Webfoots Win in Conference Swim

Jim Hurd of Oregon Bests

50-Yard Record; OSC

Gets Third Place

PULLMAN, Wash., March 27-

ference northern division meet

Washington State 25; Idaho 4.

seconds. He won both dash events over Personette, Washington star,

for high point honors. A week ago

300-Yard medley relay-Won

by Washington (Hoskins, Caddey Randles); Oregon State second

220-Yard free style-Brownell.

Oregon State, first; Sexton, Oregon, second: Levy, Oregon, fourth.

50-Yard free style—Hurd, Ore-gon, first; Smith, Oregon, fifth.

Time 24.2 seconds (new northern

Diving-Chilton, Oregon, first;

100-Yard dash-Hurd, Oregon

150-Yard back stroke -- Hoskins, Washington, first; Burns,

Oregon State, second; Brugger,

Oregon State, third; Scroggins,

200-Yard breast stroke-Cad-

Oregon, wifth. Time 1.48.6.

fourth. Time 2:38.9.

first; Fish, Oregon State, fifth.

Meyers, Oregon, third; Edwards,

he set a new 100-yard record.

The summary included:

Oregon, third. Time 3:20.8.

championship.

State one.

Time 2:23.1.

division record).

Oregon State, fifth.

Time 55 seconds.

Racing Schedule Conflict Appears

Horse Outfit May Not Put in Plant; Dog People Win First Round

PORTLAND, March 27-(AP)-The state racing commission found itself in need today of a rubber

With horse racing, dog racing and fair representatives in a scramble for racing dates, the commission found itself confronted with a raft of conflicting de-

• A horse-racing group headed by L. L. Hildenbrandt and Robert Mount asked for a 29-day schedule starting May 98 here, saying it intended to erect a $200,000 plant at the old Rankin airport. The Multnomah Kennel club asked for a 60-day permit, starting May 31, which brought a protest from the horse group. Mount said the two events run at the same time would kill the goose with the golden eggs, namely the public, and also both racing events.

May Try Vancouver The tangle resulted in the temporary abandonment of plans for construction of the horse racing plant. The horse racing group said they would probably run on the Bagley track outside Vancouver, Wash., starting a meet about the middle of May.

To make the problem more complex, the commission, headed by J. S. McFadden, Corvailis, found it must work out a postponement of the Multnomah county fair, scheduled from Aug. 23-28, to the week after the state fair, Sept. 6-11, because parimutuel racing is illegal if it conflicts with county or state fairs.

Valley Boys Win Letters at Hill

Wallace Steed was awarded his letter in basketball, Lee Ryer tling and Alvin Jones of Gervais was awarded his letter in wrestling at the athletic banquet held Monday at Hill Military academy, Portland.

partment of physical education. had 39. and Lieut Jack Woodward, assistant coach, made the presen- third place, one point behind Oh' victory over the Bruins of Univertation of honors.

Diver Shows How Bridge "Brodie" Broke His Back

While doctors battled to save Ray Woods, 30, professional stunt diver, from almost total paralysis after his recent sensational 185 foot plunge from the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge, Ted Needham, well known diver, shows how Woods broke his back. Needham suggested a vagrant wind caught Woods just as he entered the water, twisted his body (as demonstrated above), and forced his legs back over his head with a force that fractured five vertebrae.—International Illustrated News Photo.

Wolverines Take Collegiate Swim Title With Ease

MINNEAPOLIS, March 27-(AP)-Michigan stirred up a tidal wave girls as victors. in the University of Minnesota pool tonight and rode its crest They were: Silverton, Newberg, was awarded his letter in wres- to the national intercollegiate swimming championship.

The Wolverines swept aside all opposition in piling up a total of 75 points, almost double that of Jack Wahl, head of the de- its nearest rival, Ohio State, which

Yale university pulled into

Dallas and Newberg Win Volley Ball Tournament

INDEPENDENCE, March 27-The volleyball tournament held at Independence high Saturday found the Dallas boys and Newberg

Six Willamette valley league teams participated in the event. Dallas, Woodburn, Molalia and Independence.

Indians Drub Bruins

LOS ANGELES, March 27-(AP)-Stanford's Indians ushered in the college track and field season here today with a topheavy 88 to 43 sity of California at Los Angeles.

Linfield to Meet California Teams

MeMINNVILLE, March 27-(AP) -Linfield college's 1937 football schedule will provide games with a group of California colleges, Coach Henry Lever said today. Linfield withdrew from the Northwest conference last fall. The schedule: Sept 25, Cheney State there, Oct. 2, Oregon Normal there, Oct. 16, Humboldt ton, Hurd); Oregon State, third. land university there, Nov. 11

Fime 5:27.7.

San Francisco State here, Nov. State here, Och 22, Pacific Luth- 19, California Tech,, place undeeran at Tacoma, Nov. 5, Port- sided.

The weather man has been a bit unkind to the golfers lately, always scheduling a downpour P) - With one record - breaking for Sunday and providing nice weather on the days that most performance, University of Oregon swimmers won the coast conof them are too busy to play. Still, a lot of the boys are get-ting in a few licks. Saturday here today and retained their The scores; Oregon 57; Washington 52; Oregon State 34; was a fine day and the Salem Golf club course was crowded. The same was true last Saturday and early Sunday. One good thing about these small cloud-Oregon won five first places, Washington three and Oregon bursts, they depopulate the course for the benefit of the Jim Hurd, Oregon's ace, broke optimists who'll wait around the division 50-yard record by until they are over. churning over the course in 24.2 -0-Glen Lengren finally won out in his 72-hole match with Don Hendrie, by 12 strokes so we hear although the boys didn't release their total medal scores. Hendrie was ahead up to Saturday, what with the 11 Lengren took on the fourth last Saturday and the ball he had to shoot out of a tree last Sunday, but in the home stretch Glen cashed in.

> The boys who like to engage in intercity matches are for the most part getting in lots of practice now, and the rest had better for team contests will be coming up pretty soon and Sec-retary John Varley announces that there will be a full schedule, including home-and-home matches with Silverton, Oregon City, Oswego and probably Clark county, in addition to the Willamette valley tournament for eight-man teams which will be at Eugene. -0-dey, Washington, first; Reed, Oregon, second; Dean, Oregon State, The Salem high school team started its interscholastic matches 440-Yard free style - Sexton, in auspicious fashion at Eugene Oregon, first; Brownell, Oregon yesterday, beating Eugene high State, third; Levy, Oregon, fourth. 10 to 2 and University high 71/2 to 41/2 in a three-way match on 400-Yard free style relay-Won the Eugene course. Harry Carson by Oregon (Smith, Scroggins, Sexwas medalist with a 73 and Bob Powell next with 75, which is considerable shooting on that Eugene layout, a few strokes tougheer

Big Hockey Fight Scheduled Today

PORTLAND, March 27 - (A) -The hockey battle of the year will as Portland's ice-loving fans are

In it, the Portland Buckaroos this week. will attempt to hang up their third straight victory over the Spokane Clippers and thereby Louis sextet.

With two victories already reg- 100,000." istered, the last a ding-dong 2-1 decision gained in two overtime periods Thursday night, the Buck- forester continued, selected to aroos will take the ice with an edge but sideliners were betting both eastern and western Oregon in some quarters that Spokane was about ready to break the win- production of posts, fuel and ning streak.

To capture the flag, Portland must win three out of five games. If the Buckaroos lose tomorrow night, the remaining games necessary will be fought out on the Portland ice.

Talk of a game with St. Louis has been current here if the Buckaroos down Spokane three in.a row.

ancouver Rowng Club Crew Sets New Record. Beats Husky Light Eight

SEATTLE, March 27-(A)-Setrecord, the Vancouver, B. C., rowing club eight handed the University of Washington lightweight crew its first defeat of the season today on the Lake Washing- tion was attributed to high feed

The Vancouver time for the mile and a half was 7 minutes, 49 seconds.

Wheeler 1/2 2 1/2 Beardsley

Omlid 1/2 2 1/2 Carson due to the heavy apring seeding

|600,000 Seedling Trees Going Out On Oregon Farms

More than 600,000 forest tree seedlings will go to farmers of be played here tomorrow so far of establishing woodlots, shelter-belts and windbreaks, State Forester J. W. Ferguson announced

With the number already shipped, Ferguson said, the Oregon forest nursery has orders on clinch the pennant of the Pacific entire 937 crop. "The demand for coast league as well as getting a the seedlings has been greater possible shot at the strong St. than ever before, more than double that of two years ago and exceeding the 1936 shipments by

The seedlings consist of 15 varieties of established value, the meet the climatic requirements of and for the needs of the farm in shelter. Plans were being formulated to produce at least one million trees next year and double that amount the following year. Construction work to house the seedlings and provide storage will be carried out by CCC camps.

College Predicts Turkey Decrease

CORVALLIS, March 27 .- (AP)-The Oregon State college extension service this week predicted production this year of fewer turting what officials said was a new keys and chickens but more potatoes than last year, with corresponding market changes.

An expected reduction of from 6 to 8 per cent in pullet produccosts and low egg prices. Early reports from commercial hatcheries indicate a 35 per cent reduction following a 47 per cent increase in the boom year of 1936.

Last year's high potato prices Univ. High (41/2) (71/2) Salem in prospect for Oregon farmers,

POLLY AND HER PALS

SREEN

ЮUSE

DAG NAB IT! SINCE | MAW'S GONE GARDEN-) GOOFY, THEY AIN'T NO? PEACE FER A PERSON

T OUCH!

"-And a Hot Towel, Please!"

By CLIFF STERRETT

by URSULA PARROTT

Gilbert Windon had been in love with lovely Denise Rendale from the moment he met her but she had eyes for no one except Keith Sheldie, handsome young playboy. However, Keith and Denise break up when the irresponsible Keith quet. I'll arrange your train at the does not offer to marry Denise top of the stairs." upon learning of her father's finan-cial ruin. Keith frankly explained that he was solely dependent upon his wealthy father, and to marry meant being disinherited. Despite the fact that she is bored and unhappy, Denise's sister, Felicia, suggests that Denise marry "money" immediately as she herself had done. The latter loved the late Duane Fenton but married the unexciting, though reliable Eustace Gardiner Dayne when Duane failed her. Denise accepts Gilbert on service of the late of face stood out, with the most remembered that he had laughed with genuine amusement when Denise said, "You mean a formal marriage?" and he had said, "I didn't, but if you want it that way, so it shall be, "or words like that. He had done the late by step she went downstairs and through the hall. Gilbert Windon was waiting, looking up at her. Beyond that small sea of faces of family friends, of relatives of Eustace's, of her own school friends, his face stood out, with the most turned to him with liking, her blue her. Denise accepts Gilbert on face stood out, with the most turned to him with liking, her blue condition that the marriage be a formal one and, if at the end of a year she is not happy, he will free her. Keith does not believe she will go through with it. He resented his father's stern dominance of his life which prevented him from doing as he pleased. Keith's mother had run away with her music feacher when Keith was only a year old and had died shortly after. Since then, his father took his hurt out on the boy, bending him to his will. At first Keith endured his father's treatment for loyalty's sake but later because of the money he would inherit. Denise and Gilbert are to be married the week before Thanksgiving. The days passed quickly, Denise thought, but yet were empty. Five days before her wedding-day she receives a note from Keith asking her to meet him. She does, and now when it is too late, he proposes. Much as she loves him, Denise rejects Keith, and as he leaves her he says, "Nothing is forever nowadays. I'll wait for you." As Denise dressed for her wedding, those words kept repeating themselves in her mind. CHAPTER XI

Felicia looked at her diamond wrist-watch. "Plenty of time, still."
I told Father to come back at five of to take you downstairs. Do you mind having such a little wedding? Mine was so huge."
"I shouldn't like a big one."
"Well—"

"You're more nervous than I am, Felicia." "Your dress is lovely." It was pple-green velvet, and did suit Fe-cia's clear pallor and brilliant hair

"No one will notice anyone but Denise didn't answer. "Nothing nowadays is forever," and "Nothing nowadays is forever, and "Nothing nowadays is forever, and "Nothing him. He was taking her hand. She any special gesture of demonstrativeness, her eyes, even her voice, but at the familiar countenance of grew terrified; and immediately he

Felicia said suddenly: "Darling, I do want you to be happy," as if she were pleading.

"I'll be all right, I expect."

"Gilbert is truly a first-rate person, if I know anything about men; and I do know rather a lot."

"Sounds like a recommendation for a butler—first-rate person."

"Denise, don't be hard, don't be mocking, don't be like me." Her sister's voice was serious as Denise had never heard it. "Make up your mind to make a tremendous success of this marriage. Oh, I know, I meant to say nothing, to be carefully unintrusive; but it's too important. Remember how most American novels end with the wedding-day, and most end with the wedding-day, and most continental ones begin with it? Well, though through her he had received that her feelings toward him were the continental attitude, that the only interesting and significant part of your life begins today, that the rest was just a minor rehearsal."

As if she were speaking from a long way off, Denise heard her words. She was to remember them. But now, louder, more insistent, tries of the Mediterranean, through the had received the gravest disappointment of his life.

Six months of the year of marriage he'd asked for were done. He had had Denise's invariably amiable companionship through all the countries of the Mediterranean, through through her he had received the received the gravest disappointment of his life.

Six months of the year of marriage he'd asked for were done. He had had Denise's invariably amiable companionship through all the countries of the Mediterranean, through the received the gravest disappointment of his life.

Six months of the year of marriage he'd asked for were done. He had had Denise's invariably amiable companionship through all the countries of the Mediterranean, through the received the gravest disappointment of his life.

Six months of the year of marriage he'd asked for were done. He had had Denise's invariably amiable companionship through all the countries of the Mediterranean, through the received the gravest disappointment of his life.

Six months of the year of marriage he'd asked for were done. He had had Denise's invariably amiable companionship through all the countries of the Mediterranean, through the received him were those of a daughter to an indulgent father, but more those of a favorite niece toward an admiring uncle.

is forever.' The orchestra began to play. The And here's Father, and your bouwere the words: "Nothing nows | a long succession of sunlit days days is forever—nothing nowadays against some of the most exotic times he thought he'd known her sound came up the stairway very better in the time when he was no softly. Felicia said: "There we are. more to her than a casual guest at her father's or her sister's house. How much he had hoped for in his marriage he knew by the very bit-Denise stood up, took her father's terness of that hope's deferring. He arm, took her bouquet. At the stair-head, Felicia preceded her. The mu-with genuine amusement when Denise was standing beside Gilbert. He was taking her hand.

nowadays is forever," was beating but at the familiar countenance of through her temples as if her heart itself was beating to that one refather and her mother.

troubling look of radiance, of confi- eyes sometimes ardent with interest felt even worse than if she had

Gilbert Windon sat in the crowded tounge of Grosvenor House, surrounded by high-voiced Britishers drinking tea, on a Sunday afternoon in the spring of 1935. He was waiting for Denise to return from a call on a school acquaintance who happened to be in London at another hotel.

The period of Grosvenor House, surrounded by high-voiced Britishers drinking tea, on a Sunday afternoon in the spring of 1935. He was waiting for Denise to return from a call on a school acquaintance who happened to be in London at another hotel.

The period of Grosvenor House, surrounded by high-voiced Britishers drinking tea, on a Sunday afternoon in the spring of 1935. He was waiting for Denise to return from a call on a school acquaintance who happened to be in London at another hotel.

The period of Grosvenor House, surrounded by high-voiced Britishers drinking tea, on a Sunday afternoon in the spring of 1935. He was waiting for Denise to return from a call on a school acquaintance who happened to be in London at another hotel.

The period of Grosvenor House, surrounded by high-voiced Britishers during the surrounded by high-voiced Britishers during the surrounded by high-voiced Britishers during the spring of 1935. He was waiting for Denise to return from a call on a school acquaintance who happened to be in London at another he decided she could not help not loving him, and whatever she did was right, because he loved her so. Generally the situation left him in a state where he thought, resentfully state of the period of the proving the surrounded him to be a surrounded by high-voiced Britishers during the surrounded him, days when he forgot it almost in genuine pleasure in Denise's companionship, days when he decided she could not help not loving him, and whatever she did was right, because he loved her so. Generally the situation left him in a state where he thought, resentfully state whe Something might have been deduced by an acute observer as to the relationship between Gilbert Windon and his wife by the fact that he was invariably early for their appointments, and she was always conscientiously punctual.

YESSIRREE, TONY: THEY'S BOSS, YOU GOTTA MORE'N ONE WAY O' ONE BEEG & BRAIN, SKINNIN'A CAT, YOU BETCHA! YOU BETCHA! BY CRACKY.

A Peace Conference

THA'S TH'TENTH TIME TH'DERN THING'S BIT ME I DON'T SEE HOW

TH' HECK I'LL EVER OIT IT HOME.

MICKEY MOUSE

DER WORLD ISS NOT YET READY FOR MINE INVENTION IT WOULD BRING ONLY SORROW --- UND FIGHTING-UND KILLING!

NOW YOU TAKE ME - ALL I EVER

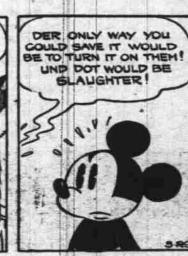

WANTED TO STUDY WAS HORSES

BEFORE I WAS 25 YEARS OLD I

THE DAYS - BEFORE SOME FOOL WENT AN' INVENTED

NOISY PUFFING ILL-MELLING AUTOMOBILES

MENTELL STABLE - THEM WERE

BY BRANDON WALSH

By JIMMY MURPHY

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

Her Ship Comes In

Now the Secret's Out!

DOZENS AND DOZENS OF HIGH-STEPPING THOROUGHBREDS - SHINING HARNESS -BEAUTIFUL CARRIAGES - PEACE-QUIET - CON-TENTMENT - NOW WHAT HAVE WE?ROARING MILLING GAS CONTRAPTIONS WITH NO MORE HEART, LIFE OR SENSE THAN A CROWBAR

TOOTS AND CASPER

I DON'T LIKE WE'RE NOT LONNA BURY CITIES, JUDY! OURSELVES ON ANY RANCH! LET'S MOVE OUT I WANT TO LIVE IN THE ON THE DESERT CITY WHERE WE CAN DO THINGS AND GET TO

THIMBLE THEATRE—Starring Popeye

I KNOW PEOPLE TOO DARNED WELL NOW THAT'S WHY I LIKE

1F I WERE YOUR WIFE ID 40 ANYWHERE JUST TO BE WITH YOU- OH, EZRA-I CAN'T KEEP IT A SECRET ANY LONGER ---I'VE ALWAYS LOVED YOU ...

By SEGAR

