Don McLeod Wins Big Diaper Derby

Don McLeod overcame the handicap of a brisk breeze which made difficult the task of folding what Popeye calls "three-cornered underwear" to take first place in the "diaper derby" for American Legion members which featured the legion's Independence day celebration sports program Monday forenoon at the fairgrounds.
Lloyd Demarest finished second without crowding McLeod too closely. "Mose" Palmateer, who was speediest of the trio in getting to the dressing table with his diaper and safety-pins, made the fatal error of folding the diaper once too many times and had it to do over again so he had to be content with third place.
Attendance and competition for the sports program were up to standard set in past years. Oliver B. Huston was sports chairman.

Style-Smiles --- by Gretchen

"I'm eating before John arrives so I'll be able to refuse dinner when he gets mad about this new dress!"

Self-preservation comes first, though this dress is worth any sacrifice. It's a honey and has what the designers call a "bolero expression." The wide plaid taffeta sash which seems to form an underblouse reappears at the neck—yellow, black and a bright green which matches the dress. Flowers, cut out of the same fabric that makes the hand-blocked jacket on the right, were appliqued on an otherwise simple blue dress creating a splendid ensemble.—Copyright 1937, Esquire Features, Inc.

Tieup of Seattle Paper in Effect

Teamsters Go Past Picket Line to Get Papers, None Printed
SEATTLE, July 5.—(AP)—More than 200 fulltime employees were idle today after American Newspaper Guild strike sympathizers picketed the Seattle Star plant in a jurisdictional dispute with the teamsters union over circulation employees union affiliations.
The teamsters, aided by police, moved through the picket line with four delivery trucks to the newspaper's empty loading platform, but printers did not attempt to break the picket line and only two newspaper executives and a few watchmen were inside.
The Star is a member of the Scripps league of newspapers. The dispute which closed it started last week when the teamsters, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, declined to deliver two editions of the paper because circulation employees had joined the guild instead of the teamsters' new affiliate—the Newspaper Drivers & Helpers union.
An agreement was reached by which the teamsters guaranteed to deliver the papers, and the circulation men were transferred to other duties, the management announced Saturday. The guild then walked out, charging the

Oiling of Road to Dayton Is Started

DAYTON, July 5.—Oiling 10 miles of the Dayton-Salem state highway through the Unionvale district, connecting the paved portion in the Wheatland district and the oiled part in the Pleasantdale neighborhood, is in progress. Approximately 25 men are employed in the work.
Ten members of the Krowledeen club attended the regular meeting held Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dower, when Mrs. Vernon Foster was hostess. Miss Madalene Rosner won high at cards. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Helder.
Charles Hadley of Dayton was 92 years of age June 27. He is the only surviving Civil War veteran here. He came here from Indiana 46 years ago. He has three sons, Rolph of the Pleasantdale vicinity, Uller, who is city marshal of Dayton; and Douglas Hadley of Oregon City.

Crochet Favors

By RUTH ORR
Pattern No. 484
Crochet these attractive little baskets, stiffen them, and you will have individual favors. Or, you can use them after time, for they can be laundered and stiffened whenever you like. They are just the sort of unusual novelty that will sell like hot cakes at your next bazaar. Begin now to make up several of them.
The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand directions, also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.
To obtain this pattern, send for No. 484 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Ad-

Double Holiday Is Pleasure Even If Alone

"NOT a thought, not a care, with a heart deBonnaire," says the waltz, a good theme song for the woman who spends a two-day holiday alone at home.
National inhibition day was celebrated by how many lone business women or wives who remained at home over the Fourth to secretly enjoy an orgy of doing anything at just any old time.
To turn on the radio as loud as one wishes, so it can be heard for a block (unless modesty directed the doors and windows to be closed). Or if "swing music" is a secret favorite, then to listen to nothing but that.
Or maybe not hear the radio at all, for two whole days, especially politics and news flashes.
To take a long bath, almost too long, adding more hot water as the temperature drops.
To eat in the front room and watch the cars go by.
To take an hour to make the bed, sit down and read a paper, dust the vase on the shelf, straighten the dresser.
To leisurely give one's self a facial, or a manicure, or take strenuous exercises who's pronounced thump thump on the floor makes them impossible at ordinary times.
These are some of the compensations of being left alone, the pleasures of a real holiday, the opportunity to see how well during one's own company can be.

Today's Menu

- Tomatoes stuffed with cabbage slaw will be the salad that begins today's dinner menu.
Stuffed tomatoes
Lamb chops with noodles
Scalloped asparagus
Celery stalks
Cherry pie

SCALLOPED ASPARAGUS
Partially cook asparagus stalks, lay in a casserole in alternate layers with buttered breadcrumbs. Add cream sauce and top with a sprinkling of grated cheese. Bake until brown on the top and well heated through.

Rules for Canning Are Given

Canning cherries is in fashion right now, and because the crop is small, the season will be short.
CANNING CHERRIES
Cherries are canned using a cup for cup syrup of sugar and water, and processed 68 minutes in the oven beginning in a cold oven and heating going up to 250. In the wash boiler cherries should be processed for 25 minutes counting the time from when water jumps around jars.
When you plan a long drive, and expect to cook on the way, you'll find that eggs keep better and are easier to carry when they're broken into a fruit jar or milk bottle and topped tightly. Then if there are any left over they'll scramble nicely the next morning for breakfast.

Cherry Garnishes For Winter on Canning List

HOW many bright cherry garnishes are going to appear on winter salads to add a cheery touch of color, depends on the ambition of the home canner right now. Making maraschino cherries at home is certainly a nice accomplishment, and a much appreciated one when mid-winter rolls around.
There are several methods, personally I say use the simpler one; it's good, and allows for a greater quantity of the delightful red garnishes.

MARASCHINO CHERRIES (Quick Method)

- 5 lbs. cherries (Royal Anne)
- 4 lbs. sugar (8 cups)
- 4 teaspoons almond extract
- 3 tablespoons red coloring
- Pit cherries and let stand overnight with sugar. In the morning cook 20 minutes and add coloring and flavor just as removing from stove. Put into small jars and cover.
- Maybe the longer method does produce firmer cherries, though no better in color or flavor.
- MARASCHINO CHERRIES (Three-Day Method)
- 4 1/2 lbs. Royal Anne cherries
- 2 tablespoons red coloring
- 4 1/2 lbs. sugar (9 cups)
- 2 tablespoons almond extract
- Juice of 1 lemon
- Pit cherries, soak overnight in a brine made of 1 teaspoon alum and 2 tablespoons salt to each quart of water needed. Next day wash off until all traces of brine are gone. Add 3 cups water and the sugar and coloring. Bring to the boiling point and let stand 24 hours. Bring again to the boiling point and again let stand 24 hours, then bring to the boiling point again, add almond extract and lemon juice and seal in small bottles.

paper with unfair practices.
The Star guildsmen who struck included newsroom, advertising and circulation employees. Their picket line swelled to about 80 today with the aid of guild members from the Post-Intelligencer and members of the sailors union.

Lee Shaw, secretary of the teamsters promotional league and representative of the Seattle teamsters joint council, explained the truck movement through the picket line was in compliance with an agreement to deliver papers for the Star.

He issued a statement that "we regret the Star is shut down. The shutdown was by employees of the Star in the name of the guild."

"We are not employees of the Star, except that we were hired to do the job. Unlike the other unions there, we are ready to perform our duty."

The Star management stated it was caught between two rival unions in a jurisdictional dispute and was attempting to act as the conciliator. It stated it might be forced to suspend publication permanently.
The guild stated the strike was

Pastor Formerly At Woodburn Dies

SEATTLE, July 5.—(AP)—The Rev. Boudnot Seeley, 60, Portland, Presbyterian minister, died suddenly while preparing to preach as supply pastor of the Mt. Baker church here Sunday.

Rev. Seeley was the first minister of the Rose City Park Presbyterian church in Portland, taking the pulpit in 1910. He was also supply pastor at Woodburn several years ago.
He is survived by his widow, Mayannah, and one son, Tyler W. Seeley of Portland.

Gay Colors Feature Smart Styles for Summer

Possibly the most distinctive feature of the smart summer fashion parade is the manner in which gay colors are used to brighten up the new models. Prints are much in favor, especially when used with contrasting-colored jackets. Bette Davis is wearing a splashy black and white printed crepe which fashions a short-sleeved jacket with a white chiffon background in most effective fashion. Sandra Storme, another Hollywoodite, is sporting a printed crepe jacket with white chiffon which is built up into a multi-layered skirt of delicate beauty. For playtime hours nothing could be more attractive than the smart number worn by Olive De Havilland. It is a simply styled hand-blocked linen with a tile red background and design of tan and white.
