and management.

The State measure provides that general obligations of the State for such purposes may be issued upon a vote of the people to the extent of 2% of the assessed valuation of the State, or in the amount of $18,000,000.00. The District Act provides that Marion County, as a People's Utility District, may issue, upon a vote of the people, general obligation bonds for said purposes to the extent of 10% of the assessed valuation of the District. In other words, the passage of the two pending measures would subject every piece of property in Marion County to a possible mortgage of 12% of the assessed valuation thereof.

The irrigation districts and the port districts of Oregon are good examples of the honest enthusiasm of the promoters of those municipalities. Today we find that many of the irrigation districts are bankrupt, with bonds defaulted, and both port and irrigation districts are saddled with an indebtedness for the interest and principal of said bonds which can only be paid by direct taxation of the residents of those districts.

Unless we put the brakes on this bond and tax orgy, the answer will be found in the bankruptcy of our municipal communities.

In my letter next week I will discuss municipal ownership.

Very truly yours,
Franklin T. Giffith
President

Paid Adv. by Portland General Electric Co.
