

Major Booth Gives Address

Cement Poured, 50 x 100 Foot Business Block at Lebanon

LEBANON, May 31.—The Memorial day address by Major Joel C. Booth at Sand Ridge cemetery Sunday included much interesting history of this pioneer burying ground, which was opened 80 years ago in June by the burial of a child, and was named for Sand Ridge in Iowa, the former home of many emigrants to this section. It is also used by Plainview as a cemetery and the names of many who have done a large part in the development of Linn county and the state lie in Sand Ridge. Many were present to hear the patriotic address by Major Booth, who has served his country in two wars.

Cement was poured Saturday for the business block 50x100 feet, being erected by S. P. Bach of Portland on the corner of Main and Sherman streets. George Harden, the architect, states that all walls facing streets will be of brick and the building is expected to be finished about the middle of August.

Mrs. Lory Fisher Bruce of Devlin's Lake, N. D., has come to spend the summer with Mrs. Harry Sharman near Lebanon.

Oppose Courthouse

The opposition to the construction of a new county courthouse with surplus general funds is renewed activity at a meeting in Lebanon Wednesday night when representatives from the Tennessee district, Seio, Tallman, Tangent, Foster, Lacombe and Brownville held a determined discussion which ended by the appointment of a committee: T. W. Munyan, Lebanon; John Steep, Crowfoot; J. P. Harrang, Foster; Ernest Scholl, Sweet Home; Pierce Jenks, Tangent; Charles Mitchell, Tennessee; Henry Pyle, Lacombe; Frank Barto, Seio, to keep in touch with the situation. It was suggested that a permanent organization be formed to combat any western Linn county movement in behalf of a new courthouse. Petitions asking for a vote of the people will be signed and presented to the court June 14.

In an official statement the government declared 50 passengers were drowned and several were injured when the ship was torpedoed and sent to the bottom yesterday.

The attack came, the statement said, after another merchant ship escaped a previous torpedo attack in which one of the torpedoes went aground on Caella beach.

"Technical experts, after an examination, confirmed that the torpedo was of Italian manufacture," the statement continued.

"At 3 p. m., the same day, the submarine, still in Spanish waters near Malgrat, attacked the motorship Ciudad de Barcelona, which sank in less than an hour," the statement added.

The bombing of Almeria by German warships a meanwhile aroused intense indignation in Madrid.

American Players Beat Australians

Davis Cup Team Wins all From Visitors; Leave for Wimbledon

By ALAN GOULD
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., May 31.—(AP)—Under a scorching sun America's youthful Davis cup team today completed a grand slam at the expense of the luckless Australians on the turf courts of the West Side club stadium.

Nothing but individual prestige was at stake in the final two singles matches but red-headed J. Donald Budge of California and Bryan M. (Bitay) Grant, Jr., diminutive Georgia "Giant Killer," won both to make the final score 5 to 0 in favor of the U. S. as the North American zone finals came to a one-sided conclusion.

The invaders extracted their one and only set from the wreckage of their 1937 hopes when 18-year-old Jack Bromwich rallied from 3-5 to capture four straight games and the third set before yielding his duel with Budge by scores of 6-2, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

Grant then capped his brilliant debut in the Davis cup "big time" by trouncing the veteran Jack Crawford, 6-0, 6-2, 7-5. Until the Anzac's last-ditch rally prolonged their third set, Grant had Crawford more completely at his mercy than did Budge on the opening day.

Budge and his California partner, Gene Mako, had sewed up the series with a doubles triumph the day before, but the showing today of the Americans sent this country's Davis cup stock soaring to its highest level in years.

The United States squad, under the astute captaincy of Walter L. Pate, sails this Saturday for England and the decisive tests on Wimbledon's classic turf. Germany, picked to win the European zone finals, looms as a more formidable obstacle, in the opinion of experts, than the cup-holding British, now minus the services of Fred Perry after four victorious years.

Fire Burns Barn And Seven Horses

Barn on Hop Lee Estate Farm Is Destroyed; Draws Crowd

Seven horses were burned to death in a fire which, blazing to the sky so that it was plainly visible in many parts of Salem, destroyed a large barn on the Hop Lee estate ranch, 6 1/2 miles north of Salem on the Wheatland ferry road shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night.

Persons on the ranch said the fire apparently started from spontaneous combustion and that the entire barn was an inferno almost before the blaze was noticed.

One elderly horse escaped from the barn and witnesses said one other was gotten outside but dashed back into the flames to perish along with the rest.

A bucket brigade was organized quickly and nearby buildings were wet down so that the fire was prevented from spreading to them.

Dozens of automobile parties and a number of bicyclists went to the fire from Salem and from districts nearby, and at one time there were several hundred persons at the fire.

The Hop Lee ranch is operated by the Fook Chong company and resident managers are Jing Sun, Jing Yet and Jing Guy. The fire was still burning fiercely more than an hour after it broke out, and the managers were unable to make an estimate of the loss.
