

Music Week Committees Philharmonic Announced; Planning Program Begins Concert at Leslie

In cities and communities throughout the United States committees are working on plans for National Music week to be held the first week of May, with the purpose of encouraging a greater use of community musical assets.

Nationwide festivals held in the past few years have familiarized communities with the talents of local musicians and have therefore produced a new interest in encouraging the use of those talents for the pleasure of neighbors and friends.

Under the direction of Mrs. Walter Denton, as chairman, both state and city committees, programs are being prepared for presentation during National Music week. Mrs. Denton's committee from the Music teachers association includes Mrs. David Eason, Mrs. Bertha Junk Darby, Mrs. Joy Turner Mosa, Mrs. T. S. Roberts, Mrs. Mabel S. Powers, Mrs. Jessie F. Bush, Miss Dorothy Pearce, Miss Ruth Bedford, and Prof. Frank E. Churchill.

From the schools, Silas Gaiser, Miss Lena Belle Tartan, Miss Gretchen Kreamer, Miss Carlotta Briedwell, Miss Margaret Stimms and Gordon Finlay, will work on the committee.

Plans for the local and state programs are soon to be made, and this year, an even more elaborate festival than ever is promised.

Style-Smiles --- by Gretchen

"Here comes those horrid photographers.—Er, do I look all right?"

Maintained Health Means Money Saved

By R. E. LEGG of Woolpert & Legg, Drugs

The story of the weak link in the chain is often illustrated by those of us who complacently work, play, sleep and eat, animated by a feeling of exuberant health, and without a thought of whether we are exerting ourselves beyond the limit of even the most rugged constitution.

Somewhere in our complicated set of organs one may have not been able to "take it" and thus has become the weak link. As a source of mental satisfaction, as well as in the interest of economy, everyone should realize the importance of occasionally seeking medical counsel, then, should there be found a weak link the doctor can at once set about the restoration of perfect health.

If medicine is needed go to a store where there will be no possibility of a "weak link" in the filling of your prescription. This is the 9th of a series of Editorial Advertisements appearing in this paper each Sunday. Copyright
