Water Rights Asked — The state of Oregon has filed application with the state engineer here to appropriate 10 second feet of water from Mission and an unnamed creek, tributary of the Willamette river, for supplying an artificial lake in Marion county. Another application by C. J. Jenkins, Independence, covers one second foot of water from Rickreal creek, tributary of the Willamette river for the irrigation of 70 acres of land in Polk county.

Fugitives Returned — Claude Twigger, 20, and Jack Young, 25, who escaped from the state penitentiary farm February 23, were returned to their institution Saturday. Both were apprehended in Portland. The prison truck which they used in making their escape previously was found there. Warden Lewis said the men would serve indefinite terms in the prison "bull pen."

Salesman will be on the grounds all day Sunday at Reimann Garage. See classified ad.

Not Leon's Manager — A story in Saturday's Statesman concerning writing on the windows of the Mode O' Day Dress shop was inadvertently in error in stating that the man who did the writing was the manager of Leon's shoe store. The story involved an episode which received police attention but did not result in any charges being filed.

Load Limit Lifted — The state highway commission announced Saturday that it had lifted the load limitations on the Sherman highway between Grays Valley in Sherman county and the junction with the Dalles-California highway in Wasco county.

Lewelling to Rule on Big Sale's Validity; Case Smith vs. Carlson

The first trial in court of a title issued under Marion county's big tax foreclosure suit of last fall is scheduled to open before Circuit Judge L. G. Lewelling here at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Validity of a tax title obtained from this foreclosure proceeding is one of the issues in the case, in which Guy H. Smith is suing Oscar and Hanna Carlson and others to obtain a court determination of his claimed right to the property.

In answer the defendants have claimed they are the owners in fee simple absolute, possessors of the property and that they have demanded a decree upholding their title.

Other suits have been instituted over property affected by the county's largest foreclosure action but none has reached the trial stage, according to Harlan Judd, circuit court clerk.

Circuit Court — Stella Gillis vs. C. A. Chambers and Culinary Alliance et al; plaintiff's motion to strike large part of defendants' answer and especially certain allegations as "merit surplusage and inserted in defendants' pleadings as a basis for unfavorable and prejudicial advertising against plaintiff."

Valley Cooperating Group to Confer March 30; Topics Arranged

Ministers from all cooperating denominations will hold their second annual conference on Tuesday, March 30, in the Salem Y. M. C. A., according to the committee in charge which has just finished the program to begin at 10 a.m. and run through the day.

Rev. H. C. Stover of the Knight Memorial Congregational church in Salem will open the conference with a musical period of devotions. Rev. Chester P. Gates of Ladd Addition Evangelical church, Portland, will review the preaching mission of the winter and lead a discussion of the results throughout the state.

Rev. W. L. Van Nuyts, D.D., Presbyterian educational superintendent in Oregon, and Rev. H. K. Hamilton, D. D., Methodist district superintendent in the Sacramento area, have been invited to lead discussion on inter-church fellowship and cooperation. Successful experiments in Oregon and California in uniting churches for larger service will be presented.

The committee has asked Mrs. Hannah Martin, militant member of the last legislative house, to tell the conference an inside story as to moral issues in the legislature.

Summer Events Topic — Summer programs of the churches along the Oregon coast which are meant to appeal to the religious forces of the Willamette valley" is the subhead of a topic to be presented by Rev. I. G. Nace, Reformed church minister at Tillamook. It is suggested in the questions for discussion on the conference program that these coastal church desire to supplement valley churches in worship and educational service during summer months.

The Rev. Haye Beall, Methodist student pastor on the campus of the University of Oregon will give facts as to religion on the several campuses of the state's institutions of higher education. Rev. A. M. Williams is chairman of the committee on arrangements, assisted by Secretary C. A. Kells of the Salem Y.M.C.A. and one minister from each of seven counties. Rev. J. R. Simonds represents Marion and Rev. W. A. Elkins of Monmouth, Folk.

Habit Forming Time — The scout age period in a boy's life is the period of habit forming, vocation choosing, friend making. Scouting guards against bad habits, wrong choices and vicious friends.

Sensible citizens will encourage the Boy Scout organization. They will help by providing in schools, churches, or public buildings a meeting place. They will recruit their finest men as scouts and troop committeemen. They will urge their boys to enroll and encourage them to advance from Tenderfoot to Second to First class Scouts."

The Cascade Area council drive will open March 23 with G. S. McElhinney in charge of 120 workers. A goal of $4000 has been set.
