

Church Plans Child Chorus

Huckabee to Direct Group at Stayton; First Meet Is 17th

STAYTON, Feb. 12.—One of the new features of community service which the Methodist Church is starting this week is a children's chorus and training choir that will offer a course in voice training, music reading and a group in part singing. This will be under the direction of Rev. Don Huckabee.

The only requirement for participation in this group will be an expression on the part of parents signifying the intention of keeping the children in regular attendance. Much of the training to be given will be of a definitely instructive nature.

May Register Wednesday Boys and girls interested in joining this organization are invited to get applications from Rev. Huckabee Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Methodist church basement. Regular meetings will be Wednesdays at 4:30 p.m.

Rev. Huckabee has had considerable experience with children and was director of the adult choir in the Methodist church of Medford for two years. On the same day at 4:00 p.m. Rev. Huckabee is conducting a class in "How to Live for God," a study of what it means to be a Christian, how to become a Christian, and what it means to join a church.

A special meeting of the Sunday school board and the official board of the church plans were made for the pre-Easter work and a method of lifting the street assessment debt.

A masquerade Valentine party for the Epworth League members and friends will be held Sunday night at 7:30 in the Women's clubhouse. All persons attending must be in masquerade. Saturday the league is also holding another candy sale.
