

Ellis Kimball to Bring Orchestra

Noted Radio Musicians to Be at Mellow Moon on Wednesday Night

It's swing time! . . . No not the motion picture . . . but the familiar opening announcement that countless thousands of radio fans like to hear when Ellis Kimball and his versatile orchestra introduce their familiar theme over the air-planes.

But radio and dance fans in Salem won't be listening to Kimball and his entertainers over the air, they will be listening and dancing to his rhythmic melodies at Mellow Moon when he appears there in person with his entire troupe next Wednesday night.

For nearly two years Ellis Kimball and his unusual orchestra have been appearing and broadcasting from the famous Topsy's Roost, at the beach in San Francisco. His popular radio programs have been heard both on the Mutual and Columbia broadcasting networks regularly.

Vocalist Popular
His band offers a distinctive style of music coupled with the poetry of original harmonious arrangements which result in a delightful effect which has secured for him a place "at the top" and a recognition as one of the finest orchestra directors in the west.

Mary Ann Harris, billed as the "Swingiest Little Songstress," is a featured vocalist with the band. Miss Harris is a talented contralto whose specialty has been singing "blue-type numbers."

Jack Buck and Douglas Von are also vocalists in the band and join with Mary Ann to present entertaining specialty trio selections.

and accused of taking part in an insurgent plot to turn the city over to Gen. Francisco Franco.

Agents of junta's public security section made two raids. They seized a reputed "fifth column" outpost within signal distance of the insurgent lines in the city's outskirts and uncovered what they called the largest spy ring found in the capital since the war started.

Shells fell all along the Gran Via as insurgent artillery pounded the center of Madrid in the most severe bombardments in months.

On the siege front, however, there were no important changes. Government troops, communists said, maintained their positions dominating the Manzanares river "corridor" between the main Franco forces in Casa de Campo park and 3,000 isolated insurgents in University City.

The insurgent garrison in the devastated model educational center, hemmed in for days by a seige-within-a-seige, were said to have exhausted their drinking water and to be holding their outpost with difficulty.

Lebanon's Band Is Class C Champion

Difficult Program Played to Win Honors; Three Tied in Class B

EUGENE, April 17.—(AP)—West Linn, The Dalles and Oregon City high schools, triple winners in class B, and Lebanon high, class C champion, carried off major honors in the 14th annual Oregon state high school band contest on the University of Oregon campus here today.

The two day contest came to an end this afternoon when the three class B schools presented their numbers in the music auditorium. Class C competition was held in the morning, and ensemble groups competed Friday.

Using a new rating system, judges placed all three class B schools in division two which denoted excellent performance. The Dalles band was a shade superior to the West Linn and Oregon City bands, but not enough to be given a division one rating for superior ability.

Program Difficult
The Lebanon organization of 45 pieces, bedecked in brilliant red coats, breeched through to a division one classification in class C to finish over 10 other bands. Lebanon's band, directed by Vernon Wiscarson, played a difficult program which included Schubert's unfinished symphony, St. Julian, and Attila-Karoly.

Woodrow Wilson Junior high, University high, Canby and Marshfield were given division two ratings behind Lebanon in class C yesterday morning. Sandy, St. Helens, Tillamook, Woodburn, Beaverton, and Estacada were all placed in division three.

Safety Education Plan Worked Out

10,000 Copies of Booklet Already Given Out Is Report of Snell

Development of a comprehensive state-wide program of motor vehicle accident prevention and safety education, virtually has been completed by Secretary of State Snell, he announced Saturday. The program will be launched shortly.

"This plan," Snell said, "will incorporate all cities and communities of the state and would stress educational programs, sound pictures, luncheon speakers, bulletins, radio, publicity contests and other events."

Snell said he was pleased with the interest being manifested in the new safety educational booklet issued jointly with C. A. Howard, state superintendent of schools, for distribution among the high schools of the state.

The first 10,000-copy edition of the booklet, "Are young drivers good drivers?" already has been exhausted.

"I should like to receive suggestions and ideas from Oregon citizens regarding my program," Snell said. "Each week two of these letters, selected at random, will be read together with the authors' name during our weekly broadcast."
