The packing plant has been closed since last October by a dispute involving attempts of the CIO-affiliated warehousemen, a branch of the Longshoremen's union, to organize employes there. The warehousemen charged a lockout.

Hastily mobilized picket reserves today prevented teamsters from hauling canned goods out of the plant, and the truckmen's action followed.

"The goods involved are being handled by stevedores and warehousemen right along when they are delivered by rail, said Team sters' Secretary John P. McLaughlin. "But just as soon as the teamsters begin hauling them they are suddenly pronounced 'hot.' see no logic in this arbitrary, onesided distinction made by the CIO affiliates."

Warehouse Union Leader Disagrees

Warren G. Denton, head of the warehousemen, disagreed and termed the canned goods ,"un-. fair."

"We take the stand," he said "that the teamsters have no right to handle these products coming from a plant which has been closed by lockout since last October."

Other CIO spokesmen said the situation could ge cleared up at once if the packing company reemployed the men allegedly lock- however. ed out.

The teamsters' action was announced by J. F. Vizzard, secretary of the Draymen's association. "This refusal will continue in effect indefinitely, or until this matter is settled," he said. "The order does not apply to trucks already enroute here with loads." Vizzard said the draymen agreed with teamster officials that the action was not a violation of contracts with the employer group. McLaughlin, who estimated 500 heavy truck drivers would be affected by the stoppage, declared the stevedore-warehousemen's organization "have been looking for a fight. Now they have it and its going to be a fight to the finish.
