

Report Attacked By Rufus Holman

Grazing Plan Criticized; State School Fund Has Been Looted, Claim

Objection to the report on blocking of Oregon's state-owned grazing lands filed by the "committee of nine" was voiced Monday at a meeting of the state land board by Rufus Holman, state treasurer, together with a charge that the state school fund had been looted and all that remained was a mere pretense of the original federal grant.

"This report, like other reports where an attempt was made to help the state, savors of the hands of private interests," Holman declared. "There is a long, sad story of how Oregon has been robbed of its resources. If you will study the land fraud cases you will see where our timber has gone. Fish also has provided a profitable ground for the private selfish interests."

Holman said that while the report of the committee might be the best that could be prepared under existing conditions he was not in favor of some of its provisions. The state treasurer said he particularly was opposed to that part of the report recommending that the grazing lands be leased at from two to three cents an acre.

"In the state of Idaho less valuable grazing lands have been leased at 10 cents an acre," Holman continued.

Holman suggested that the lands be blocked in usable sized tracts and that no attempt be made to include all the grazing lands of any county in a single block.

Governor Agrees
"I concur in everything you have said," Governor Charles H. Martin declared.

Experts from Oregon State college said the details would have to be worked out later.

"In the final analysis it is up to the state board to fix the rental price after the lands are blocked," one expert said.

It was suggested that the details of the blocking plan be worked out by a representative of the land board, the committee chairman, and some person connected with the grazing land division.

The state proposes to exchange grazing lands for similar lands owned by the federal government so they may be blocked into large tracts and leased to livestock raisers with a substantial profit to the state.

Cherrians to Get Report on Circus

King Bing A. A. Gueffroy of the Cherrians has called a meeting of that group for Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Quella, when full report on the Sky Circus held here last Thursday under Cherrian sponsorship will be presented.

The Cherrians will also arrange final details for attendance at the Santiam Spree Friday morning, when they will crown the queen of Stayton's annual jubilee following the parade that morning at 11 o'clock.

Another matter to come before the group Thursday night will be participation in the Oregon Trail pageant at Eugene July 24.

Lebanon Farmer Shoots Self; Condition Said To Be Highly Critical

LEBANON, July 12—Jack Beale, middle aged farmer a few miles southeast of Lebanon was brought to the Lebanon general hospital Friday night in a critical condition from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, the bullet entering under the chin and penetrating the head, crushing the skull bones.

He was semi-conscious Saturday but unable to talk. It is said that his case is hopeless. Domestic worries, appeared from the note left, to be the trouble.

The Indians Had a Name For It...?

CORVALLIS, July 12—Seven-year-old Myron W. Bower of Corvallis, and Mrs. Margaret J. Foster, 52, also of Corvallis, were issued a marriage license at Vancouver, Wash., recently. The bridegroom is well known in this city, having retired as mail clerk here several years ago. Mrs. Foster has lived in Corvallis for many years and is well acquainted in this city. The couple plan to be married in Seattle.

Amelia's Stepson Joins Father in Radio Vigil

New courage was given to George Palmer Putnam, publisher husband of Amelia Earhart, when his son by a former marriage arrived in San Francisco recently by plane from Florida to join his father in the radio vigil which Putnam has kept since his wife reported she was forced to land. David Putnam, 24, is pictured with his father on his arrival at the airport. Hopes of finding the missing fliers grew as navy planes widened their search.—L.I.N. photo.

Oiling Finished, Keizer District

The county road oiling crew yesterday finished repairing and resealing roads in the Keizer district and the Cherry avenue extension. Today the task of sealing the portion of old Turner road that was oil-surfaced last season will be undertaken.

County Engineer N. C. Hubbs said late yesterday that the present unsealed section of old Turner road, running from the Paradise island road to the pavement leading to the penitentiary annex, would be surfaced this week but whether or not Airport road would be oiled now or left until later in the summer had not been definitely decided.

The old Turner road oiling job done last year has held up so well that virtually no patching will be required, according to Hubbs. The sealing work to be done this week was a job omitted last summer.

Member Pioneer Family Is Called

CORVALLIS, July 12—Wade Hinton, son of Thomas and Margaret Barclay Hinton, early pioneers of Benton county who crossed the plains by ox-team to Oregon in early days, died here yesterday at his farm home. He had been ill for some time and recurring heart attacks proved to be fatal.

He was a member of the Woodmen of the World lodge at Bellfountain besides being an active member of the McFarland community in which he lived.

Surviving him are two sisters, Miss Amy Hinton, Monroe, and Mrs. Minnie Stiles, Halsey; and four brothers, Warren and Emmett Hinton, Corvallis; Fred Hinton, R. F. D. No. 3, Junction City, and Ivan Hinton, Monroeville.

Forgery Charges Will Face Three

Two young men were lodged in the city jail to be held for state police last night, after Captain Lansing of the state police brought them here from Oregon City where they were arrested Saturday night on forgery charges.

The men, giving the names of Fred Barnes of Kelseyville, Calif., and Kenneth Stenberg of Elmira, N. Y., were picked up by the Oregon City police. The men were fingerprinted here yesterday, and steps toward prosecuting them will be taken today. A third man, Larry Stevens, is being held at Oregon City, charged with passing bad checks.

Control of Thrip Is Shown Near Dallas

Demonstration at Minty's Farm Shows Spraying as Effective

DALLAS, July 12.—An important thrip control meeting was held recently in Polk county at the George Minty farm, according to County Agent W. C. Leth. People from six Willamette valley counties and from Clark county, Washington, attended.

The meeting was sponsored by Leth with the assistance of Don C. Mote and S. C. Jones of the entomology department of Oregon State college. Jones has been working for some time on thrip control measures in many prune producing sections and he has been directly responsible for the methods of control used in the Willamette valley.

Jones has conducted a number of demonstrations on the farm of George Minty in Polk county. A number of different plots have been used for demonstrating different kinds of spray. The materials that have been recommended for regular application by growers have been a lime-sulphur nicotine sulphate combination and an oil nicotine sulphate combination.

Treatment Effective
Without a single exception the treated plots in the Minty orchard show a considerable heavier crop than the unsprayed plots. Those attending the demonstration were able to observe the effectiveness of the treatments used in the Minty orchard. According to some of those present this was one of the best demonstrations yet held in showing that thrips can be controlled by effective spraying.

Jones pointed out that if the control is to be effective the spray must be applied at the right time and that it must be applied thoroughly. The lime-sulphur mixture recommended was three gallons of lime-sulphur and one pint of nicotine sulphate to one hundred gallons of water. He stated that it was desirable to use from 300 lb. to 500 lb. pressure.

New City Park Is Ready for Picnics

Salem's new municipal park is all set for its first picnic parties following a face-lifting and other rejuvenation work realized as result of recent concerted action of local women's organizations and service clubs.

Playground equipment has been donated for the park by Frank Wedel, manager of the Deaconess hospital just south of which the park is situated. Horseshoe courts have been installed, tables and chair refurbishings and other equipment added.

Labor for the work has cost the city nothing, this being handled by the NYA.

The park is electrically lighted for accommodation of those who wish to hold picnics in the evening. Fire pits are also available.

Local florists have donated hundreds of plants which have been utilized in beautifying these municipal grounds, formerly used as a city auto camp.

Reception Given Pastor at Dallas

DALLAS, July 12.—The members of the First Methodist church gave a reception late last week at the church in honor of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Linn and family. Rev. Linn has been pastor of the Dallas church for the past two years and was returned to this church by the conference which met recently at Klamath Falls.

Rawson Chapin presided at the program which had been arranged. Preston Doughton welcomed the pastor to the church for another year. Herbert Elliott, superintendent of the Sunday school, also gave a short talk.

Mrs. Ralph Murphy led the group in congregational singing. Rev. F. A. Lenz, pastor of the Dallas Evangelical church, made a short address. Mrs. Ralph Murphy, superintendent of the primary and junior department of the Sunday school, and Mr. Murphy told something of the program and progress of the church during the past year. Lois DeHaven gave a reading. Mrs. Christina Bennett, president of the Ladies Aid society, presented a lovely gift to Mr. and Mrs. Linn. The Ladies Aid served liquid refreshments.

Heavy Domestic Receipts Brings Wheat Mart Low

CHICAGO, July 12.—(P)—Augmented selling pressure because of big receipts of new domestic winter wheat, and much profit-taking for early buyers, pulled Chicago wheat values lower today.

Declines of prices came chiefly in late transactions after the wheat market had ruled higher most of the day because of pessimistic crop reports from the U. S. spring wheat belt and also from Canada. Word of severe damage to spring wheat on account of black rust as well as drought and excessively high temperatures attracted particular attention.

Accelerating the downturn of wheat values at the last was an announcement that the U. S. wheat visible supply total had increased 11,459,000 bushels today against 5,005,000 bushels increase last week, and 7,577,000 increase the corresponding week last year.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 4-1/4 cents under yesterday's finish, July $1.20, Sept. $1.21 1/4, Dec. $1.23 1/4-1/2; corn 1/4-3/8 down, July $1.26 1/4, Sept. $1.12-1.12 1/2, Dec. 80 1/2; oats 1/4 off, Sept. 37 1/2; and rye showing 1/4-1/8 setback.

Bond of Deputies Issue Here Again

Payment of premiums on bonds covering deputies in Sheriff A. C. Burk's offices was discussed again by the county court yesterday but no action taken other than to refer the matter to District Attorney Lyle J. Page. The question was reopened by Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Randall, who declared the premiums were long overdue and payment was being urged by the bonding company.

Later last year a bonding company had agreed to bond the sheriff demanded one day before the bond was to go into effect that two more deputies be covered. This bond was then canceled and one obtained from the Great American Indemnity company. The latter firm, after bonding the sheriff for $50,000 as sheriff and $10,000 as tax collector, subsequently demanded that T. J. Brabec, chief deputy tax collector, be placed under $10,000 bond and seven other deputies under bonds of $2000 each. The bonds were issued but payment of the premiums has been in dispute ever since.

Sept. 85 1/2. The outcome in provisions was 2 cents to 10 cents drop.

Lenore Kight Wingard shows her record-breaking technique. Notice the foaming "bow-wave" she pushes up in front—a sure sign of a powerful swimmer.

This picture gives you a good idea of how a champion does the crawl. Lenore's leg drive, pivoted at the hips, is in perfect rhythm with her vigorous arm stroke. The result is smooth, streamlined speed—record-breaking speed!

From starting gun to finish line, Lenore's under tension. As pictured at right, even her breathing must be timed to a split second.

Even after an 880-yard race, Lenore comes up smiling. In choosing her cigarette, she pays particular attention to mildness. "I've found I can smoke Camels as often as I like, thanks to their mildness," she says.

(Right) OVER HER AFTER-DINNER CAMELS, LENORE WINGARD SAYS: "For digestion's sake—smoke Camels, it's a rule with me. They help me to enjoy my food, even when I feel tired or tense. Smoking Camels seems to put me in just the right mood at mealtimes and helps me to have a feeling of well-being afterward. Camels set me right! Because Camels are so mild—and made from such costly tobaccos—you can smoke them steadily, without jangled nerves. At mealtimes, Camels encourage a free flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—and lend a helping hand to good digestion."

"THE MRS. likes to see me enjoy a hearty meal," says Frank Mullady, auto-mechanic. "Smoking Camels at mealtimes helps me feel my digestion's tuned up."

NO LET-UP from 9 to 6. Miss Ida Gray, buyer, says: "A quick bite is often all I have time for. I've adopted that slogan 'for digestion's sake—smoke Camels.'"

"CAMERA!" Nerves are down rigger when a movie is being filmed. Russell Metry says about that: "Camel's mildness appeals to me. They never jangle my nerves."
