

Commercial Club Holds Last Meet

AMITY, June 3.—The Amity Commercial club held its last meeting until fall Wednesday noon in the parlor of the Baptist church with the president, H. W. Torbet, presiding. A resume of the year's work was given. Through the efforts of the club an afternoon mail from Portland through Amity became effective this spring and various other projects for the benefit of the town have been carried out. The annual picnic for the Commercial and Women's Civic Improvement clubs will be arranged later in the month. Mrs. W. E. Yarnes was hostess to the women of the D.A.R. at a luncheon served in the parlors of the Baptist church Wednesday afternoon. Miss Verda Crooks of the Amity grade school faculty left Thursday for Monmouth, where she will spend the summer with her parents, Mrs. J. A. Breeding.

Martin Explains His Labor Policy

"We cannot have collective bargaining and above all we cannot have strikes among state officials and employees," Governor Charles H. Martin told employees of the state utility commission at their annual conference here Thursday. Governor Martin said he was not opposed to state employees becoming members of a union. "That is your business," the governor said. The governor complimented the staff on its loyalty to both Frank McCulloch and N. G. Wallace. McCulloch resigned as state utility commissioner recently and was succeeded by Wallace.

Rapiers Used to Decide School Dispute

Climaxing an argument over their places on the school's fencing team, Robert Cousineap and Harold Bauer, of Los Angeles Junior college, are shown as they decided the matter recently with foils. Cousineap, at right, nicked Bauer's arm and drew first blood. After the meeting on the "field of honor," Cousineap helped dress his opponent's wound. The duel was arranged by John Tatum, fencing coach, and sanctioned by college authorities.—International Illustrated News photo.

Scio Woman Critically Ill, Result of What Appears to Be Stroke

SCIO, June 3.—Scio relatives and friends of Mrs. John Jiroch are alarmed over illness with which she became afflicted a few days ago. She is past 70 and is suffering from what is thought to be a paralytic stroke. Guests at the Joe Lytle home are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fox of northern Wyoming, who are returning north from a winter spent in the south. The families were neighbors on the Wyoming frontier. Fox was a surveyor and land locator for years, but for the last several years has owned and conducted a funeral chapel in his home town, Gillette, Wyoming.
Santiam Central Farm union discussed formation of a flood control unit, at the meeting Wednesday night.

Wright Services Today, Portland

Funeral services for the late Harvey L. Wright, former resident of Salem, who died in Phoenix, Ore., Tuesday, will be held this morning at 10:30 at the Portland crematorium. Wright was a native of Illinois but grew up in Salem, attending public schools here. He was for a long time a representative of a Portland milling company. Wright is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hattie Wright of Phoenix; a son, Irvin of Buhl, Idaho; a daughter, Emma of Corvallis; also four brothers, Perry of Salem, A. S. of Phoenix, Dr. C. C. of Renton, Wash., and V. F. of Chicago.

Arlene Gregory Wins on Poster

SUVER, June 3.—Mrs. Fred Stump left Friday for West Virginia where she will visit a sister this summer. Miss Arlene Gregory of this community won a dollar as first prize last week in a Poppy Poster contest sponsored by the Monmouth American Legion. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Flickinger and Mr. and Mrs. Clara Powell of Monmouth made a fishing trip to East Lake over the week-end. John Smith and Ivan DeArmond also fished there Sunday. Both parties returned with the limit of fish. The barn dance given Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Rock and family was well attended. Lester Hight, Orville and Willis Allen furnished the music. Bill Rock, who has been visiting at the F. N. Rock home the past three weeks left for his home in Seattle Monday.
