

In the Valley Social Realm

Zena—Mrs. Frank B. Windsor opened her charming country home to the Spring Valley Home Missionary society Wednesday afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Windsor were Mrs. D. R. Rubie of Lincoln and Mrs. John W. Childers of Spring Valley. Mrs. W. D. Henry, president, conducted devotions, and presided at the business session when Mrs. R. C. Shepard, secretary, gave the hostess calendar for the year as arranged by the executive committee. Mrs. W. D. Henry, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. R. C. Shepard and Mrs. W. W. Henry.

The calendar included: October, Mrs. W. D. Henry, Mrs. W. N. Crawford and Mrs. James A. French; November, Mrs. Frank B. Windsor, Mrs. John W. Childers and Mrs. D. R. Rubie; December, Mrs. W. Frank Crawford, Mrs. Milton Stephens and Mrs. Walter B. Hunt; January, Mrs. W. W. Henry, Mrs. Y. L. Gibson and Mrs. Ben McKinney; February, Mrs. W. Pruitt, Mrs. S. D. Crawford and Mrs. I. R. Utterback; March, Mrs. C. M. Purvine, Mrs. J. J. Stratton and Mrs. V. A. Stratton; April, Mrs. Chas. McCarter, Mrs. A. L. Kinton and Mrs. J. Jesse Worthington; May, Mrs. E. C. Shepard, Mrs. T. J. Merrick and Mrs. Hugh Craig; June, Mrs. Jesse Wallins, Mrs. Fred Miller and Mrs. Victor Utterback.

The club voted $5 for furnishings for Westminister house at Corvallis.

Announcement was made that Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Rubie will hold open house for friends on their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, November 15.

Dallas—The Women's Missionary society of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. Del Springsteen Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Virgil McPherson, Mrs. Manley Bevens and Mrs. George Sumpter as assistant hostesses. Mrs. McPherson of group two was in charge of the meeting. High scores were won by Mrs. C. M. Hillman and Mrs. C. H. Ringwald. Present were Mrs. E. C. Mennis, Mrs. H. M. Schubert, Mrs. Stuart Walker, Mrs. A. A. Carper, Mrs. C. M. Hillman, Mrs. George Alder, Mrs. C. H. Ringwald and the hostess.

Oak Grove—The Ladies' Aid, meeting Thursday with Mrs. Darrel Hewitt, heard Mrs. J. Vinton Scott of Sale give an interesting account of her summer journey to Hawaii and the South Sea Islands and the progress of the Christian work there. Plans were made to hold a rummage sale in Salem soon. Special guests were Mrs. D. Frieze of Rickreall and Mrs. C. Gray of Orchard Heights.

North Santiam—The Woman's N.S.N.S. club met at the home of Mrs. Frances McLaughlin, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Lella Brockway, Mrs. Rachel Scofield and Mrs. Nida Reeves are new members.

Pattern

Anne Adams

By ANNE ADAMS
Charming for now and the whole season to come, is Pattern 4159—an easily made, two-piece frock you'll want truly to "live in!" There's real fashion news in its soft, turned-down collar, and raglan sleeves cut wide at the wrists. Anne Adams knows that pleats are "in," so she's placed them cleverly on the blouse, and (surprise of surprise!) on the back of the skirt! There's interest aplenty in Pattern 4159, for its individual blouse boasts a back buttoned closing that's sure to draw admiring comments wherever you go! Make this frock of a colorful fabric, one that takes to hard wear. Why not cotton-tweed, challis, nubby wool, or a novelty crepe?

Pattern 4159 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30. Size 18 takes 2 1/2 yards. 54 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

SILVERTON HILLS, Nov. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Chilton Hadley are moving to the Emma Coberly farm. Mrs. Coberly has moved to Canby where she will make her home with her daughter, Miss Frances Coberly, who is teaching there.

Co-op Formed by High School Boys

Agricultural Students in Salem Gain Experience in Buying, Selling

A group of Salem high school boys have banded together for cooperative buying and selling in connection with rural projects they are carrying out as part of their training in the agricultural classes, according to Ralph L. Morgan, instructor. The cooperative, consisting of the 38 members of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America, already has begun selling poultry products, has purchased five head of registered swine and is preparing to purchase poultry and cattle feed in several-ton lots.

The boys' co-op is headed by James Smart as president, Herman Grimmer as vice-president and Heroshi Keneke as secretary-treasurer. It is divided into six operating departments with student directors as follows:

Poultry, Jack Koch; dairying, Leonard Ryther; swine, Irvin Joeckel; sheep, Millard Orey; crops, Eric Klampe, and fruit, Bill Clark.

While the cooperative is designed primarily to give the boys first hand experience in group buying and selling, it also serves to develop markets for the products they are now raising and to make it possible for them to increase their profits by the savings effected through quality buying of feed, stock and seed, according to Morgan. Established farmers and a local bank are cooperating in making credit available to the cooperative.

Hinshaw to Talk Tonight, Library

National art week opens actively today with interest centering in the showing of the work of Salem artists in the fireproof room at the Salem public library under the auspices of the Salem Arts league and in the exhibit at the Garfield school under the direction of Mrs. Ida M. Andrews.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the fireplace room will be the talk on "The Arts of Modern Art" by Professor Bernard Hinshaw. This is open to the public. As national art week is designed to point with pride to the work of local artists, and to stimulate interest in art generally, all exhibits are open to the public.

"You have my sympathy but I don't know where the money is coming from," Governor Martin told a group of prominent men and women who appeared before the state board of control Monday and urged construction of a new state tuberculosis hospital in Portland.

The proposed hospital would cost approximately $300,000 and provide 150 beds.

The group was headed by Mrs. Sadie Ott Dunbar who declared that a third tuberculosis hospital was necessary to meet the future demands of the state.

Others who spoke in favor of the new hospital were Dr. Richard E. Dillehunt, dean of the University of Oregon medical school; C. C. Chapman, publisher of the Oregon Voter; Walter W. R. May, Portland chamber of commerce; Marshall N. Dana, Portland newspaperman, and Dr. Grover C. Bellinger, superintendent of the Western Oregon State Tuberculosis hospital.

The board received a resolution from Dr. J. M. Odell, superintendent of the Eastern Oregon Tuberculosis hospital, urging enlargement of that institution.

Decision on Place Of Session Looms

Definite decision as to where the 1937 legislative session will be held will be announced within the next two or three weeks, Secretary of State Snell indicated Monday.

It is probable, Snell said, that the senate will be assigned to the Marion hotel and the house of representatives to the state armory. This would be the same setup as used at the last special legislative session.

Attempts to obtain larger quarters for the senate have been futile, Snell said.

Officials declared that the new capitol building would be completed for the 1939 legislative session.

There was some dissatisfaction over the senate accommodations at the last special session due to alleged lack of space and insufficient committee rooms.

Status of Indian School Described

Needs of Institution Are Told by Jackson at Forum Luncheon

Continuance of the Salem Indian school at Chemawa seems assured at present but it will pay Salem people who are interested in its welfare to make their interest an active one, Paul T. Jackson, superintendent, told Salem chamber of commerce members at their luncheon Monday.

With 50 buildings, extensive equipment and around 50 employees, the school could easily accommodate 600 pupils instead of the 300 now enrolled, with little additional expense, Jackson said, but an order to increase the enrollment to 400 this year was rescinded at Washington. There are many Indian boys and girls who would be benefited by an industrial education such as the school at Chemawa now provides, living at a distance from any high school, who cannot be admitted because of the limit now placed on enrollment, the speaker pointed out.

Teaching Trades

Finding that the Indian has a native manual skill, the government is now providing education in various trades to Indian youth, unhampered by traditional curricular requirements of the other high schools, although academic work is also offered, Mr. Jackson said. A new feature of the work is a follow-up survey to determine how the graduates are benefiting from their training.

Funds provided by the government are inadequate and buildings at the Indian school are badly in need of repair, the superintendent said, but hopes are held that WPA projects for road building and other improvements will be approved.

The program included a concrete demonstration of the Indians' ability to benefit by musical training. The school orchestra, directed by Mr. and Mrs. Ruthyn Turner, played several numbers and vocal solos were presented by Francis Thomas and Henry St. John. Several girl pupils were guests at the luncheon and were introduced.

139th New House In Salem Started

The 139th house building permit here this year was issued yesterday to Dr. W. W. Baum. It also was the 19th this month.

The Baum house will be built at 1816 North 19th street at cost of $3,500. Other permits yesterday included:

F. N. Derby, repair warehouse at 521 Trade street, $100; William G. McClure, erect shed at 1415 South 12th, $50; J. D. Burroughs, alter house at 780 South 25th, $115.

Royal Arch Will Note Anniversary

Multnomah chapter No. 1, the oldest Royal Arch Masons unit in the northwest, will celebrate its 80th anniversary with a special program in the Masonic temple Friday night, according to Rex Davis, chairman on arrangements. O. W. Emmons, high priest of the local chapter, will preside.

At least two grand officers are expected to attend, Davis said. They are Ernest P. Rand, grand high priest of Oregon City, and D. Rufus Chesey, grand recorder of Portland. Invitations have been sent to members of Independence, Dallas, Woodburn and other nearby chapters to attend.

The national organization granted a charter to Multnomah chapter at its annual meeting at Hartford, Conn., in 1856. The charter was formally presented here early in 1857.

JIM MILLS WAS THERE!

PUT your finger on any spot on the globe, and the chances are pretty good that The A.P.'s Jim Mills has been there, covering a story for The Associated Press.

Jim Mills is a veteran of The Associated Press Foreign Service—Moscow to Addis Ababa, London to Bombay, Berlin to Shanghai—the world has been his beat. The golden names, the brass hats, the humble people and the proud—Jim Mills has known them all, in peace and in terror. Crowned heads and premiers have confided state secrets to him, and that humblest of men, Mahatma Gandhi, trusts him as a friend.

Wherever big news breaks, there you may find Jim Mills, gentle in manner, quiet spoken, but patiently and endlessly inquisitive.

Jim Mills never wrote a book, he never made a lecture tour, never was a radio star, never did anything to make a big and glamorous name for Jim Mills. He just asks questions because he wants to know and write the answers.

That is why James A. Mills, of The Associated Press Foreign Service, is one of the world's greatest reporters.
