

Salem Youngster Scores Triumph in Simon-Pure Fight Card

Quamme Gains Upset Victory

Claimant to 118 Title in Oregon Is Outpointed by Salem Amateur

Bob Quamme gave away a big edge in experience and the last night but made up for it in smartness as he won a five round decision from Cliff Nelson, Multnomah club 118 pound ace, in the best bout of a six bout meet between Salem Y. M. C. A. and Portland boxing school boxers.

The Portland boxers won the affair, taking four matches to Salem's two, but Quamme topped all the fighters that showed in cool and game fighting skill. Matched against an opponent years his senior and who claimed the Oregon amateur championship in the 118 pound division, Quamme outclassed him through five furious rounds and still had enough left to stand off a bitter attack in the final round.

That was the wildest, fastest-going round of the fight as Nelson, realizing Quamme had won the decision, tried with a lot of heavy but wild swinging to win by a knockout. Quamme took several of his blows square but stood up under them and returned measure for measure, enough to win him another round.

The Traglio Defeated The twin main events, each of five rounds, were the most active pieces of ringwork staged here in many a moon. The finale in which Roy Quisenberry, 147, Portland, scored a fourth round knockout over Webb Traglio, Salem was a weird thing.

Traglio started out strong in the first round but the ratty Quisenberry caught him in the second and had Traglio all but out when the bell saved him. In the third Traglio stepped out from behind Referee Earl Douglas to land a right that was nearly curtain for Quisenberry and from then on it was a madhouse.

Traglio was down three times before Quisenberry finally knocked him out, twice knocked clear out of the ring. The first time Quisenberry continued his attack too long after Traglio went to his knees and it was ruled a foul and a two minute intermission given.

Larios Is Winner

Other results: 105 pounds—Wallace Larios, Y. M. C. A., decisively Frank Dolan, P. B. S.

135 pounds—Roland Tomlinson, P. B. S., came back after a weak showing in the first round to win the second and knock out Rex Leighton, Y. M. C. A., in the third.

155 pounds—Paul Topkins, P. B. S., knocked down Merle Wilkinson, Y. M. C. A., twice in the second round, knocked him out in the third.

175 pounds—Bob Goldman, P. B. S., won a decision from Alan Smith, Y. M. C. A. in a bout in which hardly a solid blow was struck.

District Tourney Set at Corvallis

CORVALLIS, March 2.—For the first time in the basketball history of district seven, the leading teams of the district will tangle in a round robin series here Friday and Saturday nights in the O. S. C. men's gymnasium. The winner will represent the district at the state tournament at Salem.

Corvallis, defending state champions, will play host to Albany of the northern division and Eugene and St. Mary's of the southern division.

The first battle will feature Albany high's Bulldogs playing against the Eugene high team. After this game, Corvallis Spartans will meet St. Mary's, winner of the state Catholic championship. On Saturday night the winners of the Friday night tilts will meet to determine which team will represent District 7 in the state meet.

Huskies Prepare For Title Clash

SEATTLE, March 2.—(AP)—Washington's Huskies finished hard work today for Friday's opening of a basketball series with the northern Oregon in which the northern division, Pacific Coast conference, title will be at stake.

Coach Hee Edmondson put the Huskies through a brisk workout and then said attention would be devoted to sinking free throws.

"The series promises to be close," said the mentor. "And the team which makes the fewest mechanical errors should win."

Patty Berg Four Under Par; Leads

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—Par yielded four strokes today to the sizzling game of Patty Berg and the Minneapolis red-headed paced qualifiers in the annual Florida state women's golf tournament. She posted a 75.

Second place went to Dorothy Traung of San Francisco, Patty's conqueror last week at Ormond Beach, who clipped two strokes from par with a fine 78.

Trapshooters Elect

Bert McKay, Lowell White and P. D. Quisenberry were chosen as board of directors of the Salem Trapshooting club at elections held last night. W. H. Wolf was elected treasurer.

Down But Not Out

By BURNLEY

THE old fable about the dim-witted boxer who laid the golden eggs has many a prototype in real life. The boxing game, always the dullest of pastimes, has afforded many instances of such short-sighted practice as cutting off your nose to spite your profile. Just at present, when it seemed that the old boom days of the Dempsey era were really on their way back, the greedy cauliflower cultivators are doing their level best to spoil everything.

The Jack Torrance farce just skimmed the surface of the sock skulduggery that has been going on of late. This scandal, true or not, certainly hurt the game a lot, but consider some of the other farcical affairs that have been going on of late among the knuckled tossers.

Marcel Thil, so-called world's middleweight champ, retains his tarnished laurels by means of an obvious fraud—the old foul claim. Thil, however, is reported to have announced his retirement.

Disregard of contracts, an old trick in the fight racket, goes on as usual, with the leading heavyweight contender, Schmeling, getting the well-known runaround.

Bad decisions are becoming so numerous that the fans sometimes jeer in derision when the right man gets the verdict, as may happen on occasion.

The Pastor-Louis footrace was another terrible thing foisted on a long-suffering public who paid their simonsons to see a fight, not a marathon.

Schmeling Thinks He'll Face Champ

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, heavy-weight title challenger and former champion, arrived from Germany today full of confidence that Jimmy Braddock will bring his crown into the ring for their scheduled fight at Madison Square garden bowl June 2.

After conferring with John Reed Kilpatrick, garden president, Schmeling scouted all suggestions that Braddock intended to give him the "run around."

"I don't think so," he said in reply to a question whether he believed the champion would fail to appear. "Braddock will fight me, I'll bet, on June 3. We have a contract and his legal."

In event Braddock fails to appear, however, the German said he would not claim the title as they "can be won and lost only in the ring."

First Round Kayo Scored by Steele

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(AP)—Freddie Steele of Tacoma, middle-weight boxing champion, scored a technical knockout over Paul Pirrone of Cleveland after one minute and 57 seconds of the first round in their scheduled ten round non-title bout tonight.

Steele floored Pirrone five times and had the Cleveland fighter staggering around the ring in a daze before Referee Sping Murphy stopped the slaughter.

A crowd of 8,000 was amazed at the quick ending.

Mr. Bressler was an oldtime violinist, and noted in his day for his music.

Surviving are two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Jennie Woolery and John Bressler of Salem, and Mrs. Lizzie Gilliam, Dallas. Interment will be made in Fir Crest cemetery, Monmouth.

Beavers Down Idaho Vandals

Spurt in Second Half and Go Ahead; Zone System Balks Moscow Five

MOSCOW, Idaho, March 2.—(AP)—Oregon State college basketball team spurted in the second half tonight to defeat the University of Idaho, 34 to 30, in a game that decided the Pacific coast conference cellar championship.

The lowly Vandals, who led, 14 to 10 at halftime, took over undisputed occupancy of the cellar by tonight's defeat, with 13 losses and two victories. A victory in tomorrow night's game would not hoist the Vandals from the depths.

Oregon State's zone defense, occupied with an amazing spurt soon after the second half opened, overcame the Vandal lead and held it there against a series of desperate Idaho rallies.

Credit Breakfast Club Plans Event

Plans for the first social gathering for members of the Salem Credit Women's Breakfast club were made at the regular meeting of the club Tuesday morning at the Quells. This will be a party next Tuesday night at the home of Miss Emily Downey.

The club has designated the next regular meeting, Tuesday, March 16, for its "bosses' breakfast," and each member will invite her employer to the meeting that morning.

James Clark was yesterday selected by the Breakfast club as the only male member. Clark is a past president of the Salem Credit association. Each Breakfast club in the northwest council has chosen some man affiliated with the general credit association as a member of the women's group.

Entertainment for yesterday's breakfast session was a skit by the girls of the Salem Credit Bureau.

505 Named on New County Jury List

A new list of 505 names from which jury panels for the coming year will be drawn was signed by the county court yesterday. The list was compiled largely from the registration books, but taxpayers' records were resorted to before the list was completed. Court clerks said jurors were selected from precincts in proportion to population.

Women named in the list will receive notice of their selection and then will have 15 days within which to elect whether or not they will serve jury duty.
