Hoke Discusses Farm Problems

Production Control Is Due In Some Form, State F. B. Head Says

The day of the individual is past, and the sooner the American farmer recognizes it the sooner agriculture will be able to attain security and equality in his field, Mac Hoke of Pendleton, president of the Oregon State Farm bureau federation, told members of the Salem unit of that organization at a meeting at the Salem unit of that organization at a meeting at the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon.

W. R. Ogg, national secretary of the Farm federation, who was slated to address the meeting yesterday, was not present as he was recalled to Washington, D. C., Tuesday night after attending the first state convention of the Oregon Farm bureau, held in Portland Monday and Tuesday.

Control Essential

Hoke declared control of production is essential in the farmers' move to place agriculture on the same plane as labor and industry, and declared production control will come, whether by quality production, taking out acreage or by contract method, such as the AAA.

Hoke told of the recent national Farm Bureau convention at Pasadena, and declared the Farm Bureau is the greatest power in farm legislation and American agriculture today. He urged, however, that farmers boost all farm organizations.

Support Milk Control

The state president outlined the program adopted at the state convention, and said the state group went on record as supporting the milk control act and also favoring appointment of a committee to study taxation.

The state secretary, "Bob" Duncan of Eugene, and a national organizer, Otto Schulz, also spoke. Ray Glatt of Woodburn presided at the meeting. Frank Needham is secretary of the local unit.

Street Official Belatedly Named

That the city of Salem survived the last two weeks without the services, officially, of a street commissioner, was announced by Alderman W. H. Dancy at Monday night's council meeting. Accepting the report of Dancy that it had neglected at the annual meeting to name a street commissioner, the council followed custom by electing City Engineer Hugh Rogers to the payless job.

Alderman E. B. Perrine, contending the engineer "has enough to do," attempted to nominate J. H. Davis, deputy engineer, but was advised that an ordinance would have to be amended to permit electing anyone other than the chief engineer to the street commissionership.

Credit Breakfast Club Has Round Table Meet

An educational program featuring a round table discussion of credit problems was held by the Salem Credit Women's Breakfast club at its regular meeting Tuesday morning at the Quelle.

A report on credit risks was presented also by Virginia Jenks and a special entertainment feature was a pantomime by Martha Jane Hottel, Willmette university student. The credit women's club meets the first and third Tuesday mornings at 7 o'clock at the Quelle.

Logan Control Board Authorizes Contract Rider Protecting Buyer Against Drop in Price of Berries

Buying of loganberries is expected to open here shortly, following action of the Oregon Loganberry Control Board, Inc., yesterday, in approving a rider for sales contracts which will permit buyers to make contracts now and at the same time protect buyers in event the minimum price set by the control board is reduced later in the season.

The rider, copies of which were mailed to all buyers last night, provides that in event the control board minimum price is held throughout the season, the average price per ton received by the grower members of the control board for like size, grade and quality of berries will be the price to be received under the contract. Term contracts may also be drawn with the rider attached.

The control board, in session at the chamber of commerce, also discussed price informally, but deferred setting figures on the new crop until a conference may be held with canners after they return late this month or early next from the national canners' convention. Members said the price would be set early this season.

Grades were also discussed, and some changes in grade are probable, but final action was held up pending outcome of meetings at which the governor's fruit committe's reports will be considered.

Members of the board reported that damage, if any, done to the crop by the severe weather is still undetermined.

"Love's Litany"

third tooth, learned to say "bye-bye" and "Donny" plain as plain; he had his first birthday party, with one pink candle in the cake and ice cream for Walt and Sister Woods and even a taste for Donny himself. Somebody gave Donald tickets for the symphony; the Whiteys had a dinner party and the guest of honor, a certain famous Dr. Schumann, simply monopolized Donald, he was so interested in the latest experiment.

For the second time she made over the summer things from her trousseau. For the second time she transplanted spring seedlings, into the summer garden.

Only part of her brain worried. Another part was filled with bubbling happiness because Donny had not caught the Lewis girl's measles, and the little gray cat's kittens turned out to be all toms, so much easier to give away.

She sang as she cut yellow snapdragons, and thick stalked white stock for the brass bowl she kept on the living room table, thinking how lucky she'd been with her flowers this spring.

She sang an old song that Dad used to sing:

"Oh, I danced with a girl
"With a hole in her stockin'—
"Hole in her stockin'—hole in her stockin'—
"Oh, I danced with a girl
"With a hole in her stockin'—
"The prettiest girl at the ball!"

Only Dad, bless his heart, always said "purtiest," instead of prettiest.

She smiled to herself, thinking of the way he used to look, sitting out on the porch of the old house, all by himself, singing the rollicking rowdy tune for all he was worth.

Plans for Alarm System Asked For

Specifications for the stop-and-go traffic signals proposed for use in the business district were adopted by the city council Monday night and the state highway department was requested to prepare specifications for the control cables to include fire alarm circuits. The signals specified will be the two-way, red-green-and-yellow lens type mounted vertically. A control switch permitting the fire department to stop traffic will be included.

The health and sanitation committee was directed to investigate sanitary conditions surrounding trailer and tent house sites in the city at the request of the health department.

Council Drops Plumbing Inspection Proposition

With annual meeting appointments made two weeks previously, the city council Monday night denied the petition of Salem plumbers for creation of a combined position of sanitary and plumbing inspector. Batty Cooper had been continued as sanitary inspector and the plumbing inspection work left in charge of Building Inspector E. C. Bushnell.
