ence of communist demands that France send arms to Spain. The government will state its life on its Spanish neutrality stand, informed sources said, and will resign unless all units of the "popular front government" approve the non-intervention policy.

GENEVA, Nov. 30.—(AP)—League of Nations officials charged today Germany was trading in arms and munitions of war in violation of the Treaty of Versailles. Germany sold munitions worth 20,340,000 reichsmarks ($4,136,000) in 1935, the league reported, and bought arms of war to the value of 215,000 reichsmarks ($43,000). The Treaty of Versailles that ended the world war prohibited Germany from exporting and importing arms as war material. (Practically all the major provisions of the Treaty of Versailles, except for the rearrangement of European boundaries, have been considered by Germany to be void.)

League officials, listing the total known world trade in armaments as $490,000,000, pointed to Germany's report to the 1935 edition of the "statistical year book on the trade in arms and ammunition" as evidence to support their charge.

Arms exports to the United States, the year book published today showed, were $5,630,100 as compared with $6,240,700 for 1934. Principal purchasers of munitions from the United States were listed as China and Bolivia. Germany's great customer in arms for 1935, according to the league, was Great Britain with purchases amounting to 1,089,000 reichsmarks ($435,000).

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Fire fighting crews were reinforced by half a dozen Oregon and southwestern Washington today as the red menace was checked with the aid of fog and cold weather.

As long as the brisk east wind of the last few days remains dormant, forestry officials said the immediate danger was past.

Tentative estimates said 20,000 acres had been burned over in Washington and 15,000 in Oregon. Much of the land covered was scrub and second growth.

While all fires were under control, foresters said the threat would not be definitely removed until a general rain.

Marine Unions Seek Support

Political Action Looms, Forecast in Talk to Seattle Workers

dent of the coast district International Longshoremen's association, and Harry Lundberg, secretary-treasurer of the sailors' union, both striking organizations, went to Seattle.

They planned to address meetings of the various maritime unions, representing 37,000 workers who struck at midnight October 29, and discuss aims and progress of the walkout.

Bridges, as president of the L.L.A. local, was a leader in the bitter 1934 coast maritime walkout, which cost a dozen lives in riotous during its 43-day run. Other strike leaders were reported planning a trip to San Pedro to address similar meetings.

While no union officials would comment, observers felt the sudden round of speech-making might be a prelude to mass demonstrations on behalf of the striking unions.

Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady delayed until tomorrow departure for Portland where he will view strike conditions at the request of Mayor Joseph K. Carson.

Governor Disdains Brass Perpetuity

With Governor Martin taking the lead in the interest of economy, the state board of control at its meeting Monday upset the time-honored custom of installing plaques containing the board members' names in new state buildings.

"Let's save this money," Governor Martin said. Secretary of State Small and State Treasurer Holman agreed.

During previous administrations it was customary to place these plaques on all new buildings erected at state institutions. The board authorized the purchase of 15 new automobiles for the state police department and one each for the state corporation commission and the state agricultural department.

The board authorized Gilbert E. Gable, Port Orford, to appear later and explain Bandon's proposed rehabilitation program. Gable previously requested that the board of control act in an advisory capacity in carrying out the rehabilitation program.

Gable wrote the board that a charter amendment would be submitted to the voters of Bandon at the next election providing against the issuance of any warrants which could not be paid off within one year.

Holiday Trip Results In Loss of Automobile Parts For Kellerhalls

WALDO HILLS, Nov. 30.—E. Kellerhalls, Jr., had a rather unpleasant holiday experience. He motored to Salem to get his sister, Della, who is employed at the Otto Johnson store. While waiting for her he stopped at the home of another sister in Salem. When ready to leave he found his car gone. It was found within a half hour but everything removable was gone as battery, tires.

A younger girl in the family, Clara, is very ill at her home here and the case is proving a puzzle to the doctors and plans are being made to take her to a specialist.

Get-Together Is Planned For Aid

DALLAS, Nov. 30.—The regular monthly meeting of the general Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist church was held Friday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. W. R. Miller, president, presided at the business meeting.

Reports of the month's work were given by each of the chairmen of the various circles. It was announced that $51 was cleared on the chicken-pie dinner given recently.

The Aid voted to send $10 to the board of deaconesses and hospitals of the Methodist church. The annual bazaar held by the women will not be given this year, but instead each is to give a dollar for this purpose. It was planned to have a "get-together" on the third Friday in December at which time each member will bring her dollar, and each circle will be responsible for one feature on the program that day.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a delightful tea hour was held and those members whose birthdays came in the last three months were honored. They were Mrs. Cecil Riggs, Mrs. J. B. Edos, Mrs. John McPherson, Mrs. Katherine Knapp and Mrs. Hoosier. The hostesses were
