Scio Fruit Growers Contract '37 Strawberries at 7½ Cents

Offer From Californians

Price Is Highest in Years on Association Pool; Six Make Bids

SCIO, March 2.—The Scio Fruit Growers' association this week contracted its 1937 strawberry crop to California markets t 71/2 cents per pound, berries o be delivered in Scio, Negotiaions were made through a buyer stationed at Salem, it was reported here by K. K. Kirk, grower two miles southeast of this city. Six other competitors were inluded among the bidders, it was tated. Severe weather during the winter damaged berry prospects, according to men interested in the business, but a profitable crop still is anticipated by growers. The 1937, pool price is the best secured here for a number of years and local berry men expressed complete satisfaction with

Reported European Buying in Southern 'Sphere Boosts Prices

CHICAGO, March 2 -(P)- Reports of big European buying of wheat from the southern hemisphere lifted Chicago wheat values in notable fashion today during the final hour of trading. Great Britain and Italy as well as Germany were reported active purchasers of wheat from below the equator. An added stimulus came from cables pointing out that if by any chance the European harvest should be late this summer, breadstuff supplies abroad would be dangerously low in August. May Lead Upturns

Chicago May delivery of wheat led the late upturn of prices, climbing to 1.33 % from 1.32, but because of profit-taking sales reacted a little just before the day for the 1937 potato crop, that with was ended.

At the close, wheat was un-changed to % higher, compared with yesterday's finish, May 1.33 1/2-%, July 1.15 1/4-1/4, Sept. 1.12-1.12 1/4; corn unchanged to 1/2 lower, May 1.07%-1/2, July 1.02 1/4, Sept. 95 1/4 - 1/4; 0 a t s 1/6 to 1/4 off, May 46 1/4, and rye 1/8 - 1/2 advance, May 1.06 %. Average Yield For Season Will Bring Reduction in Farm Price

Most people are keenly potato conscious this spring, whether they be buyers or sellers. Timely, therefore, is the current report on the intentions of farmers to plant potatoes this coming year, as presented by L. R. Breithaupt of the state college in his weekly broadcast. He said:

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported several weeks ago that potato growers in the early and intermediate potato states intended to increase their potato acreage this year by about 12 per cent over 1936 plantings. Those early and intermedia states are the states from which new-crop potatoes are shipped to

National Meeting Slated, Corvallis

Corvallis will be the scene of a national meeting March 30 to April 1 when the Institute of Irrigation holds its sixth annual conference on the campus of Oregon State college, with 150 delegates expected. This organization is semi-scientific in nature and is composed of federal, state and college leaders in all states where irrigation is an important phase of agriculture. It is strongly supported by the American Farm Bureau federation.

The tentative program includes papers and discussions on economic factors in brigation projects, forecasting irrigation water supply, water spreading, fundamental soil and water relations, irrigation in soil erosion, resettlement on irrigation projects, power disposal plans and project financing. The proposed Willamette valley project will be up for discussion, as will the relation of range land use to irrigation project needs.

Among the speakers will be some specialists from Washington, D. C., and others from various state and federal agencies. Robert W. Sawyer of Bend is scheduled to represent the National Reclamation association on the program.
