Bread Starter Is Kept Dinner Dish For Years, Makes the Very Best Hot Rolls

MAGINE nursing a yeast starter along for 22 years! Imagine even being on speaking terms with a yeast cake for 22 years. But that's what Mrs. John Van Lydegraf at been repaid by enjoying the reputation for being a mighty pepper, 1 pimiento, 1 onion, chop- brownies complete the menu.

Now in case the reader isn't personally acquainted with any yeast starters let me say this baker's delight takes the place of the modern yeast cake. It usually originates with a piece of yeast, or a mixture of wild yeast made from hops.

Yeast starters look like soft dough, but they are temperamental, they like cold weather because then they sleep and don't cause any trouble, but in warm weather they just bubble over with enthusiasm and real hot weather simply slays them.

Mrs. Van Lydegraf for instance, must take some of her starter away from the original bit every week, and replace it with flour and liquid and leave it until more bread is baked. She must see that it never gets over heated, keeping it in a cool place so the little bacteria can rest.

From a Friend It is a story of "I heard it is straight from a friend who heard it from a friend", Mrs. Van Lydegraf got her yeast starter 22 years ago from a friend who got it from a friend eight years before. This twice removed yeast owner had brought it from Europe 11 years before where her mother had owned it for as long as she could remember.

Mrs. Laura Noyes was installing officer and Mrs. Gladys Youngblood, ceremonial marshall. Those installed were, president, Mrs. Faith Morris; vice president. Mrs. Cloyden Loveall; secretary, Mrs. Genevieve Olson; treasurer, Mrs. Vola Peterson.
