

Labor Board's Aid Unwanted

"Hands Off" Warning for C. W. Hope but Trades Council Differs

acceptance last Saturday of a CIO charter by the Portland local of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' union.
CIO leaders claimed that approximately 90 per cent of the membership of the Columbia river district council of the lumber union had deserted the AFL with the acceptance of a CIO charter last night by the large Glenwood local at Foxton Grove.
Bona Mathis, secretary of the building trades council and AFL leader here, said: "Yes, absolutely," when asked if he favored Hope's plan for an audit. "We want the rank and file to know where it stands; this is a free country, and we should be glad to cooperate on an audit."
Morris H. Jones, speaking for the employers, said that group would "consider any proposal that will be a speedy settlement of the present controversy."

SEATTLE, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Charles W. Hope, regional director of the national labor relations board, tonight denied charges of Abe Muir, carpenter's union official, that the board was a "political agency."
Hope said he did not view differences between the AFL and CIO in the lumber industry as a jurisdictional dispute.
The board, he said, has jurisdiction over any employer engaged in interstate commerce, "and most lumber mills are in that category."

LONGVIEW, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Abe Muir, executive board member of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, assailed before the Pacific northwest woodworkers today the national labor relations board as a "political agency that has no place in this country."
He addressed a meeting of delegates of the lumber and sawmill workers union from Oregon and Washington called to create a successor to the defunct federation of woodworkers.
Speaking at the insistence of the delegates, who overruled his wish not to appear until tomorrow, Muir said of the NLRB:
"Not a single piece of real relief has resulted in its meddling and unwarranted interference in the affairs of the woodworkers."
He insisted less than a majority of the St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber Co. plant workers voted for the CIO. He charged the labor board with "legerdemain" in creating a "false picture of the situation" there.

Congress Passes Grant Lands Bill

ceded from the Oregon and California Railroad company and the Coos Bay Wagon Road company before the land was confiscated by the government for violation of grant terms.
Generally the new bill provides:
1. Sustained yield management.
2. Perpetual payment of 50 per cent of the revenue to the counties.
3. Payment of 25 per cent to the counties until delinquent tax loans reimbursements have been liquidated, after which the 25 per cent will go to the government to clear a deficit in the land grant fund amounting to approximately $7,000,000.
4. Payment of 25 per cent to the interior department for administrative purposes.
5. A guarantee that the annual revenue to the counties shall never be less than 75 per cent of the gross revenue of $500,000 received in the peak year of 1934.

Appropriation Bill Passed by Senate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The senate approved today its last major legislation of the session, a deficiency appropriation bill providing $150,000,000 for scores of federal agencies and projects.
It passed the measure without a recorded vote, after adding items totaling more than $50,000,000 in a hum-drum fire-hour consideration. As approved by the house the bill had called for only a $98,000,000 appropriation.
Conference committees of the two houses immediately set to work ironing out differences between the senate and house bills.
Senator King (D-Utah) rose to protest the measure's "extravagance," and to warn his colleagues that drastic economy would be necessary to avoid "inflation and ultimate ruin."

Sinking Canyon Is Goal of Tourists

ates a ranch adjoining the Robertson farm, invited hundreds of tourists to cross her fields and view the canyon from a distance — at 50 cents a car.
Many townspeople hire out as guides. Two enterprising amateur photographers from Buhl snapped views of the "canyon," quickly sold 1,000 postcards, and ordered more.

To Farmer Robertson, however, who stands by helplessly as nature dabbles with his land, there is no commercial value. His property is closed to tourists, for fear some may be injured by the shifting land. He already has watched seven acres plunge more than 250 feet into the earth.

Faithful Mary to Head new Heaven

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Faithful Mary, the erstwhile head angel of Father Divine's Harlem serapharchy, set up an opposition heaven of her own today.
With a five-story brownstone building to be known henceforth as her House of Universal Light, she signaled her disaffection from the Divine "heaven" still running at the old stand.
Faithful Mary's heaven is to have a grand opening soon with a heavy supply of a kind of earth-bound manna—pork chops and spare ribs—for 2000 persons. She broke with Father Divine some time ago; said it was a money question.

the Eskimos and reindeer. Under the bill the government would buy all the reindeer in Alaska not now owned by the Eskimos and turn them over to the natives.
While these developments were taking place, house and senate conferees perspired over the task of reaching an agreement on the administration housing bill. The major dispute was over the limit to be placed upon the cost of building low-rental homes—whether $1,000 a room fixed by the senate, or prevailing costs, approved by the house.

Refugees Suffer Terror of Quake

when bombs fell only a block away from her Shanghai home.
MANILA, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Two violent earth shocks rocked the darkness and damage throughout Manila tonight just as the city was receiving the first American refugees from embattled Shanghai.
The first and most devastating quake came at 7:59 1/2 p.m. (8:59 1/2 a.m. EST). Broken masonry and glass cascaded down the fronts of buildings and into the streets.
Residents fled in terror from their homes. Darkness enveloped the city of 300,000 as the electric service failed for a short time. Fires broke out in many places, but few proved serious.
The first wave of terror was just beginning to subside when the second quake shook the city at 8:24 p.m.
The death of one person in adjacent Cavite province was attributed to heart failure induced by earthquake fright.
Authorities computed the injured at about thirty persons. They said the fact that many Manila buildings were of timber and were bolted together probably forestalled a major catastrophe.
The shocks, worst experienced here in forty years, centered only 3 1/2 miles from the downtown area and were felt as far away as Baguio, Philippine summer capital 175 miles to the north.

Barde Case Again Taking Spotlight

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Herbert Fleishacker, San Francisco banker, aired a 15-year-old accusation against J. N. Barde of Portland today at the closing session of the trial of a bank stockholders' suit charging Fleishacker with withheld "secret profits" from them.
Lucien Blum and a group of French stockholders in the Anglo-California National bank, of which Fleishacker is president, had charged the banker obtained some $250,000 for himself as reward for inducing his bank to negotiate a $500,000 loan to J. N. and the late L. B. Barde of Portland.
The loan was made to M. Barde and sons, but the Barde Brothers, forming a new company called the Barde Steel Products company and assigning half the stock to Fleishacker, used it to buy steel from the United States shipping board after the war in 1919. The deal was described as highly profitable, and the bank loan was repaid promptly.

Besides the $300,000 provided for land purchase, the legislature appropriated $550,000 for the state's share of the cost of the building or buildings.
The new building will be primarily a library, but will also contain some office space for other state departments.

As Announcement
The telegram received by Senator McNary read:
"President has just approved project 1020-2-D for grant of $450,000 for new library at Salem."
"I am very much gratified over the president's action, although I was confident that he would approve the project concerning which I talked to both him and Mr. Ickes just before leaving Washington," said Senator McNary.
The president told me he would use the first public money for rebuilding a room for school houses, the next for public buildings destroyed or damaged by fire or floods, but that he was confident there would be enough left for Oregon's state building program.

Playground Pool Mecca for Many

By DEAN FEAR
Junior Statesman Reporter
Many Mickey Mousers were seen taking plunges in Olinger pool. Here are just a few that I saw: Richard Winston, Bob Burns, and Marion Aplien.
It seems as if other members are going to the coast. Just the same Jim Milligan and his sister are spending a week at a seaport town.
Last Sunday I saw the ocean for the first time in my life and really Mice, it surely was a thrill to see those breakers roll in on the beach. But the water was too cold for me.

change in the law which abrogates the former practice of a notary certifying to names. He cited an opinion of the attorney general to that effect.
Hewitt declared that the county clerk must accept the names certified by a notary and proceed to call an election but added that there was a process by which the matter could be tested.
Judge Peters, who left for Tillamook yesterday, said he would mail his decision on the demurrer from his home in Hillsboro within a short time.

Handles of Doors Knocked off Cars

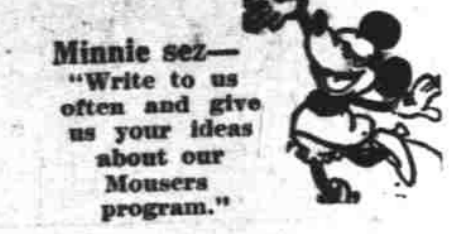

PORTLAND, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Police reports indicated today that the unknown vandal who recently ruined the paint on 151 automobiles by application of acid has found a new amusement.
Harry Bruner, service station attendant, reported that door handles had been knocked from 16 privately owned cars on two local parking lots.

Treasure Hunt Is Plan for Scouts

44-Mile Trek Is Lined up by Camp Pioneer Boys for Special Event

These Boy Scouts seem to go farther and faster every year. For instance, Robert Day and Everett Gary outlined a 44-mile treasure hunt for the boys enrolled in Camp Pioneer at Pine Lake. The hunt will cover many lakes of the surrounding territory and quite a few of the smaller hills, finally winding up by the winner being awarded an excellent dinner cooked by Chef Claude Fallin, while the rest of the boys eat beans!
Late last Sunday afternoon Mr. Monroe started a group of the older scouts on a full week's hike. This is known as the "Jeff Park's Hike," and takes in 80 miles between Pine Lake, Mt. Jefferson, Pamela Lake and Brettenbush Lake.
The same Sunday, a large court of honor and program ended the regular sessions of summer camp of the Boy Scouts for this summer.

Junior G-Man "Penrod and Sam" Has Own 'G-Boys'

Mauch Boys Are Stars in Special Feature at Mickey Mouse

Woe to any crooks and public enemies (Numbers One to a Hundred) who might have shown up around one certain movie lot a few weeks ago. The place was over-run with "G-Men."

The Department of Justice aides at Warner Bros. those days may have been unofficial, but they had badges and were on the lookout for clues and crooks. They were, officially, "Junior G-Men of America," a New York organization transplanted to Hollywood by the president of the Junior G-Men and his aide, respectively Billy and Bobby Mauch.

The boys arrived from New York to play in "Penrod and Sam," the Booth Tarkington classic, of which Billy is the star, now showing at the Elsinore for the Mickey Mousers.

They had authority and a lot of badges for the organizing of a Hollywood branch. Harry Watson, who plays "Sam," was made secretary of the "G-Men" organization, and all the other masculine, under-thirteen members of the cast were sworn in and received their badges.

The Mousers regular feature will be Jack Benny in "Artists and Models."

Letters in The Mail

Dear Bill:— Have the boys in the orchestra pit play more hot tunes, as they surely make a hit with me. By the way I surely do like the new serial. How about more contests?
Casper Higgins.

Dear Bill:— Saturday morning I always look at the Mickey Mouse section the very first thing. I will send in a poem before long. Will you print it?
Yours,
Beverly Barbour.

Dear Pal:— Any poem that you might write we will print providing it has a few sentences that rhyme.
Bill.

Dear Bill:— When are you going to have another Joe E. Brown yell contest?
A regular Mickey Mouse fan.
Dear Pal:— The next time we have a Joe Brown Picture, you can be assured of a yell contest.

Dear Bill:— I listen to your program every Saturday and I think it is swell. Let's have a few more songs from Helen Hutchinson.
Truly yours,
Jean Allen.

About Stamps

By DORIS HAROLD
I wonder how many of you know that Larry Ross, star of Showboat, has a very fine stamp collection?
In Great Britain a man is hired full-time to keep the royal collection in shape for King George VI.
People who live in the south have the advantage of west-erners in one respect at least. The 43rd annual convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans is to be held in Asheville, N. C., Aug. 26, 27 and 28. Besides seeing exhibitions of stamps those attending will be taken on tours to nearby spots of interest.

Junior All-Stars Win From Eagles

The All-Stars of the junior league won their spurs in major league competition as they defeated the Eagles 5 to 2 in a match game on Sweetland field last night.
With three pitchers of the junior contingent, Kenneth Larsen, Smither and Bob Keuscher, showing their wares the Eagles could knock off only four hits while their six errors aided the junior cause.
The Eagles came close to being shut out by the junior stars for it was not until the eighth inning, when Beecher socked a home run to center field, that they scored.
The Juniors produced their first run in the fourth on a pair of hits and a catcher's error. Two more were driven in in the sixth when Pilette singled to left field and the final pair came in the ninth on a pair of hits and a brace of errors. Score:
Junior All-Stars.....5 6 5
Eagles.....2 4 6
K. Larsen, Smither, Keuscher and B. Larsen; Mickenham and Forgard.
