Red Cross Quota in Sight; Part of Birthday Funds Used

CORVALLIS, Feb. 2 .- Emil W. Martin, Oregon-Washington representative of the Fiax Institute of the U.S., will be in Corvallis-Wednesday through Friday to meet with all Benton county farmers interested in flax production, which he believes fits satisfactorily into the county's agricultural program. His headquarters will be the Corvallis hotel. Farmers unable to see Martin will be able to receive all particulars from the Benton Warehouse and Milling company.

Red Cross Funds Come CORVALLIS, Feb. 2—With approximately two-thirds of its Red Cross flood relief quota met to date and a large community benefit dance scheduled for Friday night in the local Elks Temple, Benton county is almost certain to go over the quota mark, states H. C. Johnson, county chairman.

More than $500 was raised by Friday night through voluntary contributions collected in boxes at all the local theatres, banks, a number of stores, and a drive in the schools. About $300 were collected by uniformed Boy Scouts on four street corners in the Corvallis business section and on Sunday at the entrance of all churches.

As 70 per cent of the money received from the president's brithday drive collected from Oregon State college living groups will be turned over to the Red Cross flood relief fund.

Hosiery Stylist Now at Miller's

Miller's department store is offering a special service to women the remainder of this week in the presence of Miss Edith L. Brown, stocking analyst, who will give expert advise on hosiery styling and conservation. Women will be particularly happy to consult her on selection of colors and materials.

"The real secret of stocking satisfaction often lies in the manner in which they are washsays Miss Brown, Runs in stockings, one of the worst problems milady confronts with her hosiery, could be largely avoided if stockings were properly washed, the visitor states. She advises Luxing stockings after every wearing. And here is her "prescription:"

Make lukewarm suds with the pure tissue-thin soap flakes, and squeeze the suds well through the stockings. Rinse twice.
