The brothers are Hugo and Mario, and they perform for Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus, which imported their act from Germany.

Lumber Industry Greatly Improved

But Needs United Front Is Col. Greeley's Word; Snow Still Falls

VALSETZ, April 30—A combined meeting of the 4-L and 3-L Tuesday night drew a crowd of 300 people to the gymnasium to hear Col. W. B. Greeley, secretary-manager of the West Coast Lumbermen's association.

Col. Greeley quoted figures to show the improved condition of the lumber industry, though it is still not up to pre-depression level. He showed that increased building, partly encouraged by the federal housing administration, and research into improved methods and uses of lumber by lumber interests have contributed to this uplift.

Conditions are much better for the working man under recent labor legislation, Col. Greeley pointed out. He closed his address by saying, "We must keep the lumber industry united. Industrial peace and harmony will put the northwest in the lead in national recovery."

Boxers Stage Matches

Three boxing matches followed Col. Greeley's address. Lefty Robinette decisioned John Crockett in two rounds. Claude Burchfield and Albert Clermont battled four rounds to a draw and Glen Strong won the decision over Albert Lee in four rounds.

Lunch was served in the school kitchen at the close of the evening.

Charles Mitchell of Cadillac, Mich., and C. L. Starr of Portland, president and vice-president of the company, were present at the meeting.
