the $300 in added money posted for the class championships. For that part of the program there will be 32 cash purses of $25 each, eight of them going to each class.

Friday's shooting is literally four separate tournaments with each group shooting for $200 in added money. The C and D class shooters continue to shoot in their own divisions through Saturday's events and not until Sunday are they required to compete directly against upper bracket shooters.

Earl Snell Puts Up Handsome Trophy

The Earl Snell 100 singles, for which a handsome trophy has been donated by the secretary of state, will be the opening event of Saturday's program. This event will include the first half of the state singles championship and also the junior championship. Added money amounting to $200 is posted for this event.

The Governor's Handicap, an outstanding feature of the Oregon shoots, will be shot off Saturday afternoon over 100 targets at from 17 to 24 yards. There will be $300 in added money and four cash purses of $25 each on this event. In addition to prize money the winner will be given the trophy donated by Governor Charles H. Martin.

Oregon's perpetual cash purses on the handicaps are an unusual feature of the state shoots and one that has made them rank first among all state shoots. Thirteen such cash purses will be divided between the Governor's Handicap Saturday and the state handicap championship Sunday. The handicaps have proven the big attractions of the Oregon shoots as there exists strong possibility of a good handicap shooter coming off a heavy winner in money division and cash purses.

Doubles Title Will Be Decided Saturday

The state doubles championship, with $50 added, will be shot off Saturday in two events of 15 pair and 10 pair.

Last half of the state singles championship and the finals of the Oregonian telegraph competition between 11 eligible gun club teams will be shot off over 100 targets Sunday morning. There will be $300 added money allotted in this division.

The Oregon handicap championship, final and probably most important event of the shoot, will be run off Sunday. This is a heavy paying event for the winner is guaranteed a $200 card if entered for money. The championship will be decided over 100 targets with yardage marks from 17 to 24 yards.

Besides the $300 added money in this event there is an $800 High Gun Money fund to be split between the first 25 high gun over the 100 targets. The winner will get $100, the runner-up $75, the third high gun $50 and $25 cash purses to each of the next 22 high guns. An additional $200 in added money will be divided among shooters who are high guns at their respective yardage marks. The yardage purses tend to make keen competition between the well-matched shooters at each yardage mark. The all around championship, which with the singles, doubles and handicap championships makes up the titles awarded during the meet, is decided on 350 birds, 200 16-yard targets on Saturday and Sunday, 25 pair of doubles on Saturday and the 100 handicap targets on Sunday.

ed here today by Dave Beck, international vice-president of the powerful Teamsters' union, as he voiced sharp criticism of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Beck also charged Harry Bridges, Pacific Coast International Longshoremen's leader, with plans to "crucify inland labor and industry in a general strike." He spoke before the Seattle construction council.

The teamster's leader read a letter from President Green, addressed to the joint council of teamsters, commenting on the dedication of a $100,000 new auditorium here Friday and the opening of a three-day western states regional convention.

"You must not forget there is justice on the other side," Beck quoted Green as saying in the letter.

"Rome was drunk with power and was destroyed, Napoleon became intoxicated with power and egotism and was destroyed. The teamsters have done a wonderful job of organizing, but let them understand there is a limit to the point to which they can go."

"Let them deal with employers with fairness and justice, or at the end they will be eliminated."

of Kansas City, were the last to look upon her. Later today they decided the body will remain here and not be taken to Kansas City, the star's former home. Temporarily, the body reposes in a vault back of the Wee Kirk of the Heather until Mrs. Bello chooses between cremation and a permanent crypt.

Barely 200 persons, most of them Hollywood stars and studio executives, were admitted to the Wee Kirk of the Heather church today.

Promptly at 9 o'clock, Jeanette MacDonald's strong, compelling voice began one of Jean Harlow's favorite songs, "The Indian Love Call."

After the last notes of the song died away, Mrs. Genevieve Smith, Christian Science practitioner, began the service.

Nelson Eddy sang another of Harlow's favorite songs, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." Mrs. Smith then delivered a three-sentence eulogy of Jean Harlow. She spoke entirely in the present tense.

was anticipated. Irrigation will constitute the chief object of the organization; flood control will be incidental.

The articles of incorporation authorize the cooperative to buy equipment and supplies, to borrow money, levy assessments on members and collect fees for water. Jefferson is given as location of the principal office.

Directors of the cooperative, all of Jefferson, are Arthur Page, Ezra C. Hart, Gilbert M. Belknap, Jake W. Gilmour and George W. Potts, Jr. Other signers of the articles include A. L. Page, Homer West, N. F. Gilmour, Fred Wied, Charles G. Sarva, Lee Farlow, Delmer Davidson, Eugene Terly, F. F. Wied, H. E. Russell and D. M. Burnett.

The signers represent a total of 926 acres of land. A membership fee of $2 and $3 per acre reserved for irrigation are provided for.

attitude on this question. Another important resolution scheduled to be acted upon tomorrow will be the Bonneville power policy, involving the controversial question of blanket versus switchboard rates.

Several resolutions found their way to the convention floor today. The delegates opposed any attempt to abolish the Oregon State college radio station, KOAC, at Corvallis; opposed abolition of the Oregon milk control law, favored in a marketing agreement based on majority control of those engaged in industry, and voted down a Jackson county resolution to ban placer mining operations where mud polluted streams.

Lewis J. Taber, national grange master, is scheduled to address the convention Thursday.

Native of Salem Dies, Ellensburg

ELLENSBURG, Wash., June 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Olive Sander, 73, a State college radio station for 50 years and one of its oldest pioneers, died here yesterday afternoon. Death came to her on the same ranch to which she came as a bride in 1881.

Mrs. Sander was born in Oregon in 1863 to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Oleman, who crossed the plains from Missouri by wagon train and settled near Salem.

Her family settled on the Wenas near Yakima when she

Aviators Safe After Bailing

Hodge and McNeil Report After Being Missing About 28 Hours and bailed out. The plane roared down, and we followed it, twisted and buffeted about by that wind.

"We reached ground without injury, and waited until the storm subsided. Then we found the plane wreckage, about half a mile away. We were in a dreary, sandy desert, between two low mountain ranges. We had no idea what part of the country it might be.

"I stayed with the plane—there's very little of it can be salvaged—and McNeil set out along a sort of cattle trail that looked like it might lead somewhere. He walked about 11 miles and then came back. The trail had dwindled to nothingness in the desert.

"He set out in the other direction, then. Night came on, and I huddled up in some tarpaulin and had a good sleep.

"About 10 this morning McNeil came back with some Indians in a truck. He had walked all night, went about 55 miles, and reached an Indian reservation. We didn't learn its name.

"We rode into Ely—it wasn't so far from the reservation—and there we learned we'd smashed up only about 18 miles from a highway which we could have seen from some nearby hilltops."

Kidnaper Sought; Ransom Is Asked

BAYSHORE, N. Y., June 10.—(AP)—State police said an eight-state alarm was broadcast early today for Mrs. Alice Parsons, 38, of Stony Brook, Long Island, believed to have been kidnaped near her home shortly before midnight.

Trooper Herman Bohack, in charge of the barracks, said Mrs. Parsons was seen getting into a car on Patchogue road near Stony Brook with several men. Shortly after, the trooper said, a ransom note demanding $25,000 was received.

Bohack declined to reveal any further details, including the method of delivery of the note or its recipients. He said Mrs. Parsons was married, but declined to give her husband's name. The ransom note was to be inherited $150,000.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Alice Parsons, missing Stony Brook, Long Island, marries, is the wife of William H. Parsons, and the couple is listed in the New York social register, New York police said today.

Rev. F. J. Springer Dies

PORTLAND, June 9.—(AP)—The Rev. Francis J. Springer, 61, pastor of the St. Francis Catholic church at Roy, Ore., died today of heart disease. He held posts at Corvallis, Newport, New Era, Canby and Woodburn.

Clark Heads Council

PORTLAND, June 9.—(AP)—Dr. Edward L. Clark, president of the Oregon Institute of Technology, was named leader of the Portland Council of Churches at the 18th annual meeting of the group last night.

Miss Glutting Champion

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 9.—(AP)—Charlotte Glutting of South Orange, N. J., captured the women's eastern golf championship today, beating Mrs. W. H. Beard of Boston by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff.

Three Executed, Mutilation Case

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 10.—(AP)—One by one, three sullen slayers marched falteringly to sudden death in Indiana state prison's electric chair early today to pay for the mutilation murder of Harry R. Miller, retired Cincinnati fire captain.

The one-time Ohio convict—John Joseph Poholsky, Frank Gore Williams and William A. Kuhlman—went glumly into the "beyond," apparently unremorseful of the gruesome hacking a year ago tomorrow.

The triple execution was the first in state prison's 36-year history.

Pearcy Speaks at Nurserymen Meet

PORTLAND, June 9.—(AP)—The joint convention of the Pacific Coast and Oregon Associations of Nurserymen opened today with 150 delegates attending. The first session was given over to reports and appointment of committees for next year's convention.

Clarence O. Siebenhaier, president of the American Association of Nurserymen, addressed the afternoon session. Other speakers included Fred Edmunds, curator of the international test gardens; Harry A. Marks, past president of the California association and now of the Oregon department of agriculture; John Weiman, president of the nursery service, Portland; Knight Pearcy, Salem, and Henry Hartman, head of the horticulture department, Oregon State college.

Miner Takes Own Life; Wife Visiting at Amity

SEATTLE, June 9.—(AP)—Leaving a terse note reading: "Good-bye, Royce and kids," Morris Trover, 36, Black Diamond miner, took his life there today by shooting himself in the forehead with a .22 caliber rifle, Deputy Coroner C. L. Harris reported. His wife, Mrs. Royce Trover, is at Amity, Ore., visiting her mother.

Four children, the oldest, Herman, 16, also survive.

Taxation Problem Study Is Started

Old Age Assistance Will Require 4 Million in 1938 Is Forecast

ent social security set up as a makeshift but added that it might work out satisfactorily.

Several proposals for raising additional revenue were suggested. McBain suggested a manufacturers' and wholesale transaction tax which would exempt retail levies and food. Galloway said he feared that such a tax would result in complications and would not be constitutional.

Shifting many of the secondary roads in the counties to the state highway map, so as to reduce the county road levies and thereby leave more funds available for old age assistance and other requirements, also was broached by Representative Carl Engdahl of Pendleton.

A straight sales tax also was mentioned but none of the members thought such a levy could be voted in Oregon.

Revamping of the entire public school tax system also was suggested as a means of reducing governmental costs.

"Our present school tax system is a relic of the horse and buggy days," Engdahl averred.

Gust Anderson of Portland asked if it would be possible to raise the income tax rate in the higher brackets.

Galloway said the income tax this year would yield approximately $5,000,000 as against $2,200,000 in 1935.

"We haven't the large incomes of Washington and California," Galloway continued.

The suggestion was made that some savings also might be made by investigating the expenditures of existing state departments and institutions.

Members of the committee will contact the county courts, tax organizations and other groups with a view of obtaining suggestions as to how additional revenue may be raised. Particular attention also will be given the distribution of state funds.

All meetings of the commission will be held in Salem.

Members include Gust Anderson and B. T. McBain, Portland; Roy E. Carter, Gold Beach; Ralph O. Stevenson, Medford; Carl Engdahl, Pendleton; H. C. Herros, Corvallis, and Charles V. Galloway, Salem.

Georgia Rejects Dry Law Repeal By Small Margin

ATLANTA, June 9.—(AP)—Complete, unofficial returns tonight showed defeat of a proposal to repeal Georgia's 22 year old prohibition law by 8,277 votes.

The vote was: For repeal 94,652; against repeal 102,929.

In the same election, Georgians gave a heavy majority to 26 constitutional amendments sponsored by Governor E. D. Roosevelt, governor, E. D. Rivers, and opposed by the state's anti-new deal ex-governor, Eugene Talmadge.

Talmadge conceded the adoption of the amendments, and Marvin Griffin of Bainbridge, chairman of the Georgia Alcohol Control association, said "the anti-repeal forces have scored another victory."

Four Tornadoes Hit in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 9.—(AP)—Four tornadoes raged through central and eastern Oklahoma tonight killing a farm woman, injuring at least ten other persons and wrecking buildings in at least six communities.

Mrs. Fannie Thornton, 68, a widow, was killed when a tornado picked up her farm home six miles east of Union City and demolished it.

The storm struck near Union City, Mustang, and Moore, and at Maud and near Cushing.

Meager reports from Muskogee, where communication lines were down, said a wind storm struck there, damaging at least a dozen houses.

Farmers Battling Mormon Crickets

PASCO, Wash., June 9.—(AP)—Nearly two score men were battling advancing hordes of Mormon crickets on a 35-mile front north of here tonight.

With the egg depositing season reported at its peak, crickets have swarmed over every piece of vegetation in the district, filling trenches dug for them and turned roads into wide ribbons of crushed crickets where cars have passed.
