"King Carl" Hubbell Awarded Earned Run Count for Third Time

Dizzy Dean Is Next, Royalty

Chicago Cubs Conceded Best for All-Round Pitching Staff -

NEW YURK, Dec. 25 .- (AP)-Meet the National feague's "royal family" of pitching for 1936: "King Carl" Hubbell and "Crown Prince" Dizzy Dean.

Between them they held just about all the important hurling crowns there were last seasonthe Giants' lean left handed with a winning earned run average, and the Cardinals' "great one" with his heroic but futile efforts to pitch the gas house gang to the pennant almost single-handed. Brilliance Not Shown

But aside from those two, neither the championship New York Giants nor the dangerous Cards offered anything in the way of hurling brilliance, according to the official averages released today. As a result, honors for being the best-rounded pitching staff in the league went again to the Chicago Cubs' throwing

For the third time in his career, Hubbell won the annual pitching prize-the lowest earned run average. He finished up with a record of only 2.41 runs earned off his delivery per nineinning game. In addition, he became the seventh pitcher since 1912 to top the loop in both earned run average and won and lost percentage by posting 28 victories against six defeats.

Dean was the "workhorse champion" of the loop. Settling an argument that has been going the rounds since the campaign closed, the official averages showed old Diz saw more duty than any other pitcher. He served in 315 innings, 51 games, and came up with an earned run average of 3.171, not far off Hubbell's pace. By pitching 23 complete games, he also finished what he started more often than any other hurler in the league.

Mungo Among Leaders With these two throwers dividing most of the spoils, there wasn't much for the others. However, the records show the list of leaders included such as Brooklyn's Van Mungo, with 238 strikeouts; Pittsburgh's Red Lucas allowing the fewest hits, 178, and the fewest bases on balls, 26 although he worked in only 176 innings; Big Jim Weaver, also of the Pirates, with only one hit batsman for the season, and Lucas and the Cubs' Larry French heaving only one wild pitch each

200 Students Get Free Grid Ducats

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 25-(AP)-Free tickets for the Orange Bowl game to be played here New Year's day went to 200 high school students today but other activity for the clash between Mississippi State college and Duquesne university took place elsewhere.

The management of a greyhound track distributed the tickets as Christmas presents to the first 200 students who called for Game preparations centered in Pittsburgh and in State College, Miss., home of the bowl rivals. "Red Raiders" of Duquesne are expected to arrive Tuesday, and Mississippi State's squad is scheduled to leave State College the same day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 25 .- (AP) Christmas was just another work day for some of the greatest football stars of the country, the husky lads who will battle here New Year's day in the annual east-west charity game. No Chances Taken

One workout, instead of the customary morning and afternoon drills, rounded out the Christmas program. Each side chalked up brisk sessions, however. The east team scrimmaged for an hour. But scrimmage formed no part of the west's practice. The western coaches, Orin Hollingberry and Percy Locey, decided to take no more chances following yesterday's injury to Floyd Terry. The rangy end from Washington State college came out of a pile-up with a broken right forearm.

As a result of the accident, 'Red" Elder, backfield ace from Kansas State, and Del Bjork, University of Oregon tackle last season, were drafted for double duty. In addition to their regular positions they began learning the routine peculiar to a flank man. Bjork Good Receiver

Coach Hollingberry predicted both players would capably handle end duties if necessary. He said the 210 pound, 6 feet 2 inch Bjork gave evidence of being an outstanding pass receiver.

Random thoughts of a sport writer on the day after Christmas eve when all through the house not a creature was stirring, not even a spoon: Fancy the disappointment of a man who sent money to a friend in Los Angeles for purchase of Rose Bowl tickets and then after several weeks received a letter from the friend informing him that the duty had been put off and neglected until there were no more tickets and advising him to try and pick some up in Seattle or Portland.

Consider the plight of Otto Skopil, who in the dressing room before Salem high's game with the alumni was jestingly asked why he wasn't playing with the alumni. Should the laugh be sad or remorseful?

And Howard Maple, who rolled his roly-poly self into town the day before Christmas and was lacking only a white beard and a red suit, says that his first-string Oregon State Rooks will all be over six feet. Conditioned, of course, on the hope that they all stay eligible. Remember Corvallis high's state champions? Howard has three of the regulars. That includes Roy Pflugrad, in our mind just as good a prep basketeer as they come.

'Twas the night before Christmas and Tommy Drynan discovered that a local photography shop had on display a photo of his first young son. So he stood and captured passers-by to take a view. And had reason to be

And thinking that this King Ketchell who will fight Frank Riggi on New Year's day must be from the stable of Bud Davies, sarcastically called "The Silent One" by the newspapers of Vancouver, And thinking that he must be one of the heavyweights whom Davies told us he had who was better than Danny Pahl. Remembering that Danny Pahl and not Danny Paul. . . He has Teutonic blood in him. . . Like Schmeling.

Then mulling over that Harold Hauk, with the secret society oustings, has plenty of handicaps in making a basketball team but that the boys who beat the alumni 35 to 30 look as though they will be a good club. Thinking that they have plenty of fight and that they play a better team game than last year's Vikings.

Thinking that a secret society would be a great thing if it were really secret and then remembering that there is no fun in belonging to a really secret society. If a secret society were really secret, one could not have the prestige of belonging to a secret society.

American Umps Get Pay Boost

Santa Claus Delivers '37 Contracts; to Train At Camps Again

CHICAGO, Dec. 25-(AP)-W11liam Harridge, president of the American league, showed his staff of 12 umpires today there really is a Santa Claus. Each and every one of them received a special delivery letter containing contracts for 1937, and to their surprise, a substantial increase in salary. President Harridge declined to reveal the amount of the salary boosts. He considered this personal, but said with his famous smile: "I think each and every one of them will be satisfied. Boost Exceeds Cut "During the depression we had to retrench a little and I asked our umpires to go along with us. They did so cheerfully, and not only to restore their former salaries, but to boost them. "After all, they are a fine bunch of fellows, and have a thankless job. They are no good when they are right, and no good when they are wrong-this is, to the baseball public."

I am extremely happy to be able

To Train Again President Harridge said the entire staff will again train with the major league clubs during practice next spring. He was highly pleased over the move inaugurated a year ago. Having the umpires officiate at games in the south and on the Pacific coast, President Harridge said. enabled them to get into splendid physical condition for the start of the season, and sharpened up their eyes on calling balls and strikes.
