Helped Found Benedictine Monastery, Mt. Angel, 52 Years Ago

MT. ANGEL, Feb. 18.—Brother Anton Baettig, 73, one of the founders of the Benedictine monastery here, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon, less than 24 hours after the passing of Brother Anselm Wetsenborn, another old pioneer.

Brother Anton was born in Uhusen, Switzerland, March 25, 1864. He spent the greater part of his earlier life in Engelberg, Switzerland, and when in 1882 Father Adelhelm Odermatt gathered together a band of young monks to help him found a community in America, Brother Anton, then a youth of 18, accompanied him.

The little band first settled at Gervais and it was there that Brother Anton made his profession as a brother on April 21, 1884. In 1885 the community was moved to the present site of Mt. Angel, then named Fillmore. In honor of their home in Engelberg which in English means Angel mountain, Father Adelhelm and his followers named the new community Mt. Angel.

Was One of Founders One of the last of that small group of founders, Brother Anton was familiar with all that made history at Mt. Angel. He grew old and bent in service but was always active and curiously joyous. For many years he was employed in the printing office. In 1934 he celebrated the golden jubilee of his profession.

He is survived by his brother, Frank Baettig of Portland. Funeral services will be held from the abbey chapel at 8:00 a. m. Saturday. Interment will be in the abbey cemetery.
