D.A.R. Convention Hears F. M. Hunter

American Democracy Last Bulwark, Held; Annual Pilgrimage Lauded

CORVALLIS, March 2.—The American brand of democracy is the final hope and the last stand against tyranny and dictatorship, Chairman Frederick M. Hunter of the state board of higher education, told 112 delegates at the 24th annual Daughters of the American Revolution this afternoon at a luncheon in the Oregon State college memorial union.

Chairman Hunter in his talk, entitled "George Washington," also pointed out to the group Washington was the creator of the "new brand of democracy," founder of the union and author of the American foreign policy of arbitration, the basis of the present policy.

The value of the good citizenship, pilgrimage in fostering good citizenship was explained by Mrs. Herman Grossman, chairman of the pilgrimage committee, from Oregon City. Miss Lillianne Kopp, Roosevelt high school senior from Portland, was formally presented as the Oregon representative to the annual pilgrimage at Washington, D. C., in April. Miss Kopp was selected from candidates of 25 different Oregon high schools because of her leadership, good citizenship and scholastic and dependability characteristics.

Delegates from chapters situated in Marion county or vicinity attending one or both of the two day sessions were Mesdames C. C. Geer, regent, Chemeketa chapter, and I. M. Schanep, Salem; and C. C. Campbell, Dallas. These three remained throughout the session.

Other delegates from Salem were Mrs. W. L. Faye, H. T. Love, C. A. Sprague, C. C. Best, W. H. Byrd, Seymour Jones, R. M. Morton, C. E. Robin and Miss Ruth Rullison.

From Dallas were Mesdames C. L. Crider, H. C. Fakin, Oscar Haver and C. B. Sandberg. Belle Passi chapter of Woodburn was represented by Mrs. W. J. Wilson and Miss Carrie Webster.

The 22 delegates from Albany included Mesdames Mark Worthford, Alton Coates, Guy Lewelling, Eayne Davison, Leon Bassett, E. A. Canning and Olin Stalmer, and Mesdames Lotta Morgan, Christine Pipe, Zella Burkhardt, Eliza Rhodes and Flo Nutting.

Truckers Assert Hearing Not Fair
Truck owners who protested to the county court Monday over the distribution of county hauling business yesterday asserted the court had not given them a fair hearing. A formal petition was filed over the signatures of Crowder, L. Wilson, Redmond Boettcher, Sr., and J. R. Tweedie, asking the court "for an opportunity to furnish our trucks in the hauling of gravel in the county roads, whereas we, as owners of dump trucks, taxpayers and residing within this county, feel that we are equally entitled to a proportionate share of the above mentioned work."

The petition lists county records of dump truck operators' earnings under county employ between January 1, 1936, and February 1, 1937, as follows:
King, $4766.43; Case, $5-150.74; Cleo Kappinger, $4045.50; H. Kappinger, $572.52; Joe Ringwald, $498.99; L. R. Tweedie, $3730.16; Davenport, $4651.39; Stayton, $579.40; C. H. Ringwald, $362.93; Boettcher, $67.80; A. B. Wilson, $239.32; C. Crowder, $285.31; R. B. DeLapp, $815.98; J. N. Tweedie, $1933.47; Fred Stewart, $3261.

Seven Divorce Decrees Given

One Annulment Is Granted Also; File of Court Activity Heavy

Seven divorces and one annulment of marriage were granted by Circuit Judge L. G. Lewelling while he was here yesterday for his regular motion day. Six of the seven divorce decrees went to women.

On the grounds that she had been married within less than the six months statutory period following her divorce last August, Pauline Hawkins won an annulment of her marriage to Lawrence C. Stewart which took place at Vancouver, Wash., last October. All by the default route, the divorce decrees were issued in the following cases with details of settlement given where filed.

Lucile Hazelwood vs. Ollie E. Hazelwood; plaintiff permitted to resume maiden name. Lucile Blower, and to recover $200 from defendant.

Ruby H. Thacker vs. L. H. Thacker; plaintiff permitted to resume maiden name, Ruby Hayden.

Bella S. Stam vs. Henry Stam, Ethyl Knutsen vs. Sam Knutsen, Anna Raynor vs. Harold Raynor, Mabelle A. Grant vs. Hustin A. Grant.

Ernest C. Pearson vs. Bertha May Pearson; maiden name, Bertha May Ratcliffe, restored to defendant.

While Judge Lewelling's department will not be reopened until next Wednesday, Judge L. H. McMahon will return to department on the expected conclusion of the Freeman vs. Campbell automobile accident damage case, which probably will take up most of the day.

Circuit Court — Cases dismissed by stipulation: Kenneth E. Mickey vs. Margaret Wright et al; E. H. Snyder vs. O. E. Lee.

Federal Land Bank of Spokane vs. Carl H. Johnson et al; order overruling Johnson defendants' demurrer to cross-complaint of defendant Ladd & Bush with former's consent.

Salem Navigation company et al vs. N. G. Wallace; demand by defendant Wallace for accounting intervenors, Oswald H. Moley and William R. Pfauf, of amount claimed due from defendant Burrigitt Motor Transport.

Eldon J. Newberry vs. Merchants City Delivery; defense demurrer on ground of insufficient facts.

Walter B. Minier vs. Albert and Dorothy George; complaint for possession of real property and declaring plaintiff owner in fee simple.

Clara E. Moore et al vs. L. C. Thomas; order confirming sale of real property for $1000 to plaintiffs.

John L. Jones vs. Harry E. and Effie L. Jones; suit to foreclose on real property for $1216.60 judgment.

Zita Spionkowski et al vs. Alois Wetzel et al; order confirming mortgage foreclosure sale of property to plaintiffs for $561.55.

Martin O. Hattberger et al vs. James Johnson et al; order confirming sale of real property to plaintiffs for $860.66.

Kate D. Griffith and Lizlie A. Krause vs. Celia Sterling; complaint revoking foreclosure action against A. M. Blinton estate and seeking to correct description.

Probate Court — Dolores Kangiser; application for change of name to Dorothy Bowman.

Frances M. Richards estate; order approving supplemental account of Ernest C. Richards, executor, showing receipts and disbursements of $5596.82 each and closing estate.

Jonathon E. Bourne estate; order setting hearing April 10 on final account of James B. Young, executor, showing receipts, income and like sum paid out.

George W. T. Thompson estate; order setting hearing April 6 on final account of A. E. Simpson, administrator, showing $261.57 income and outgo.

A. C. Simons estate; order authorizing Grace Austin to accept offer of $1900 in payment of $2000 note executed by Raymond John Krebs and Kathryn Krebs, Basil J. and Leona E. Wallace guardianship; annual report of basic rule, $12.50.

Ernest W. Collar, violation of basic rule, fined $2.50.
Charles F. Anderson, $68 North Fourth, failure to stop, license suspended for ten days.
Sal Terrano, Reno, violation of basic rule, $7.50 ball forfeited.
John Larson, drunkenness, ten-day jail sentence suspended to leave town.

Terry L. Welch, drunkenness, ten-day jail sentence suspended to leave town.
R. McCracken, drunkenness, ten-day jail sentence suspended to leave town.
Nora L. Anderson, failure to stop, fined $2.50.

Andrew G. Steelhammer estate; order admitting will, naming George W. Steelhammer, executor, B. F. Terry, Glen Briedwell and C. A. Sage of Salem Speculates

By D. H. TALMADGE

From a Salem man Let praiseful songs to rain be sung.
For blessings that the rain has brought
Hail to the glad new life that's sprung.
From impulsive the rain has brought.
Ay, let us sing with eager tongues
And all the fervor of our longest!

Mr. Carlyle says a man has to elbow his way through the world, giving and receiving offense. One thing I like about the writings of Mr. Carlyle—he makes it so plain when he is suffering from an attack of his chronic stomach trouble.

I have known a heap of young folks who got married, and I have, along with the rest of the community, expressed an opinion as to the quality of a heap of marriages. But that was long ago. After the "poor matches" had turned out to be good and the good ones had turned out to be bad over a term of years, I came to the decision that I knew nothing about it and that it would be better to take up some other sort of guesswork.

"Oughto" and "Gotto" — A correspondent who signs himself "J. A. B. Sunday," which I don't find in the dictionary and am thinking it is perhaps what the French term a nom de guerre—an assumed name, although as one who has had some training, self inflicted, in the gentle art of working out crossword puzzles am disposed to give the interpretation to be "Just After Breakfast Sunday," and the correspondent will confer a favor by letting me know whether or not I am correct. He says with a burst of ink almost satirical that he admires the "gotto" couplet in the department of the Saturday Statesman very much, but thinks he has improved it somewhat, and suggests the following: "It doesn't matter what our motto,

We oughto do the things we ought to do."
Very pretty. The correspondent has perhaps put the couplet upon a higher moral plane than it occupied in its other form, but, with all due apology, I insist that "we gotta do the things we gotta do" has more of the quality known as "punch"—more of essential truth—that has "we oughto do the things we oughto," which possibly possesses a greater beauty. Ground for argument in the matter is extremely slight. We are not required necessarily to do all the things we ought to do. We "gotta" do the things we've "gotta," and the sooner we do 'em and the cheerfuller the spirit in which we go about 'em the better it is for us.

Ben Wilkins tried for 50 years to convince the folks that we "oughto" do certain things for the sake of God and home and native land, and while Pod contended he was as greatly interested in his duty to God and home and native land as Ben was, and like a matter of fact, Ben's more than most folks at Crane Creek Junction, he didn't hold with such notions as Ben's. And the entire civilized world is a good deal like Ben and Pod on the "oughto" question. "Oughto" is a matter of opinion. "Gotto" is not.

John F. Steelhammer also provided for.
Marriage Licenses — Elwin W. Evans, legal, farmer, Rickreall, and Violet E. Shaw, legal, housekeeper, 888 North Commercial street, Salem.
Justice Court — C. B. Bouck vs. Mr. and Mrs. William C. Huntley; order following trial before judge upholding forcible entry and detainer action and directing restitution.
Ralph B. Shreve, $2.50, no operator's license.

Municipal Court — Guy Ernest Smyres, 558 South 14th, pleaded guilty to driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and was fined $100, given a 30-day suspended jail sentence, put on probation for one year and suffered revocation of his operator's license for one year.
Ernest W. Collar, violation of basic rule, fined $2.50.
Charles F. Anderson, $68 North Fourth, failure to stop, license suspended for ten days.
Sal Terrano, Reno, violation of basic rule, $7.50 ball forfeited.
John Larson, drunkenness, ten-day jail sentence suspended to leave town.
Terry L. Welch, drunkenness, ten-day jail sentence suspended to leave town.
R. McCracken, drunkenness, ten-day jail sentence suspended to leave town.
Nora L. Anderson, failure to stop, fined $2.50.

Exchange of Seeds, Bulbs To Feature Club Meeting
WOODBURN, March 2.—The Garden club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson, 900 Wilson street, Wednesday night with Miss Mabel Jack, son, assisting hostess. Mrs. W. E. Anderson of Salem will be the speaker. An exchange of seeds, flowers or bulbs will be a feature.

Fraud Take Huge, Kiwanis Informed
FRAUD in its various guises costs the American people two and one-half billion dollars a year, while investment fraud alone costs $200,000,000 more than the total loss reported in the Ohio valley flood, it was declared by Lyle L. Janz, secretary of the Better Business Bureau of Portland in an address before the Salem Kiwanis club at its Tuesday noon luncheon.

A general program whereby numerous agencies will provide a "consumer education" enabling people to protect themselves will be the only complete solution, Janz said after citing several cases in which investment frauds were traced by his organization.
The better business bureaus, now organized in 53 cities, were conceived first to promote truth in advertising, but branched into the investment fraud field, because numerous investment "rackets" were found to be advertising, the speaker said.

City May Require Property Manager
The city of Salem is now in the real estate business to the extent of having 53 properties for sale and may have to hire an agent to manage them, Alderman David O'Hara, chairman of a special property and lien committee, reported last night. These are tax-foreclosed properties taken over from the county to protect interest in city improvement assessments.

Of the 61 properties bought by payment of taxes to the county, approximately 90 per cent are vacant lots. Eight have been resold to date.
City Starts Lien Collection Drive
A delinquent assessment collection program has been undertaken by the city council's special property, lien and tax committee, and George A. Rhoten, attorney, and George A. Rhoten, attorney, has been retained to carry it out. Alderman David O'Hara, chairman, disclosed last night. The council last fall appropriated $4000 to support the program. O'Hara estimated approximately 300 notices had already been sent to delinquent property owners advising them to place their liens in good standing. He estimated 3000 pieces of property were subject to assessment collection action.

Do your children CATCH COLD easily?
Do their colds HANG ON and on?

Follow this Practical Guide to Better Control of Colds

1. To Help PREVENT Many Colds
At the first warning sneeze or sniffle or the slightest irritation in the nose—quick!—put a few drops of Vicks VapoRub on each nostril. This specialized medication is expressly designed for the nose and upper throat, where most colds start. Used in time, VapoRub helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off head colds in their early stages.

2. To RELIEVE a Cold Sooner
Cold sores, some colds strike without warning, or get by even the best precautions. Then you need very dependable Vicks VapoRub. Go straight to bed and massage it briskly on the throat, chest, and back for 3 full minutes. Then spread a thick layer of VapoRub over the chest and cover with a warm cloth. Long after you relax into restful sleep, VapoRub's famous eucalyptus-vapor action continues hour after hour—loosening phlegm, easing your cough, relieving irritation, helping to break up local congestion.

Sickness from Colds Cut In Half!
The two simple steps outlined above, together with a few sensible health rules to build up and maintain resistance, are the basis of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. In the biggest cold-catch ever held—with 17,353 people as subjects—Vicks Plan resulted in fewer colds and shorter colds. It cut sickness from colds more than half!

You'll find full directions for following Vicks Plan in your packages of Vicks VapoRub and Vicks VapoRub

Lusk Is Reversed By Highest Court

Dismissal of Suit Denied; Judgment Obtained by Fraud, Contention

The Oregon supreme court Tuesday reversed circuit Judge Lusk of Multnomah county in a suit brought by the Oregon Washington Railroad and Navigation company against Hooper C. Reid et al to enjoin enforcement of a judgment in a personal injury case.

The railroad company alleged that the judgment was obtained through fraud. The circuit court dismissed the suit whereupon the plaintiff appealed. The opinion was written by Justice Beit.

The defendants were given 10 days in which to file an answer. Other opinions handed down by the supreme court were: William McGluehr, appellant, vs. J. R. Fielder et al. Appeal from Multnomah county. Suit for payment for services performed as a real estate broker. Opinion by Justice Beit, Judge Robert Tucker reversed.

Frances Robinson, appellant, vs. Fletcher Linn et al. Appeal from Multnomah county. Action to recover money on a promissory note. Opinion by Chief Justice Beit. Judge T. E. J. Duffy affirmed.

Harry A. Herzog vs. Harry Littleman and Harry Geertz, appellants. Appeal from Multnomah county. Suit to recover damages. Opinion by Justice Campbell. Judge James W. Crawford reversed.

Norton vs. Jensen, motion to dismiss appeal denied.

Old Delinquencies Will Be First Acted Against; Attorney Hired

A delinquent assessment collection program has been undertaken by the city council's special property, lien and tax committee, and George A. Rhoten, attorney, and George A. Rhoten, attorney, has been retained to carry it out. Alderman David O'Hara, chairman, disclosed last night. The council last fall appropriated $4000 to support the program.

O'Hara estimated approximately 300 notices had already been sent to delinquent property owners advising them to place their liens in good standing. He estimated 3000 pieces of property were subject to assessment collection action.

Leasee Offered
The committee's main object is to take over property in which the owner has shown no further interest. O'Hara explained. "Where good faith is shown, we will grant every leniency possible."

To avert foreclosure by the city, delinquent property owners may pay back interest and taxes and rebond under the Bancroft act, O'Hara said. His committee also hopes to outline a plan of installment payments on delinquent assessments but is reserving action pending a decision by Rhoten as to the scheme's legality.

Foreclosure actions will be instituted first against property on which assessments on delinquencies are oldest, the chairman stated.

Mahoney "Inside" Tip Doubled Here

Spalding "Doubts" Farley Making Spokesman of Losing Candidate

Do you doubt that Willis Mahoney as one of the few candidates running under the democratic banner to be defeated in the 1936 senatorial elections, has the confidence of James Farley, postmaster-general, to the extent that Mahoney has been chosen to make Farley's preliminary announcement as a presidential candidate was expressed yesterday by Harry Spalding, Salem attorney who has just returned after five years spent in Washington, D.C.

Spalding made this statement after reading news stories of a meeting here last Saturday in which Mahoney intimated that he had inside information Farley was considering running for president.

As an attorney attached to congress for the purpose of advising members on taxation legislation and with important duties in connection with NRA while that agency was active, Spalding was in close touch with many of the "New Dealers" constantly until a few weeks ago when he resigned to return to Salem.

From this vantage point, Spalding expressed the personal opinion that Farley has other plans for his own political future than the contrary he did intend to favor. He would not choose a man of Mahoney's doubtful status in the party to make the announcement for him. Spalding pointed out that the national democratic organization gave Mahoney no assistance during his campaign last year.

Leo Childs Will Build New House

After building about 30 houses in the last three years in the Salem vicinity without living in any of them himself, Leo N. Childs is finally preparing to build a residence for himself and his family.

Clearing of the lot on the northeast corner of 14th and Chemeketa streets, adjoining Dr. H. J. Clements' gardens, is under way in preparation for construction of a two-story, seven-room brick house with stucco finish for Mr. Childs. Herbert Bab will be the builder. Cost will be between $5000 and $7000.

Mr. Childs last October sold his home at the Four Corners east of town, in the district where he has built numerous houses and sold out entirely on subdivisions and is making a good start on a second.
