Refusal of ICC to Grant Extension of Emergency Rates Is Cause

NEW YORK, Dec. 19-(AP)-Touched off by an adverse interstate commerce commission ruling, heavy selling in rails today knocked the pins from under the stock market with resultant losses 1 to 4 or more points.

The list displayed selective rallying tendencies in early dealings, although it was unable to get a sure foothold on recovery at any time. A relapse in the final hour followed announcement the emergency freight rates which expire at the end of 1936.

Recent favorites were offered in such volume that just before the close the ticker tape fell about 7 minutes behind floor dealings. The total turnover, however, of 1.214.520 shares was slightly under last Saturday's aggregate. A. P. Average Drops

The Associated Press average of 60 issues suffered a net decline of .9 of a point at 68.x, the sharpest drop in nearly a month. For the week the composite was down 1.8 points, the most substantial recession since the week of August 22

Coppers, in supply recently were exceptions to the general downturn, apparently making a belated response to mounting prices for the red metal, Export copper was given another lift to a new 6-year high. Up fractions to a point or so

Department of Agriculture Claims Nine Billion Farmer Income

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.-(AP)-Higher prices for farm crops were said by the department of agriculture to have more than offset drought damage this year.

The crop reporting board said the nation's farmers would realize $9,530,000 gross income from 1936 operations, compared with $8,508,000 from 1935 and 8:30—Exercise and Applesauce.

Hops Keep Steady

Pacific coast hop markets were Cascars bark, ib.

easonally quiet during the week ended December 16, but maintained a steady tone, according to the weekly hop market review of the bureau of agricultural economics. Continued lack of selling pressure from growers tended to offset the slow demand from domestic buyers who appeared reluctant to make new commitments till after inventory time the first of the year. Trading in spot hops in the three coast states was limited to around 208 bales in Oregon markets, with no sales reported in California and Washington, during the past seven days. The comparatively light remaining supplies of 1936 crop hops remaining in growers hands was a sustaining market influence. Trade reports indicate that only around 19,000 bales of 1936 hops remained in strictly growers hands in the three coast states at the middle of December, as compared with around 50,000 bales of 1935 hops in that position a year ago.

Oregon markets remained steady during the past week although seasonally quiet. The only activity reported in the three states during the period consisted of the sales of several small lots of 1936 clusters by Oregon growers totaling 208 bales of which 165 bales netted 40c and 43 bales brought 38c per pound. Demand was slow.

Western Growers Receive Final Settlement Under Co-op

Just in time for Christmas, Pacific Wool Growers members in Western and Southern Oregon and Western Washington are this week receiving final settlement statements and checks on farm flock wools shipped to the association during the late spring and summer. These growers received from 20 cents to 22 cents as cash advances at the time of delivery and are receiving the balance at this time In the settlement of this pool, medium combing wools brought members of the cooperative 37 1/4 cents per pound in Portland The producers of combing wools of all grades, from fine to coarse, are netting 35% cents The producers of clothing wools, from fine to coarse inclusive, are netting 33 1-3 cents Fifty-nine per cent of the pool is medium wool and is nettting nearly 35 cents at Portland

Coop Marketing Landed

"The association's pool prices this year again show conclusively that the grower of good wool receives more for his clip when market cooperatively though the association than when disposed of in any othe way," says R. A. Ward, general manager. "A check of government figures, and data gathered by our association on the sale of some 537,000 pounds of similar wool from this territory to dealers by growers who were not members of the association nidicates that the average outside price for western Oregon and western Washington wools was slightly over 30 %c per pound. We estimate that if all the wool in these two sections had been marketed through the association this year it would have brought non-member producers $100,000.00 more than they received."

This pool just closed contained some 350,000 pounds of wool and is only one of several graded pools and a large number of range clips handled by the Pacific Wool Growers totalling nearly 4,000,000 pounds.

Security Tumbles Lower Wheat Rate

Reverses Upturn Following News of Breadstuff Shortage, Germany

CHICAGO, Dec. 19-(AP)-Disconcerting effects of tumbles of securities brought about lower wheat prices today after brisk upturns resulting from news about approaching exhaustion of Germany's breadstuff supplies.

Closing quotations on Chicago wheat futures were %-1 1/2 cents under yesterday's finish, Dec. 1.38 ½-%, May 1.32 ¼-½, July 1.17 %-1.18; corn unchanged to % higher, Dec. 1.08 %-1.09, May new 1.04 %-%, July new 1.01 %-%; oats unchanged to ¼ off, May 50 %-51, and rye 1 ¼-1 % down, May 1.11%-1.12. Provisions results varied from 20 cents decline to an advance of two cents. Chicago May wheat reached a top price today at $1.33%, up two cents from the day's bottom, and closed at $1.32 1/4 - 1/2. Corn and oats were less affected by stock market weakness than was the case regarding wheat and

rye. Traders short of December delivery of corn were active buy-For the most part, provisions prices held about unchanged.

Midwest Call For Oregon Hay Small

Although much effort was made to obtain a preferential railroad rate for Oregon hay to the drought areas in the middle west, to date there has been little demand for the hay, Claude McKenney, buyer, said yesterday. Some hay is moving into Tillamook at $12 and $13

The drought area market has been held down by the fact that hay has been shipped into the Tone; Few Sales stricken area from Wisconsin at around $15 a ton. The $8.80 freight rate precludes Oregon farmers from competing with this hay. The maritine strike is also reported to have affected the hay market adversely. There is said to be a large amount of hay in the Willamette valley available for

Dairymen's Meet Is January 19-20 At State College

The 44th annual meeting of the Oregon Dairymen's association will be held on the Oregon State colege campus January 19 and 20, announces George H. Fullenwider, Carlton, president. This is the first time in many years that this general dairy organization has met in Corvallis. While the detailed program has not been worked out, it is to be built around late developments in control of animal diseases, feeding methods, and marketing. The meeting will be held while the legislature is in session, and it is quie likely that proposed changes in farm laws will be considered, says Fullenwider, Arrangements are being made to bring a promi-nent eastern dairy leader to the convention.

but Oregon producers were not pressing their remaining supplies on the market. Only 12,600 bales of 1936 hops were held by Oregon growers at the middle of December. There were no relevant of the supplies of 1935 crop, and 15c to

Gardeners' and Ranchers' Mart

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 19.-(AP)
-Trading on the gardeners' and ranchers' market continued quiet as the week drew to a close. Dealers anticipate an improved demand the coming week when consumer buying takes place for the holiday season. In most in-stances prices held steady under moderate receipts this morning. Slight advances took place in the Florida grapefruit market new top of $4 per box. Track holdings of lettuce were reduced to a more favorable basis than has been the case for some days. As a result the market held firm.

with preferable sizes bringing a

Although a two and one-fourth million bushel reduction in the potato estimate was made, the new figures had little effect on that market. Local prices were unchanged and shipping points were also steady. In Idaho the general range on number one quality was $1.75 to $1.90. Yakima points were firm and some growers held for higher prices.
