Service Groups

Pleas of civic organizations' representatives Monday night for city council financial assistance in converting the old municipal auto camp to a public picnic park inspired Mayor V. E. Kuhn to indict service clubs in general and commend women's organizations for their activity.

"If we had more service clubs that would haul brick and lay brick sidewalks instead of sitting back and finding fault with the administration it would be a marvel," the mayor declared. "The women have done more than the men. If we have any civic-minded citizens, they can help us do somehing about this."

Mayor Kuhn claimed much of the credit for initiation of the Arthur W. Caisse, 20, truck park's development. The reason driver, 625 North 14th street, the improvement has been delaythe improvement has been delayed, he said, was because the flood problem caused by Shelton and Pringle creeks, which join in the parks, had to be solved first.

State Savings

Conversion Into Finance Company Is Issue up to Stockholders

Reorganization of the State Savings and Loan association on a basis which would permit the making of loans on security other than real property is a question which is now before the association's stockholders, it was explained Tuesday by Ernest A. Miller, president, in amplifying, because of numerous inquiries, the information contained in letters sent out to stockholders in May.

It is Mr. Miller's view that because of the numerous government agencies engaging in the loaning of money on new homes, there is not room in that field for a building and loan association. The government agencies purport to loan up to 80 per cent of the appraised value at an interest rate which a loan association cannot compete and still pay adequate returns to its stockholders on their investment, Mr. Miller declared. The issue put up to stockholders is that of exchanging their stock in the savings and loan associa-Tangle Is Viewed tion for 5 per cent income bonds in the proposed finance company. Operations of this company would, he feels, result not only in the realization of a fair return on the investment but would mak to possible for the bondholder: to sell their bonds, if they saw fit, more favorably than they could now sell their stocks.

Two-Thirds Required The decision, however, is up to the stockholders and unless twothirds of them indicate approval of the change, it will not take construct an adequate hospital place. ### Slate Graduation At T. B. Hospital

Friday night, June 11, in the auditorium of the State Tuberculosis hospital, eleven patients who have completed certain prescribed courses will receive diplomas, Included among these are six who have finished the eighth grade and five who have completed their last year of high school. The public is invited. The high school courses at the hospital have been offered through the cooperation of the WPA Adult Education program and the Salem school system. The high school diplomas issued to the graduating patients are given through the local high school and credits are provided also for extension work done under the supervision of the public schools. Those who will receive eighth grade diplomas are Arlene Clark, James Crandell, Wilton Leach, Delmer Jensen, Mary Yamahiro and Mary Yokota. High school diplimas will be presented to Helen Griffith, Florence Kneeland, Dalsy Rains, George Simmons and Jero Kodoma.

Baccalaureate services were held on Sunday, June 6. The sermon was delivered by Reverend Swift of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Ferry Christening Will Be Outlined

The Yambill county court is expected to visit the Marion county court here today to discuss plans for christening of the new Wheatland ferry boat in honor of Daniel Matheny, pioneer who many years ago opened that river crossing. A ceremony including talks on early history of the Wheatland section probably will be worked out.

County Commissioner Roy S. Melson said yesterday the name Wheatland would still apply to the ferry crossing but the boat would carry the name of Matheny.
