

Dizzy Dean and Goofy Gomez to Tangle at Start of Big Game

League Stars Vie for Keeps

Capacity Crowd Promised; Grove and Hubbell to Do Some Pitching

By ALAN GOULD
WASHINGTON, July 6.—(AP)—The national capital will take a baseball holiday tomorrow while the major leagues put on their fifth annual all-star show before President Roosevelt and an expected capacity crowd of nearly 32,000 fans.

Hand-picked by the rival pilots, Bill Terry of the New York Giants and Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees, the opposing battle lines featured an opening pitchers' duel between the unpredictable Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean, ace righthander of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Vernon "Goofy" Gomez of the Yankees.

Dean, who flew in from St. Louis tonight, drew his second straight starting assignment for the all-star game.

Gomez, one of five members of the world champion Yankees concentrated in the Americans' lineup, will tee off in the box for the fourth time in five seasons.

For the first time since the inter-league "dream game" became a reality at Chicago in 1933, the S.R.O. sign will be out.

Pitching casualties affected the plans of both league camps, causing managers to send calls for replacements. The rival forces, picked without running the risks of any popular polls this year, are strictly "playing for keeps."

Mungo is on Shift
The Nationals suffered a blow when big Van Lingle Mungo, fireball righthander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, came up with a sore sack. He was Terry's original choice to share the pitching job with Dean and Carl Hubbell, the Giants' screwball master.

Terry tonight decided to call on his star young righthander, Clyde Castleton, if needed.

Mungo arrived later in the evening and announced he would be ready for work if Terry desired to use him. Castleton also was en route and Terry elected to wait until gametime tomorrow before tentatively deciding which would join the Nationals' staff.

Meantime Terry indicated he would use Lee Grissom of the Reds as third flinger. He also has Cy Blanton of the Pirates and Bucky Walters of the Phillies on his pitching roster.

Monty Stratton, ace White Sox righthander, was declared out of the Americans' lineup with a wrist injury. McCarthy selected one of his own men, Johnny Murphy, as a replacement.

Betting Is Even
With both sides presenting their strongest arrays at the outset, the betting fraternity quoted 6 to 5, and take your choice.

The Nationals relied heavily on their big batting guns, featuring three Cardinals and three Cubs clouters to find the range while Dean and Hubbell hold off the Yankee dominated attack.

The return of Joe Cronin, Red Sox manager and shortstop, to the American lineup in a park where he led a championship club in 1933, shared interest with the sophomore appearance of Joe Mauer of the Indians or Tommy Bridges of the Tigers was slated for the other.

Fair weather was predicted but the big league sponsors took out rain insurance, anyway, sufficient to cover expenses, amounting to about $12,000. If there is a postponement, the game will be set back to 11 a.m. Thursday. Net proceeds of the game go to the ball players' national benevolent fund.

The batting order:
Nationals
P. Waner, Pirates, rf; Herman, Cubs, 2b; Vaughn, Pirates, 3b; Medwick, Cardinals, lf; Demaree, Cubs, cf; Mize, Cardinals, 1b; Hartnett, Cubs, c; Bartlett, Giants, ss; J. Dean, Cardinals, p.

Americans
Rolfe, Yankees, 3b; Gehring, Tigers, 2b; DiMaggio, Yankees, cf; Gehrig, Yankees, 1b; Averill, Indians, rf; Cronin, Red Sox, ss; Dickey, Yankees, c; Bell, Browns, lf; Gomez, Yankees, p.

Diamond Funeral Held
For Baseball Official
LOS ANGELES, July 6.—(AP)—The "home plate" was the goal of Russ Hall a greater part of his life, and so when funeral services were held today for the former baseball player and secretary of the professional ball players of America they were conducted before 1,000 friends at the home plate in Wrigley field.

Slugging Power Features American "All-Stars" for Big Game

Five veterans of all five All-Star major league baseball games are included among those who were chosen to represent the American league in the 1937 classic at Griffith stadium in Washington, July 7. They are Bill Dickey, Yankee catcher; Lefty Gomez, Yankee pitcher; Charley Gehringer, Tiger second baseman; Jimmy Foxx, Boston first baseman, and Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman who is leading the league in hitting. They were picked by Manager Joe McCarthy of the world champion New York Yankees who pilots the American league outfit by virtue of having led his team to a league victory last year.

Ol' Diz Lucky in Tolerant Bosses

They Show Him Errors of Ways; Star Convinced Against Refusal

By PAUL MICKELSON

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(AP)—By far the luckiest thing that ever happened to the adventuresome Dizzy Dean is that he hitched his blinking baseball star to the coat tails of Sam Bredon and Branch Rickey.

Diz has called his tolerant benefactors almost everything from bomb sports to tightwads. His rebellions, holdouts, antics and pop-offs have given them a thousand headaches; but the St. Louis Cardinal bosses have steered him from the whirlpools.

It is doubtful if any other baseball magnates, many of whom think no more of selling a player than you do of swapping in your old car, would have stood for one fraction of the abuse Rickey and Bredon have absorbed from the great Dean.

Courted Disgrace
Except for Bredon—and possibly Rickey—the great Dean would have fallen into permanent baseball disgrace if he had stuck by his avowed intention and refused to play in the all-star game.

Many baseball leaders, awed and dismayed at Diz' audacity, predicted he would have been boycotted in every city, town and village where the game is played because the contest here is for charity—broken down ball players—and even Dean can't get gay with charity.

But Bredon calmed Diz down, pointed out the almost certain repercussions and got him to change his mind. Diz can thank Sam Bredon for that one, even if he forgets the other good deeds and advice.

And chances are that Diz will hurl a great game for the National leaguers tomorrow, arising out of the ashes of disgrace to heroic heights. That's his way—and his luck.

Horton Smith Repeats Record Round To Lead Qualifiers; Four Americans Right Behind Him to Score Monopoly

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, July 6.—(AP)—Dubbed "happy face" by the Scots since his arrival in Carnoustie, Horton Smith, the big, blond Missouri boy by way of Chicago, tonight had proved himself a serious contender for the British open golf championship.

He shot his second straight 69 today to lead 141 qualifiers by three strokes and emphasize the American monopoly that obtained throughout the 36-hole elimination.

Smith posted a total score of 138, four under par, three shots ahead of Gene Sarazen and four better than the 142 scored by Byron Nelson, Sam Snead and the inevitable Walter Hagen.

Only after these five American stalwarts had stuck their names atop the scoreboard was Britain able to place a man. Alastair McLeod, blond, 30-year-old member of a famous Glasgow golfing family, and Max Faulkner, son and assistant of a Berkshire professional, managed to sneak in at 143 before the United States.

South Africa and Ireland shoved the home-bred out again.

Topping the list of 144 starters was the veteran Joe Kirkwood, the Australian-born American trick shot specialist, who well-nigh insulted these proud Carnoustie folk by zooming over the adjoining Burnside links in 67, four under par and ten under his first-round score over the championship course, which will be used exclusively when the 72-hole championship proper gets under way tomorrow.

Tied with him were Ed Dudley of Philadelphia and U. S. open champion Ralph Guldahl; Bobby Locke, sensational 19-year-old South African amateur; Paddy Mahon from Dublin and three Englishmen, Walter Smithers, W. C. Hancock and Stanley Stonehouse.

Announcement of a special treat for members of the Statesman Legion school only will be made at today's session, Maple has announced.

Strikeout Expert Sent to Syracuse

CINCINNATI, July 6.—(AP)—Johnny Vandermeer, the 22-year-old strikeout king of the minor leagues last year, went to Syracuse of the International league today under a 24-hour recall.

The Cincinnati Reds, for whom he won three games while losing four, sent Vandermeer to Syracuse from whom they recalled Jake Mooty, a 22-year-old righthander who was with the Reds during the closing weeks of the 1936 season.

Like righthand Rookie Lloyd Moore, Vandermeer was sent to the minors with instructions to work on mastery of control.

Louis-Farr Scrap Handed Approval

15-Rounder in Gotham Is Forecast; Schmeling Is Ignored Again

NEW YORK, July 6.—(AP)—The New York state athletic commission today formally approved a heavyweight title match between Joe Louis and Tommy Farr, British empire titleholder, in a sudden move that apparently left Max Schmeling once more on the outside looking in.

The fight, at 15 rounds, will be held in the Yankee stadium, Promoter Mike Jacobs said, but the date is uncertain.

Louis, who won the title by knocking out Jimmy Braddock at Chicago last month, will defer his proposed trip to England until after the match will Farr, Jacobs said.

Ted Broadbrib, manager of Farr, said the British champion will not go through with a scheduled tussle with Schmeling in London at least until after Farr has clashed with the Detroit negro.

Explaining the commission's action, Chairman John P. Phelan said he cabled Schmeling the commission could not recognize the proposed Farr-Schmeling bout as a championship engagement. At the same time, Phelan said, the commission informed Schmeling that Louis wanted to defend the championship in September and that he (Schmeling) was regarded as the outstanding challenger.

When no reply was received from the German boxer, Phelan said, the commission decided to approve the Louis-Farr match.

Hogg's Winner Opening Round

Walk on Wait's in Finale and Man's Shop Beats Gladstone Outfit

Hogg Bros. took the first round championship of the Salem Softball association season by defeating an uninspired Wait's squad 9 to 0 last night on Sweetland field. Roth, pitching for Hogg's, let the losers down with only three hits, and those were scattered in separate innings.

The furniture men opened with a rush, scoring four runs on as many blows in the first, aided by three costly bobbles by Wait's. No further scoring came until the fifth, when three more were pushed across, and a seven-inning victory came when 2 more were added in that frame. Serdits doubled in the first and Roth helped win his own game by a double in the seventh.

Wait's five errors, including some overthrows to first, were responsible for many extra bases for the Hogg boys, who bobbled only once.

In the opener, which ran for 9 innings, a team from Gladstone, near Portland, was puzzled by the speedy delivery of "Bus" Haugh for the Man's Shop, and went down under a 7 to 0 shutout.

Haugh, a stocky lefthander who is guest pitcher for the clothiers while on a visit from Kansas, never was in trouble as his teammates hit heavily.

A homer by Harold Hauk in the third helped matters along for the Salem team.

Hogg, Bros. .... 9 13 1

Gladstone ..... 7 9 2

May Go Higher Soon

"All of the team will be kept at El Paso all year for seasoning, because they learn more playing there than they would substituting elsewhere. After that some year in a league like that some players jump up several grades in one season and are all ready to go."

Bevans and Manning were scouted both at the Oregon semi-pro tournament in Portland last year and in the Yankee baseball school at Salem. However, there won't be any such school this year.

"We find the state tournaments are better places to scout than at baseball schools, now that most states are holding them. At the schools we had to take everything, good players and country greenhorns, whereas most of the players in the tournaments are good ball players and we don't have to waste time on those in whom we are not interested."

Texas Is Pleased With Oregon Lads

Manning and Bevans Make Exceptional Showing on El Paso Club

SILVERTON, July 6.—"The town of El Paso is crazy about those hustling kids," said Bob Coltrin, New York Yankee scout, who has been a constant spectator at the Oregon semi-pro tournament, concerning the Oregon boys who went south this season to play ball.

"This is the first year in professional ball for every one of the players, and they won the first half championship of the league in second place when they went on the road, and won eight out of 11 games to take the lead.

"The kids are hustling all the time, and coin showers are frequent. Manning's just a youngster, is the oldest man on the squad. He is playing a great game, and has hit over .320 all season.

"Bill Bevans is the leading strikeout pitcher in the league, and hasn't pitched a bad game yet.

"Bobby Baer, Hop Gold second baseman I signed from last year's state tournament, is one of the scrappiest rookies they ever had there, according to Manager Jimmy Zinn.

"All of the team will be kept at El Paso all year for seasoning, because they learn more playing there than they would substituting elsewhere. After that some year in a league like that some players jump up several grades in one season and are all ready to go."

Keasey Is Oregon Archery Champion

CORVALLIS, July 6.—(AP)—Gillman Keasey of Corvallis, national archery champion, won the Oregon title today by defeating Barton Bixler of Portland at the annual state tournament.

Bixler led until near the end of the three-day event. The winner, defending his titles of 1935 and 1936, scored 2017 points. Bixler tallied 1946 points and Pat Chambers of Portland finished third with 1816.

Portland won the team title and Corvallis placed second.

Mrs. Pat Chambers of Portland took first place in the women's division. Mrs. Henry Hewitt, Portland, captured the women's flight distance shoot, sending her arrow 357 yards.

The association elected V. D. McCauley, Eugene, president, and selected Eugene for next year's meeting place. An effort will be made to bring the national tournament to Portland or Corvallis in 1938.

Clingman Gets Moran' Title

Flying Tackles Work for Popular Gob; Tussles Unusually Brief

Otis Clingman took whatever claim Sailor Moran held on the Pacific coast middleweight wrestling title away from him in workmanlike fashion at the army Tuesday night, much to the delight of the cash customers.

Moran's slugging tactics, employed to the accompaniment of the usual chorus of boos, enabled him to win the second fall but Clingman took the first and then the deciding round, each time with Sonnenbergs. The fall lasted only a little over 17 minutes, Clingman leveling his foe in 3:45 in the last round, as the slim attendance apparently prevented any inspired antics.

The earlier bouts, which included an extra one not on the bill, also were brief. Marshall Carter took a one-fall victory over Kiyoshi Uno, a Japanese, using a crab hold.

Panther Wins Quickly
The Black Panther utilized an overly-strenuous whip wristlock and body press to subdue Danny Russo, and the latter was not able to continue after losing the first fall.

Bobby Burns and Bob Cummings arrived at no settlement, Cummings winning the first fall and Burns the second. In the four remaining minutes neither was able to cash in.

Red Grange Will Retain Same Job

CHICAGO, July 6.—(AP)—Turning down two offers from national professional football league clubs, and another from a college, Harold "Red" Grange signed today as assistant coach to George Halas of the Chicago Bears. It will be the famed "galloping ghost" third season as backfield coach with the Bears.
