trenches by hand in order to do as little damage as possible. The resolution which the council was asked to adopt also would authorize the water department to restore damaged parking improvements as far as the commission deems practical and economical.

The question of supplying water to subdivisions outside the city limits and of approving acceptance of Fairmount reservoir from Kern & Kibbe, contractors, aroused discussions that kept the commission in session until midnight.

Leases Defended By Rufus Holman

The recent leasing of more than 263,000 acres in eastern Oregon by former Senator Robert N. Stanford resulted in a controversy involving the land board and stockmen and grazing authorities who foresaw serious complications in enforcing the Taylor grazing act as a possible consequence.

Defending the Stanford lease, Holman said the accepted bid was more than twice as high as was suggested by the federal department of grazing and the organized grazing districts.

As a member of the land board, Holman said, he has endeavored to salvage the values of some of the school lands for the benefit of the school fund by consolidating the checker-board sections through exchanges with the federal government. Pending the blocking of the land, he proposed to the board that it no longer permit its free use for private gain, but that the state insist upon rent for such lands as are used.

Governor Rejects Dr. Everson Offer

workers were idle, but other plants were not affected. A meeting will be held tomorrow by employers.

LaGRANDE, Ore., April 2—(AP)—The ability of a man like John L. Lewis, C.I.O. labor chief, to enforce court orders which government officials cannot, was termed a threat to civilization by Governor Charles H. Martin today.

No unofficial person without responsibility to the people as a whole should have the authority to tell thousands of sit-down strikers to move out of a man's plant when he decides they should," the governor said.

As for these sit-down strikers, if you deny the right of employer to his property under the so-called theory of human rights, you are ruining our civilization.

"We do not have the conditions here that they do in the crowded industrial centers of the east. But I say that any pussyfooting politician who does not take a stand should not hold public office.

"I promise to protect you good people of Oregon. I'm not afraid to do it."

Reed Speaker at Credit Gathering

Making of Amusement Devices Becoming Big Industry Here, Says

Salem has definitely become a center for manufacturing of amusement devices, with the loop-o-plane designed by Les Eyerly some four years ago already hitting the half-million dollar mark in sales and the more recent creation, the Octopus, apparently to be an even greater success. Reed in Reed, exclusive jobber for the loop-o-plane, told the Salem Credit association members Friday noon.

These devices have established an industry in Salem which represents now a payroll of $1,900 weekly, Reed declared, and this in spite of the fact that the industry is located 2500 miles from the center of its markets.

The loop-o-plane has been sold to many foreign countries, and last week the first one was shipped to Gay Paree. To date, 222 units have been sold, these including shipments to Mexico, Canada, Chile, Argentina, Guatemala, New Zealand, Paris, Africa, India, Australia and London.

The shipments have represented 634 tons of first class freight, or $57,000 in outgoing freight, a sum sufficient to build two factories the size of the present one in the west market center.

Reed said the loop-o-plane has come to be considered one of the best risks, from a liability insurance standpoint, of any ride on the market.

Mickey Sez— Be a good sport.

Vol. 1

Today is another Saturday, which means that the fellows connected with Mickey Mouse are going to have a swell stage show for you.

M.M.C. Last Saturday I never saw so many pretty Easter outfits in my life. I guess the theatre is the place to see such styles.

M.M.C. It surely seemed nice to have two days grace from school, didn't it. I spent most of my leisure hours in bed.

M.M.C. Today's contest is going to be another one that all you kids will enjoy. I will tell you what it is from the stage today.

Eight Are Killed As Trains Smash

LONDON, April 2—(AP)—Eight persons died and 49 were injured today when a crowded suburban train crashed into another stop at a 60-foot viaduct. A passenger dragged himself from the twisted debris in time to flag a third train.

The accident occurred when an electric train from Coulsdon ripped away the rear, wooden coach of a train which had halted just outside Battersea park.

The dead were in the rear coach. Another car was knocked across a live rail and burst into flames. The current was cut and the fire extinguished.

Dazed occupants of a car swinging precariously on the viaduct crawled from the crumpled coach, and along the narrow track to safety.

Basque Region Is Fight Center Now

(By The Associated Press)

Fighting in the Spanish civil war was concentrated last night in the mountainous Basque country of the north and the rich mining fields of Cordoba, south of Madrid.

Insurgent troops under General Emilio Mola swept to within 20 miles of Bilbao, Basque capital. They captured four strategic mountain peaks and reported numerous enemy dead in an offensive to crush the northern allies of Madrid and Valencia.

Madrid heard the Basque army, equipped now with modern armaments of war, was holding its ground.

Government leaders concentrated on the central and southern fronts, reporting advances north of Cordoba. Damage was inflicted on the city of Cordoba when government planes dropped 80 bombs.

Woman Acquitted Of Murder Count

EVERETT, Wash., April 2—(AP)—A Superior court jury, on its first ballot, tonight acquitted Mrs. Mabel Fain of a second degree murder charge filed after her husband, Harry Fain, was shot to death February 13 in their home at Index.

Mrs. Fain fired five pistol bullets into Fain's body, the state alleged, when she learned he was about to become the father of a child by another woman.

Mrs. Charlotte Oxford, who told Mrs. Fain she thought Fain should marry her.

Kidnap Suspect Suicide

Whale Appears to Be 8-Girl-Power

The whale, a good natured looking monster, was evidently manipulated by three girls, if the count of feet underneath meant anything. Pollywogs presented a tumbling act and frogs in green costumes performed a drill with dumbbells.

The octopus dance was the evening's biggest laugh, heads were covered by a realistic looking body for the fish, and stuffed with stockings made rakish tentacles that quivered when the girls danced.

Small fish with their dance, and "aquabats" forming pyramids concluded the program.

The performance was a colorful and well directed presentation and much appreciated by the spectators. The individual dances were regular work of the physical education classes cleverly arranged to carry the mermaid theme.

Credit largely goes to Mrs. Grace Walgamot, and Mrs. Vivian C. Bartholomew of the physical education department, to Anna Mae Unrath, Elizabeth Steed, Jeannette Arehart and Grace Cooper as pianists and Charlotte McKee who was chairman of the "Jamboree."

The high school band, under the direction of Gordon Finlay, furnished music before and after the performance.

Sit-Down Issue Is Forced on Senate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 2—(AP)—A relentless, militant group of senators blocked all avenues of retreat today and forced an unwilling senate into open battle over approval or disapproval of the sit-down strike.

After hours of strenuous debate, administration leaders abandoned an attempt to sidetrack the question, temporarily by referring it to committee. A group of southern democrats and republicans demanded that the question be decided quickly.

Finally, the senate for the week-end with a proposal still pending to write into the Gutty Vinson coal bill a declaration that public policy is opposed to the sit-down strike technique in the coal industry. While the senate was debating the issue before jammed galleries the house rules committee voted for an investigation of the sit-downs.
