Boston Wool

BOSTON, Dec. 7—(AP)—(USDA)— Domestic weels were mostly quiet in the Boston market today, but quotations were unchanged from last week.

In view of the limited supply of many lines of domestic wools immediately available, holders were not inclined to consider offers that were below recent selling prices. Prices at opening sales of this week in Australia were apparently about the same as last week. According to

Grains Climb Stocks Make On Corn Jump

From Argentine Also Is Stimulator

CHICAGO, Dec. 7-(AP)-A burst of strength in all grain slate today, with buying general, resulted largely from 2 cents jump of 1.09 % maximum, Widespread severe cold weather, which is expected to increase feeding demands sharply, and which appeared to have brought about dearth of to-arrive offerings of corn, was to a great extend responsible for sudden waves of speculative orders to purchase. On the consequent upsweep of values, oats, rye and soy beans all rose to new high price records for the sea-

Another late simulating factor was an authoritative unofficial estimete putting Argentina's wheat yield at but 215,000,000 bushels, against recent forecasts of 261, 000,000 bushels. A wet harvest in Argentina was indicated.

Corn closed strong at nearly the day's top level, %-1% above Saturday's finish, Dec. 1.09-1.09%, May new 1.04-%, July new 99 % - %; wheat %-1 % up, Dec. 1.25 %, May 1.21 %-1.22, July 1.08 % - 1/2; oats %-1 cent advance, May 47 %, and rye showing 1 % -2 1/4 bulge, May 97 1/4. Provisions results were unchanged to 25 cents higher.

Many stop-loss orders in corn were forced into execution by the abrupt rise of the market. These orders apparently came from pre vious speculative sellers who had misjudged the course of prices. Considerable significance was attached to the fact that deliveries today on Chicago December contracts totaled but 5000 bushels, and special notice wa staken of news that Argentine corn is getting out of condition on vessels delayed in unloading at Pacific coast ports.

Helping to strengthen wheat prices were cables saying Italy's harvest is far smaller than hitherto reckoned.

Drop in Estimate of Wheat Day of See-Saw on Market Ends With Specials Only Climbers

NEW YORK, Dec. 7-(AP)-Stock market leaders loitered on the losing side today and only a hand-December corn contracts too ful of specialties emerged with moderate gains.

The see-saw proceedings were characterized by the slowest dealings for a full day since Nov. 2. Transfers totaled 1.678.030 shares against 2.149,960 last Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues yielded .3 of a point at 70.1. There was still no scarcity of neouraging industrial news, but brokers felt much of this may have been discounted. With dividends dwindling, traders generally were said to be edging toward safety side-lines pending signs of what will happen in the business field in the early part of nex fyear. Foreign Jumpiness Affects Nervousness of London and Par-securities markets, it was thought, also may have engendered a little more wariness among speculative and investment forces. Supreme court decisions were ead eagerly, but these appeared to be about a stand-off from a market point of view. The steels merely blinked at the official estimate of this week's mill operations which were placed at the highest rate since May, 1930. A retarding influence may have been the action of the national labor relations board in filing charges against U. S. Steel and its principal subsidiary, Carnegie-Illinois, of interfering in employe unionization movements. Low Prices Monopolize

Veteran market followers were not so favorably impressed with the large number of low-priced issues that monopolized the ticker tape, most at rising quotations. Of the 20 liveliest performers, 12 sold at less than $10 a share.

Small Gains Better Land Use Is AAA Plan Aim

Rate of Payments Probably Higher Than Year Ago, Report

The 1937 agricultural adjust ment program will place added emphasis on permanent rather than temporary soil conserving uses of the land and will pay at higher rates for such types of soil uses as establishment of perennial grasses and legumes.

This much advance information on the nature of the new program was given by Dr. E. J. Bell assistant to the director of the western region of the AAA, in an address at the eastern Oregon wheat league annual convention in Heppner last week. Dr. Bell came to the meeting directly from Washington where conferences on details of the new program have been in progress for several weeks.

"The program under the soil conservation and domestic allotment act has as its objectives more than merely control of soil washing and soil blowing," said Dr. Bell, "The program embodies the economic use of the land, sound farming practice, and restoration of the income of farm-
