The Kentuckian declared, too, that the report was being widely used by "followers of the golden calf" who are attempting to form a new political party which will "take over" the republican party and bring "disaster to Franklin

D. Roosevelt."
To this, Wheeler replied with a repetition of a previous statement that two close advisers of the president had suggested the court reorganization to him more than a year ago. Wheeler said it was kept out of last autumn's campaign at his urgent pleading that it would "wreck" the president. The Montanan added that he did not wish to see the president meet disaster then, and does not wish

For an hour and a half, leading opponents of the measure-Wheeler, Burke of Nebraska, Connally of Texas, all democrats-beset Logan with accusations, with ironic and sometimes angry questions. Then, the senate quit to go

'I Did It With These Hands' Says Dyer

Before God, I killed them-I strangled them-with these hands!" This was the cry of Albert W. Dyer, as he raised his hands after confessing to the fiend murder of three little Inglewood, Cal., girls: After his confession Dyer collapsed and was carried to the Los Angeles county jail. Logan based his remarks primarily on the committee report. There was nothing in the proceedings of the committee, he said, to indicate that the report would be a "violent document," attacking the president.

"If the statements in that report are true," he asserted with emphasis, "if they are established, the president ought to be impeached and removed. And yet we are told there is no charge against the president in the re-

Dusting Airplane Crashes, Two Die

MORRISVILLE, Pa., July 7-(AP)-Two men lost their lives late today when the airplane in which they were dusting crops with insecticide struck a tree and plunged into the old Lehigh canal.

An eye-witness told how, first on the scene, he held the head of the injured pilot above water but could not pull the flier out because he was pinned in the wreckage. When more men arrived to help, their weight proved too much for the plane and it sank deeper, carrying the injured man with it.

The victims were identified as Richard Shanklin, 25, Chicago, a transport pilot, and Stanley Pengally, 25, Trevorton, Pa., duster, by A. C. Wilson, their employer.

Peace in East

Soldiers of the 29th army said the battle started when nightmaneuvering Japanese troops attempted to capture the marble bridge across the Ying-Ting. After a brief skirmish the Chinese withdrew into the city which the Japanese brought under artillery fire at dawn. A portion of the city_was destroyed.

The bambardment of Wan pinghsien was said to have started without warning. The Chinese Garrison within the walls did not have artillery or machine guns.

SHANGHAI, July 8 -(Thursday)-(P)-The Domei (Japanese) news agency reported from Pelping today a spokesman for Japanese military headquarters there declared the Chinese forces battling maneuvering Japanese troops would be "wiped out" un-less they threw down their arms immediately.

The virtual ultimatum came, Domei reported, at 10 a.m., (6 p. m. PST Wednesday) after five hours of severe fighting for possession of the strategic Fengtai railway junction and Marco Polo bridge, ten miles west of China's ancient capital.

At that time the Japanese high command was reported to have meeting here Friday on the unit accepted a Chinese request for an values of property in four blocks armistice. The Japanese spokesman indicated, however, cessation of hostilities depended upon the immediate withdrawal of Chinese forces in the vicinity.

An official Japanese communique declared "Japanese troops executing night maneuvers at Fengtal late Wednesday were attacked by Chinese machine gun-

The communique claimed the Chinese brought reinforcements into the action, including artillery, "forcing the Japanese to return the fire."

Chinese advices from Peiping charged two Japanese dressed as civilians had fired on the Chinese garrison at the temple half a mile

The next move in the case is for Friday, when Miss West is scheduled to give a deposition in the office of Wallace's attorney. Previously, there was trouble about the deposition matter, when Miss West on advice of counsel, refused to vouchsafe any information save her name and address. She faced a contempt of court citation, but in the meantime the original suit Wallace filed here was thrown out of court on the ground that it was filed under the wrong statute. A new complaint was drawn under the correct statute and that brought Miss West's admission today.

The second suit was accompanied by letters which Wallace said he wrote to Miss West-one speaking of his love and affection for her and asking that she recognize him as her husband, the other setting forth that he had a legal claim to community prop-
