Simple Ceremony At Richard's Home Sunday

FITHE home of Professor and Mrs. Ernest C. Richards on Center street was the scene of a beautiful ceremony Sunday af-ternoon at 2 o'clock when Miss Geraldine Edwards, daughter of Mrs. Esther Richards of Portland, became the bride of Francis Flint, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Flint of Salem. Dr. Bruce R. Baxter read the service in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple

The couple exchanged their vows at one end of the living room in front of the bay windows which was banked with a large bouquet of pink gladioli and babybreath, smaller bowls of sweet peas and roses guarded by white tapers in candelabra. On either side of the arrangement were large bouquets of peonies. Bouquets of roses and spring flowers were used about the room.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother from Roseburg, wore a white tailored suit with off-the-face hat and matching accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of pastel flowers. She was attended by Miss Frances Fellers as bridesmaid who wore a white ensemble. Arthur B. Smith, jr., of White Salmon, Washington, was best man for Mr. Flint.

A reception followed the wedding with members of the wedding party receiving informally. Mrs. Harry C. Hanson presided at the urns and Mrs. Earl T. Brown cut the ices. Miss Lois Latimer, Mrs. Ruth Lilly and Mrs. Arthur B. Smith, jr., of White Salmon. Washington, assisted in the serving. The table was centered with the wedding cake guarded by tall ivory tapers in silver holders and bouquets of sweet peas, roses and larkspur.

The couple left later in the afternoon for a wedding trip on the coast after which they will be at home in Portland where Mr. Flint is connected with J. K. Gill company. Mr. Flint is a graduate of Willamette university and a mem-ber of Sigma Tau fraternity.

The rosy glow that's just faded from her guest's mind is all recaptured in her rosy-beige frock with its wine velvet waist-corsage matching the ribbon that scallops and streams from her uncrowned hat. We confess that her hostess is as devastating as her demarks in this printed white taffetanegligee cut in idealized redingote fashion. Firm, but not too much buttoning at the high waistline for the skirt must part to show this white taffeta slip. The velvet ribbon laced 'round the pleated ruffles is pretty silly-but don't you love it?

Oregon Artists' Library By MAXINE BUREN

7ORTHY of great public-interest is the intensely interesting and instructive exhibit of art being shown in the Salem pub-lic library until Sunday, June 13. The exhibit contains the work of the less known Oregon and California artists on widely different subjects and in various media, done under the sponsorship of the federal arts project.

The enormous increase in public interest in art the past few years is attributed to such efforts as this on the part of the government toward publicizing the work of lesser known, yet talented artists of the country. Among the outstanding paintings in the main collection is "Chinese Fisherman" by Tyrus Wong, done in the true simplicity of the age-old Chinese style. Another interesting piece is that of "Night Scene in San Francisco" by Yoshida Sekido, a modern scene with all the ceremonious dignity of old Japan. This painting contrasts curiously with two by American artists of almost the same scene. John Warren's "Pasture Land" is a decidedly pleasing water color in simple strong style. There are 20 pictures in this collection. The second group of the exhibit is a collection of lithographs numbering about 36 pieces. Notable among them is "The Cat" by Olinda Hrdy, "The Embarcodero," many other scenes and portraits and several colored flower reproductions.

The third group is a collection of 30 examples of reproductions various artistic works, handcrafts, prints of the last century, yet the utensils and useful things that subject is some household article have contributed to American life or utilitarian object. since the first settlers.
