Expert Opens Safe—When a safe at the Man's Shop clothing store was closed Monday night something went wrong with the lock mechanism and yesterday morning attendants were unable to open the receptacle. A call was put in to George W. Zerr, Portland safe expert, and he had the trouble cleared within an hour after he set to work on it. Zerr, who is well known here for his work on many local safes, expects to be in the city again Thursday or Friday of this week. He opened the treasury vault in the courthouse for the county about two months ago.

Storage Arranged—Two large safes, which will be part of the office furnishings when the postal department moves to new quarters near the first of the year, were placed in the hands of a local storage agency recently. They arrived with a shipment of other new office furniture last week. Tables, desks and cabinets, making up the remainder of the shipment, went to the old postoffice for storage. Lack of space and experienced safe-jugglers in the postal department resulted in a call for storage bids.

Budget of Health Unit to Be $6405

The city budget committee's sub-committee on health will recommend to the general group a $6405 allowance for the city-county health unit for 1938 at the meeting to be held next Monday night, Alderman W. D. Evans, chairman, reported yesterday. This sum, he said, was voted on favorably because it was the amount requested by the health unit executive board and was considered actually less than was needed.

The recommended $6405 appropriation for the health department represents a $530 increase from the current year's allowance. Of the $530 increase, $460 is for salaries, $25 for rent and maintenance, $25 for medical and office supplies and $20 for transportation.

The committee on parks and bands has decided to recommend a wage allowance of $1250 instead of the $1500 requested for the Salem municipal band, Alderman Clifford O. Dause, revealed yesterday. Representing a $250 increase
