

Four World-Famous Golfers Coming Here for Match August 21

Salem Course Will Be Scene

Active Club Sponsor With no Fees to Spectators; Luminaries to Play

Four of the world's outstanding professional golfers will play an exhibition match in Salem on the afternoon of Saturday, August 21, it was announced yesterday when officers of the Salem Golf club received a confirming letter clinching their appearance, which will be sponsored by the Active club.

The players are Lawson Little, who was amateur champion of the United States in 1934 and that same year won the British amateur title, shortly before he turned professional; Jim M. Thompson, generally considered the longest driver in the game; Horton Smith and "Lighthouse" Harry Cooper, a pair of colorful veterans who have won numerous open and professional titles.

Horton Smith was medalist in the recent British open, shooting a pair of 69s at the famous Carnoustie course in Scotland where the tournament was held. He broke the course record the first day and equaled that performance the next day.

No Gallery Charge
The visit of four such luminaries to Salem is an event that has no parallel in the past and is not likely to be duplicated in the future. Nevertheless, through the arrangements made with the Active club, there will be no charge to spectators, and a record gallery is assured for the event.

In the foursome match, Little and Thompson, the long hitters, will team together against Smith and Cooper, the stylists who excel in approaching and putting rather than in sending golf balls for long rides.

The Active club and the Salem Golf club are inviting all golfers in the middle Willamette valley and all others interested, to witness this outstanding professional exhibition match.

Keeping Cup Here Big Problem now

Budge to Receive Offers for Turning Pro but May Reject Them

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—The successful culmination of America's ten-year, $150,000 campaign to recapture the Davis cup furnished the basis today for a new boom in this country's tennis operations. It also laid the foundation for some fresh problems.

Experts conceded that a considerable element of the future, as well as the close call against Germany in the inter-zone finals, figured largely in the triumph of the youngest team this country ever sent to the Davis cup wars.

To the flaming-hatched Don Budge—as was the case in 1913 when the red-headed Maurice McLoughlin played the major role in ending a decade of Davis cup "drought" for America—goes the bulk of credit for recapturing the massive silver bowl, along with its tray and ebony base.

How long can the United States hope to keep the trophy in the home vaults? The answer to that now depends, almost entirely, upon Budge. The red-head is almost certain to receive flattering offers to turn professional.

Before him will be dangled the chance to make at least $100,000 by playing Vines and Perry. It may be difficult to resist, but he's young, just scaling the peaks at 22, and there will be tremendous pressure on him to keep the Davis cup safe for the U. S. A.

The best guess is that Budge won't list to pro inducements for several years. The prestige of being the world's top amateur, as Perry was and as Budge now is, is not easily to be discarded.

Former Students In 16th Reunion

Officers elected are: President, Mrs. Nora Taylor of Starling; vice-president, Chester Mack of Forest Grove; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Daisy Geddes of Portland.

A program including music by the Soda-ville orchestra and readings by Lorayne Crosby followed the business meeting.

A picnic dinner was served under the trees with all entering into reminiscent stories of college days.

DETROIT'S SURPRISE CANDIDATE FOR 1937 PITCHING LAURELS.

ROXIE, SUPPOSED TO BE MERELY A RELIEF HURLER, HAS LOSSES ON HIM AS THE TIGERS' BIGGEST WINNER!

ROXIE

LAWSON

SURPRISE, SURPRISE! The unheralded Roxie Lawson, bench-warming moundsman of the Detroit Tigers, has turned out to be the pitching phenom of the American League.

The Bengals counted upon School-boy Rowe, Tommy Bridges and Eldon Auker as their slinging standbys at the season's outset. Roxie Lawson was carried as a mere relief hurler.

However, Rowe was laid up with a sore arm, and only Bridges lived up to expectations. The lowly Lawson was given his chance as a starter, and, wonder of wonders, he outshone all the rest.

Remarkable Roxie has been Detroit's biggest mound winner, and is unquestionably the most startling slinger of the junior circuit.

The wisest experts never dreamed that Lawson would outpitch School-boy Rowe this year, but then the wisest experts have been wrong before.

Farr, Louis Meet To Sign Articles

Shake Hands but Neglect to Wish Each Other Luck in big Bout

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—Tommy Farr and Joe Louis met for the first time today, shook hands, but did not wish each other luck.

They were introduced in the offices of the New York state athletic commission where they formally signed articles for their August 26 heavyweight title fight in the Yankee stadium.

Their comments on each other were brief and to the point. "I see, but he's a big hokie, aren't he?" said Farr. "Well, the bigger they are, the harder they fall, wot?"

"I'm glad to see him looking so fit," said Louis. "It ought to be a good fight, but I hope to knock him out."

Ignore Each Other
The two gladiators were in the same room for five minutes before anybody bothered to introduce them. They stood in opposite corners chatting to acquaintances. Neither so much as gave the other a glance. Finally, Chairman John J. Phelan took Farr to Louis' corner and presented him.

"Hello, my boy," greeted Tommy. "How are you? Glad to meet you."

Louis stuck out a limp hand and replied: "Hello, I'm glad to know you, too."

Articles for the fight specify Louis, as champion, is to receive 40 per cent of the net gate. Farr's end will be 20 per cent.

It ought to pack the place.

Cummings Victor In Close Contest

Tussle With Tremaine Is Marked by Recoveries, Sudden Reversals

Bob Cummings, a San Francisco wrestler, and Andy Tremaine, Arizona grappler, had a difficult time deciding which should win the final fall of their wrestling match at the armory last night and were still planning each other valiantly when Referee Harry Elliott called a stop to the contest and Alfonso busness by giving Cummings the win.

Each had the other in what are supposed to be finishing holds at least three times in the final set-to but, by hook or crook, the victim each time managed to turn the tables and become the aggressor.

Cummings took the first fall with an Indian death lock and Tremaine the second with a rocking cradle.

Awarded the deciding fall on a foul when Salior Moran kneeed the Buffalo Bisons, 1-0, Florida, won two straight from the New Orleans gob. Burns took the first with his twisting headlock. Kyoshi Uno, 164 1/2, Seattle, took two falls from Ace Abbott in the 30 minute opener.

It's a sport for multi-millionaires and even the persons who can afford to watch the big challenge race for the America's cup starting next Saturday won't be able to see much. Yet there is as much interest in this event as in nearly any large sport event, unless it be the world's series, and for most papers in this country the yacht races are front page news.

Davis Cup Due To Come Home

Boyish Trio Finishes Rout of British; Budge Is Hero of Campaign

By SCOTTY RESTON
WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 27 (AP)—America's "war babies" galloped off with the Davis cup today as Frankie Parker and Don Budge swept the final two singles matches of the challenge round with Great Britain and brought the stars and stripes to the end of a ten-year campaign aimed at recovery of the international team tennis trophy.

To Parker, compactly-built 21-year-old youngster from Milwaukee, went the honor of clinching the series with a 6-2, 6-4, 6-3 triumph over Charles Edgar Hare in the first of today's closing matches. Then Budge, "veteran" of the team at 22 and like Parker a grammar school student when America last held the cup, made the final series count 4-1 by whipping the British stylist, Henry Wilfred "Bunny" Austin, 8-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

When it was all over, her highness the Princess Helena Victoria lifted the big trophy from a table draped with the stars and stripes and the union jack, and handed it over in the name of the British who had held it since 1933 when France's six-year grip finally was broken.

Gone Nine Years
Thus the cup, which had defied all American efforts since age crept into William Tatem Tilden's legs, was ready for its first crossing of the Atlantic since 1927.

That was the year that Rene Lacoste and Henri Cochet whipped Tilden and "Little Bill" Johnston on the final day of the challenge round and took the cup to France with them.

And not the least remarkable feature of the American triumph was that it was accomplished with perhaps the youngest team that ever reached a Davis cup challenge round. Gene Mako, Los Angeles blond and third member of the squad, is only 21.

Although deprived of the privilege of scoring the clinching point, Budge remained the heroic figure in America's successful drive. It was the singles victory of the Oakland, Calif., red-head scored over Hare on Saturday and the doubles triumph he and Mako earned against C. R. D. Tuckey and F. H. D. Wilde yesterday, that left Parker in a position to win the cup.

SILVERTON, July 27 (AP)—Although outhit, the House of David entered ball players to crown their way to 7 to 5 victory over the Silver Falls Timber company baseball team here tonight, taking advantage of the home team's five errors.

League Softball Resumes Tonight

The Man's Shop, fourth place holder in the city softball league, will battle the Eagles in tonight's opening game at Sweetland field in an effort to halt its current losing streak.

Wait's, who slipped to a tie for first place with Hogg Brothers when defeated by the Paper-makers Monday, will meet the fifth place Square Deal team in the nightcap.

Yanks Manage to Nose Out Detroit

Win 6-5 in 11th in Spite of Poor Base Running; Widen Their Lead

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—Despite some of the poor base running which marked the closing games of their last western trip, the Yankees opened a home stand with an eleven-inning, 6-5 triumph over the Detroit Tigers today.

Gained on the strength of Red Rolfe's home run with one out and a man on base, it gave Red Ruffing his 13th triumph of the season against three defeats and stretched the champions American league lead to six games over the White Sox, who lost to Washington.

The Yankees were outhit, 15 to 8, and didn't get a single safely off Whistling Jake Wade, the Tigers' starting pitcher, until the sixth. Then Rolfe drew one of the 11 passes issued by Wade and Jack Russell, his successor, and Joe Dimaggio followed it up with his twenty-eighth home run of the season.
