ing of the April circuit court term under Judge L. H. McMahan yesterday filed an amended answer in which he virtually denies connection with the case, one for $15,587 for a 1930 automobile ac-

This defendant, John Nelson, denies that he had employed the plaintiff, Orris Keebaugh, to help haul prunes and further that he had owned or operated the vehicle in question. As further answer he charges that the automobile and trailer involved were driven by Merle White and that Keebaugh was careless in unnecessarily leaving a position of safety and climbing on top of a load of empty prune boxes. Nelson asserts another defendant, Marquam Mutual Telephone company, was reckless in the location of a wire which knocked Keebaugh from the trailer.

When the suit was instituted in 1932 Keebaugh was 20 years old and W. P. Keebaugh was appointed guardian ad litem. The case has hung fire since on motions and demurrers.
