Seek to Quash Aldrich Action

Moody Says Governor Has Authority to Commute Prisoner to Jail

A brief supporting the state habeas corpus application of William H. Aldrich was filed in circuit court yesterday afternoon. The argument was signed by I. H. Van Winkle, attorney general, and Ralph E. Moody, assistant.

The application was based on grounds that the governor had no authority to commute the sentence of prisoners in the state penitentiary to the county jail, in his brief, Moody cites the Oregon constitution and gives cases from other states to support his contention that the executive has no such authority. Aldrich was one of seven prisoners returned to the county jail under commutation of sentence.

Dawn of Pacific Age Is Heralded

Dean Dubach Tells of His Impressions on Tour Through Orient

Dean U. G. Dubach of Corvallis hailed the coming of the Pacific age in describing his tour of the Orient last summer, at a meeting of the Salem Rotary club Wednesday. With Europe seemingly preparing for an explosion, and through new means of travel and communication, the nations of the far east are emerging.

The first impression he obtained was the driving spirit of nationalism. Each country seeks to be self-sufficient even by artificial processes. The Orient seems to be "getting ready for a first-class fight." Dubach said he was "amazed" at what he saw at Pearl Harbor, the American base in Hawaii; and Great Britain is developing a vast base at Singapore.

The power most feared is Japan and that fear extends down to Australia. Japan, with a dense population, growing at the rate of a million a year, felt forced to expand or industrialize and lacked raw materials for industry. So Japan has made inroads in Manchuria and China.

China, on the other hand, long the great pacifist nation, is preparing for clash with Japan. Under the leadership of the president Chiang kai Shek, China is endeavoring to rise up as a modern nation and defend its right to exist. The president is encouraging China and consolidating it.

Dean Dubach expressed the opinion that "unless we can introduce some of the Christian religion, the whole world is gone."

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation Out

Governor Martin, in accordance with the recent proclamation of President Roosevelt, has proclaimed Thursday, November 26, as Thanksgiving day.

"We in Oregon have much to be thankful for, and since this state has benefitted from the general economic recovery that has come to the nation," Governor Martin said.

"It is, therefore, fitting and proper that we should give thanks for the blessings we have received and that the day should be set aside for reverent tribute to the almighty who has made this possible.

"In testimony whereof, I, Charles H. Martin, governor of the state of Oregon, have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the said state to be affixed at Salem, this 18th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty six."

Teacher Training Standard to Rise

The amount of training for a certificate to teach in the elementary schools of Oregon is due for an advance on January 1, 1937, in line with legislation enacted at the 125 session of the legislature, according to a statement issued by State Superintendent C. A. Howard. The statement follows: "Graduates of standard two-year courses at Oregon normals who wish to secure certificates on the basis of such graduation, but who have not yet done so, will be required by law to meet the advanced qualifications.

Under the regulations of the state department of education, the holder of a one-year certificate based on standard normal school graduation who fails to teach long enough during the life of such certificate to be eligible for a five-year certificate, can secure another one-year certificate at such time as he may wish to apply for it.

North Bend Sign May Stay, Hinted

The state highway commission is not expected to take any immediate action toward removing North Bend's welcome sign recently placed over a state highway inside the city limits, it was indicated Tuesday.

Officials were reluctant to discuss the sign but intimated that action would be deferred until the legislature meets next January.

It previously was announced that the sign would have to be removed.

Textbooks Are Selected Here

Commission Ends Session; Volumes Slightly Less Costly, Announced

New textbooks for the Oregon schools for the six year period beginning July 1, 1927, were adopted by the state textbook commission in a meeting which ended late Wednesday.

The commission, of which Mrs. Mary Tulkerson of Salem, is chairman, was in session here for several days. Charles A. Howard, state superintendent of schools, assisted in the adoption. He said the prices for the new adoptions were slightly lower than those for the books now in use.

Howard made it plain that under the plan now in operation school districts are not required to discard good, usable textbooks they now own, and purchase new ones. In most cases, the new textbooks will be purchased when the old ones need replacement.

Language shows for elementary grades follow:

Hatfield, Lewis and others, English activities as the basal text for grades 3, 4, 5 and 6 (American Book company, 1936).

Phone Employees To Meet Tonight

25th Anniversary Will Be Observed by Pioneers; Broadcast Slated

In commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the Telephone Pioneers of America, Salem, Dallas and Woodburn telephone employees, their families and friends, will gather tonight at the telephone building to hear a special telephone broadcast from New York city.

Speakers will be Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, and Chester I. Barnard, national president of the Telephone Pioneers and president of the New Jersey Bell Telephone company. The program also will include the re-enactment by the "March of Time" cast of some of the outstanding events in telephone history.

The broadcast will be one of the most unique in the history of telephony, as some 176 groups similar to the local group, listening in various parts of the United States and Canada. These 176 groups will include 50 chapters of the Telephone Pioneers of Oregon chapter holding its meeting at the Multnomah hotel in Portland.

Oregon has 300 members in the Portland organization, all of whom must have 21 or more years of telephone service.

In charge of the gathering tonight will be Laura A. Yantis, local telephone pioneer. It is expected that 75 people will be present.

Junior Debaters Beat Sophomores

A team of sophomore debaters who answered a last minute call to represent their class proved unable to cope with the more seasoned arguments of the Junior negative team in the third of the interclass series at Salem high school yesterday. The sophomore affirmative team went down 3 to 0.

The winning team consisted of Virginia Martin and William Cray, the losing one of Jean Dennison and Alameda. Alan Smith presided.

Today's debate will be between the sophomore negative and the Junior affirmative.
