Three Fire Alarms — Salem firemen answered three calls Saturday but the fire damage was negligible. A call early in the morning to the 200 block on Trade street was occasioned by a small fire in an automobile. At 7 a. m. the fire alarm at the telephone company building sounded but it turned out that there was no fire, the alarm being set off by a short circuit. Saturday afternoon at 2:14 a ruffish fire occurred on property at 2646 Fairgrounds Road, the call being turned in from a nearby auto camp.

McNary Answers — W. W. Chadwick, president of the Salem chamber of commerce, has received a telegram from Senator Charles L. McNary in which the senator promises to vote in accordance with the objection of Salem business men to a proposed one-cent increase in the federal gasoline tax contained in the bill introduced by Congressman Roland. The wire was in reply to a letter sent recently by Mr. Chadwick. Senator McNary said if the bill reached the senate he would vote for it.

To Visit Hospital — Members of the state board of control this week will inspect the new nurses' home and administration building annex at the Western Oregon State Tuberculosis hospital here. The improvements have been completed and turned over to the state, subject to approval of the board of control. The aggregate cost was $101,000, of which 45 per cent was a grant from the federal government.

Schools in Cream Grading Arranged

A half dozen cream grading schools are to be held in various dairy centers of the state during the next month to enable creamery men to obtain licenses as graders, Solon T. White, state agricultural director, announced Saturday.

The places and dates for holding these schools will be determined at a public hearing to be held in Portland Monday when a number of laws passed at the recent legislative session will be discussed.

Dr. G. H. Wilster, Oregon State college, will have charge of the schools. Under a recent legislative act every creamery, milk plant or station and cheese factories must have a licensed cream grader, White said.

Fourteen creamery men are now receiving training at the state college in grading work. These men will be employed by the department to have supervision of the work.

Eleven Prisoners Released to Date

Eleven prisoners entitled to release under the Barnes good behavior credits law of the recent legislative session, were turned out this week, Warden James Lewis of the Oregon prison announced Saturday.

The first of these prisoners were released Tuesday and the exodus will continue until approximately 200 leave the institution. Three prisoners are being released daily.

Each prisoner, upon being released is given a new suit of prison made clothes and a five dollar bill.

As the result of the exodus the prison tailor shop is operating two shifts.

Money given the prisoners upon their release is taken from the regular institution appropriation.

Easter Egg Show Is Great Success

Hundreds of Eggs Turned Over to Relief Staff; Winners Are Listed

"Eggs to the right of them, eggs to the left of them" greeted sponsors of the annual Easter Egg show at the Capitol theatre Saturday, but the paraphrase of a famous poem ends there, for there were many more than 600 and, thanks to the efficient management of the affair, there was no volleying or thundering, which might have been disastrous to the fresh eggs.

When the doors of the Capitol opened at 9:30 a. m. there were already several hundred youngsters lined up, each with his or her one colored egg and two fresh eggs. Baskets, boxes, sacks, pockets and tiny hands were bulging with eggs. All colors and all imaginable decorative designs were in evidence.

Under the guidance of Manager Carl Porter, the house staffs of the Capitol and Elsinore theatres soon had the situation well in hand with a minimum of casualties to the eggs. Prizes were awarded by Bill Hagedorn of the Mickey Mouse club.

Winners Announced

First prize went to Faith Phillips with her clever "bridal party" of boiled eggs; Glen Nickols with his "Humpty Dumpty" egg was second and Lois Overman with her Jean Harlow representation was third. Others among the 15 winners were Doris Brown, Bud Crany, Patricia O'Brien, Dale Reeves, Lois Nickols, Lawrence Baer, Marjorie Pratt, Elmond Deeker, Mary Morgan, George Manning, Violet Cooper and Wayne Mercer.

Those assisting with the show were Darrel Gilchrist and Ellis Warring in the projection room, Jackie Thompson, Katie Quistad, Velma Bebb, Margie Weum, Dorothy Hardie, Eivina Kasberg, Mildred Meaney, Lou Hickman, Thyrre Salstrom, Lois Holt, Gene Holstein, Dick Hague, Charlie Johnson, Russel Hurst, Roy Burson, Phil Yoder, Keith Eppley and Maude Ramseyer collecting eggs and taking care of the youngsters.

Prizes were given by Bishop's, Cooke Stationery, The Karmelkorn Shop, Schaefer's drug store and Lloyd Ramsden.

The eggs were turned over to the Marion county relief headquarters for distribution to needy families. The show was sponsored by the Warner Bros. theatres and The Oregon Statesman.

Two God-Given Gifts

It's an accepted fact that most people who want beautiful things are willing to pay dearly for them. But today many people have worked a sense of fitness and harmony into their lives... richer than the strained pomp of the ancients, yet without modern extravagance.

These happy folk have two God-given gifts — common sense and good taste. Both lead them to Salem Stores, where prices are well within reason and where merchandise reflects the innate refinement of these Stores—and of the purchaser.
