Included in the list of Oregon labor organizations combining to stage today's demonstration is Workers' Alliance, the Citizens' Committee of Portland and Salem, the Oregon Commonwealth Federation, the Trades and Labor Council and the Truckmen's union, scheduled to provide transportation for those coming from Portland to join in the march.

Postal Employees Deny Strike Vote

SEATTLE, Aug. 12.—(AP)—George Mulkey, business representative for local 77, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, said tonight 90 postal telegraph system employees in Seattle expect to resume negotiations with the company next week in an effort to work out a new wage agreement. He said negotiations probably will be continued simultaneously in Seattle, Portland and Spokane for employees in Washington, Oregon and Idaho. He denied a strike vote had been taken in Seattle.

Edith Wharton Is Called at Age 75

SAINTE BRICE SOUS FORET, France, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Edith Wharton, one of the outstanding figures of American literature for a generation, died yesterday at her chateau near here, it was announced today. In spite of her 75 years, Mrs. Wharton had been working on a new novel until she suffered a heart attack. Mrs. Wharton had lived in France for 35 years and nearly all her best known books were written in this country, many of them dealing with France. "Ethan Frome," published in 1911, was generally considered by critics to be her finest work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A bill calling for a temporary administrative authority for Bonneville dam wheeled past congress today to the president's desk.

Action upon it was completed with adoption by the house of a conference committee report. The bill, to be superseded when a general authority is created for all federal projects in the Columbia basin, puts a $10,000-a-year interior department administrator in charge of power distribution and sales and gives the war department supervision of the dam, fishways, shiplocks and powerhouse. Jurisdiction over generating facilities rests with the army engineers, the administrator acting in an advisory capacity.

New Pinball Test Planned in Wasco

THE DALLES, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The way for a new legal test of the right to operate pinball machines was sought here today by Walter Toose, Portland lawyer and counsel for operators.

Toose, presenting a plan to District Attorney T. Leland Brown, succeeded in forestalling immediate removal of machines in Wasco county, although Brown ordered that operation of them cease. The lawyer suggested that the machines be licensed for "amusement only" and said he also was seeking an agreement whereby no action would be taken here against the operators pending disposition of a test suit, which would be filed on the grounds that if cities licensed them, gambling statutes would be superseded.

Third Russ Plane Past Polar Area

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Sigmund Levanoffsky, piloting a huge four-motored plane and accompanied by a crew of five, took off from Moscow today for a flight across the north pole to New York.

The most famous of soviet aviators, however, will not attempt a non-stop flight to the United States, a feat accomplished twice in the last two months by Russian aviators. His plans called for refueling halts at Fairbanks, Alaska; Edmonton, Alberta, and possibly Chicago.

Wes Hayes Knocked out

TACOMA, Wash., August 12.—(AP)—Bill Boyd, of Birmingham, Ala., twice all-navy heavyweight champion, made his professional debut with a smashing one-round knockout over Wes Hayes, Portland, Ore., negro, here tonight. Boyd weighed 184 1/2 pounds and Hayes 172 1/2.

exist, with Hillsboro second. Addressing the opening session this morning, Governor Charles Martin complimented the Legion for its work in defeating a legislative measure to make military training optional in the state university and college. Vigorously but with good humor, the governor referred to the Workers' Alliance "job march" at the state capital. "I asked the employment department to give me information on jobs," he said. "I learned there were 5877. I've got them waiting on my desk when they call for them. "We have a lot of communists and racketeers and cowards running around Oregon. We'll take care of the unfortunate and every-one worthy of being taken care of." J. Monroe Johnson of Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of commerce, termed the Legion the "most powerful civic organization in the nation" and "one of the greatest blessings of war."

Douglas Outlines Medical Progress

Now things in the medical world: Serums which have cured pneumonia patients in numerous cases, methods of measuring the degree to which rooms are purified of bacteria through circulation of air, killing bacteria by the use of ultra-violet light, preparation of vitamin C in pure form so that it may be given in tablets instead of feeding orange juice, a device for determining deficiency in vitamin A, and a new drug which may be successful in curing gonorrhea. Things the medical profession is striving for: Determination of the cause and possible prevention of cancer, solution of the problem of mental diseases, control of venereal diseases, methods of combating decay of teeth, methods of curing respiratory diseases such as infantile paralysis. These were some of the points touched upon in a talk by Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, head of the Marion county health department, before the Salem Lions club Thursday noon.
