

Spanish War Vets Picnic, Lebanon

Hundred in Sunday Event Held at H. H. Hern's Park Grove

LEBANON—Spanish War Veterans, with their families and friends to the number of 108, arrived from many points in the state Sunday to celebrate the 20th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hern at Island Inn Park, the property of the Herns. The park was colorful with more than 200 balloons in the air and the national colors in evidence.

A target that attracted much attention is a tree that has grown into an almost exact picture of a deer with antlers; this was placed on a swinging pedestal and was the goal of many marksmen. Swimming and hiking were some of the pleasures of the day.

At the feast spread in the park Mr. and Mrs. Hern's contribution was a massive wedding cake, ice cream and punch. Many gifts were bestowed upon this couple who annually entertain Mr. Hern's army comrades. The present day club with families and friends had a picnic dinner at Bates' park Thursday evening.

Soldier Bugs Are Given Plane Ride

CHICAGO, Aug. 20—(AP)—They're giving bugs free airplane rides now.

Not just ordinary bugs, mind you, but "soldier bugs," known to the scientific world as Trichogramma. Thousands of them are flying the airlines in big transport ships each week in a war against crop destroying insects.

More interesting, perhaps, are the schedules maintained so these "passengers" may reach their destinations on time.

The "soldier bugs" are parasites which attack the eggs of other insects, particularly those of moths which appear on fruit trees, sugar cane and cotton, and exterminate them before they reach the harmful maturity stage.
